Measure Of A Life:

How Will You Measure Your Life? Clayton M. Christensen, 2017 Harvard Business School s Clayton M Christensen teaches aspiring MBAs how to apply management and innovation theories to build stronger companies But he also believes that these models can help people lead better lives In this book he explains how exploring questions everyone needs to ask How can I be happy in my career How can I be sure that my relationship with my family is an enduring source of happiness How can I live my life with integrity The answer to the first question comes from Frederick Herzberg s assertion that the most powerful motivator isn t money it s the opportunity to learn grow in responsibilities contribute and be recognized Management isn t about buying selling and investing in companies as many think The principles of resource allocation can help people attain happiness at home If not managed masterfully what emerges from a firm s resource allocation process can be very different from the strategy management intended to follow That s true in life too If you re not guided by a clear sense of purpose you re likely to fritter away your time and energy on obtaining the most tangible short term signs of achievement not what s really important to you And just as a focus on marginal costs can cause bad corporate decisions it can lead people astray The marginal cost of doing something wrong just this once always seems alluringly low You don t see the end result to which that path leads The key is to define what you stand for and draw the line in a safe place

Williams, 1998-08-26 Written in response to the Supreme Court s landmark Daubert decision regarding provision of expert witness scientific testimony Assessment of Rehabilitative and Quality of Life Issues in Litigation focuses on quality of life as a means of conceptualizing and measuring pain and suffering in the controversial enjoyment of life debate The authors make a compelling argument for a quality of life paradigm based on a rehabilitation and health economics analysis demonstrating that qualified rehabilitationists are the best experts to provide analyses of the impact of disability or injury on quality of life over the lifespan The extensive literature review enables attorneys and litigation experts to easily access quality of life literature
