Modern and Contemporary Taiwanese Philosophy Jana S. Rošker, 2020-11-19 This collection contains 13 essays on modern and contemporary Taiwanese philosophy written by outstanding scholars working in this field It highlights the importance of Taiwanese philosophy in the second half of the 20th century While the Chinese conceptual tradition especially Confucianism fell out of favor from the 1950s onwards and was often banned or at least severely criticized on the mainland Taiwanese philosophers constantly strove to preserve and develop it Many of them tried to modernize their own traditions through dialogs with Western thought especially with the ideas of the European Enlightenment However it was not only about preserving tradition in the second half of the 20th century several complex and coherent philosophical systems emerged in Taiwan The creation of these discourses is evidence of the great creativity and innovative power of many Taiwanese theorists whose work is still largely unknown in the Western world

Overcoming Modernity Richard Calichman, 2008 In the summer of 1942 Japan's leading cultural authorities gathered in Tokyo to discuss the massive cultural technological and intellectual changes that had transformed Japan since the Meiji period They feared that without a sufficient understanding of these developments the Japanese people would lose their identity to the reckless and rapid process of modernization The participants of this symposium hoped to settle the question of Japanese cultural identity at a time when their country was already at war with England and the United States They presented papers and held roundtable discussions analyzing the effects of modernity from the diverse perspectives of literature history theology film music philosophy and science Taken together their work represents a complex portrait of intellectual discourse in wartime Japan marked not only by a turn toward fascism but also by a profound sense of cultural crisis and anxiety Overcoming Modernity is the first English translation of the symposium proceedings Originally published in 1942 this material remains one of the most valuable documents of wartime Japanese intellectual history Richard F Calichman reproduces the entire proceedings and includes a critical introduction that provides thorough background of the symposium and its reception among postwar Japanese thinkers and critics The aim of this conference was to go beyond facile and unreflective discussions concerning Japan's new spiritual order and examine more substantially the phenomenon of Japanese modernization and westernization This does not mean however that a consensus was reached among the symposium's participants Their tense debate reflects the problematic efforts within Japan if not throughout the rest of the world at the time to resolve the troubling issues of modernity
