Warner,2008-02-13 Christians and communities of faith today are rediscovering evangelism as an essential aspect of the church's mission. Many of the resulting books in the marketplace however have a hands on orientation often lacking serious theological engagement and reflection. Bucking that how to trend, The Study of Evangelism offers thirty groundbreaking essays that plumb the depths of the biblical and theological heritage of the church with reference to evangelistic practice. Helpfully organized into six categories, these broad diverse writings lay a solid scholarly foundation for meaningful dialogue about the church's practice of evangelism. Missionary Review of the World, 1895 The Missionary Review of the World, 1910 Drumbeats that Changed the World Joseph F. Conley, 2000 Mission in Praise, Word, and Deed Edward L. Smither, Jessica A. Udall, 2023-09-26 Listening to the Voices of Global Practitioners. In Christian mission we cross boundaries between the people of God and the not yet people of God, declaring God's glory among the nations. Ps 96:3. Mission begins and ends in worship. In mission we proclaim the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ. We also care for the whole person. Thus at its core, mission intertwines praise, word, and deed. This book represents the latest in missiological thinking. Though some contributors are scholars and even professors, most are field practitioners: evangelists, church planters, Bible translators, medical professionals, refugee workers, and community development specialists. Based on decades of faithful service, they report on what they have learned about mission. Mission in Praise, Word, and Deed addresses a wide range of critical concerns such as informal theological education, Bible translation, business as mission, trauma care, and working on multicultural teams. As we ponder best mission practices, it's wise to hear from global practitioners, those who have been at it for a long time. This book represents the diversity of the global church. They are men and women from Africa, Asia, Latin America, North America, and Europe who have served or presently serve in places across the world. These contributors share the conviction that the future of missions involves a growing global church and missionary workforce joining hands to complete the Great Commission amid severe opposition and disruption. Why Tongues? The Initial Evidence Doctrine in North American Pentecostal Churches Kenneth Richard Walters, 2019-08-26. The modern Pentecostal movement has been studied many times in relation to its theological and sociological background. Previous studies however have not focused on the distinctive doctrine of that movement, the teaching that speaking in tongues is the initial physical evidence of the Baptism in the Holy Spirit. Given that Pentecostals believe that this is a work of grace, such a doctrine seems unlikely to arise as physical evidence is seldom required or looked for in the life of a believer in relation to any other area of grace. This prompts the question of why such evidence was even being looked for. And yet, within a very short time of its proposal, acceptance of this doctrine was so widespread as to become the hallmark of the movement. Insistence on such a doctrine led to many being asked to leave their denominations and thus to the founding of other denominations. This book attempts to answer the question, Why? And specifically, Why Tongues?
