Media And Performance Along The Border:

Media & Performance Johannes H. Birringer, 1998 The author discusses the performance aspects of such political events as the breaching of the Berlin wall and the destruction of Sarajevo and examines the use of video and agitprop performance in political activity including protests by the gay activist group ACT UP and the disquieting performances of the former pornography actress and sex worker Annie Sprinkle Birringer ends with a discussion of the continuing incursions of business into digital media including the imperialism of technological enhancements as experienced in the culture of constant upgrades and the omnipresence of Bill Gates

Performance and Media Sarah Bay-Cheng, Jennifer Parker-Starbuck, David Z. Saltz, 2015-11-05 This timely collaboration by three prominent scholars of media based performance presents a new model for understanding and analyzing theater and performance created and experienced where time based live events and mediated technologies converge particularly those works conceived and performed explicitly within the context of contemporary digital culture Performance and Media introduces readers to the complexity of new media based performances and how best to understand and contextualize the work Each author presents a different model for how best to approach this work while inviting readers to develop their own critical frameworks i e taxonomies to analyze both past and emerging performances Performance and Media capitalizes on the advantages of digital media and online collaborations while simultaneously creating a responsive and integrated resource for research scholarship and teaching Unlike other monographs or edited collections this book presents the concept of multiple taxonomies as a model for criticism in a dynamic and rapidly changing field

Framing Borders in Literature and Other Media , 2006-01-01 This book is both a contribution to an interdisciplinary study of literature and other media and a pioneering application of cognitive and frame theoretical approaches to these fields In the temporal media a privileged place for the coding of cognitive frames are the beginnings while in spatial media physical borders take over many framing functions This volume investigates forms and functions of such framing spaces from a transmedial perspective by juxtaposing and comparing the framing potential of individual media and works After an introductory theoretical essay which aims to clarify basic concepts the volume presents eighteen contributions by scholars from various disciplines who deal with individual media The first section is dedicated to framing in or through the visual arts and includes discussions of the illustrations of medieval manuscripts the practice of framing pictures from the Middle Ages to Magritte and contemporary American art as well as framings in printmaking and architecture The second part deals with literary texts and ranges from studies centred on framings in frame stories to essays focussing on the use of paratextual textual and non verbal media in the framings of classical medieval and modern German and American narrative literature moreover it includes studies on defamiliarized framings e g by Julio Cort zar and Jasper Fforde as well as an essay on end framing practices Sections on framings in film including the trailers of Tolkien s The Lord of the Rings and in music operatic overtures and Schumann s piano pieces provide perspectives on further media The volume is of relevance to students and scholars from various fields intermedia studies cognitive approaches to the media literary and film studies history of art and musicology Media Borders, Multimodality and Intermediality L. Elleström, 2010-02-12 A groundbreaking collection of essays looking at the concepts of intermediality and multimodality the relationship between various forms of art and new media and including case studies ranging from music film and architecture to medieval ballads biopoetry and Lettrism Locative Media Rowan Wilken, Gerard Goggin, 2014-08-07 Not only is locative media one of the fastest growing areas in digital technology but questions of location and location awareness are increasingly central to our contemporary engagements with online and mobile media and indeed media and culture generally This volume is a comprehensive account of the various location based technologies services applications and cultures as media with an aim to identify inventory explore and critique their cultural economic political social and policy dimensions internationally In particular the collection is organized around the perception that the growth of locative media gives rise to a number of crucial questions concerning the areas of culture economy and policy Performance on the Edge Johannes Birringer, 2002-06-01 Performance on the Edge takes the reader on a journey across geographical borders and conceptual boundaries in order to map out the new territory of contemporary theatre dance media arts and activism Working across social cultural and political fault lines the book explores performance as both process and contact as the commitment to political activism and the reconstruction of community as site specific intervention into the social and technological structures of abandonment and as the highly charged embodiment of erotic fantasies Performance on the Edge addresses the politics of community oriented and reconstructive artmaking in an era marked by the AIDS crisis cultural and racial polarization warfare separatism and xenophobia Provocatively illustrated with work from North and Central America and Eastern and Western Europe the book challenges our assumptions about the relations between media and activism technological imperatives and social processes and bodily identities and virtual communities Border Culture Victor Konrad, Anne-Laure Amilhat Szary, 2022-12-29 This book introduces readers to the cultural imaginings of borders the in between spaces in which transnationalism collides with geopolitical cooperation and contestation Recent debates about the refugee crisis and the spread of the COVID 19 pandemic have politicized culture at and of borders like never before Border culture is no longer culture at the margins but rather culture at the heart of geopolitics flows and experience of the transnational world Increasingly culture and borders are everywhere yet nowhere In border spaces national narratives and counter narratives are tested and evaluated coming up against transnational culture This book provides an extensive and critical vision of border culture on the move drawing on numerous examples worldwide and a growing international literature across border and cultural studies It shows how border culture develops in the human imagination and manifests in human constructs of nation and state as well as in transnationalism By analyzing this new and expanding cultural geography of border landscapes the book shows the way to a fresh broader dialogue Exploring the nature and meaning of the intersection of border and culture this book will be an essential read for students and researchers across border studies geopolitics geography and cultural studies

The Decolonial Turn in Media Studies in Africa and the Global South Last Moyo, 2020-09-09 This book develops a nuanced decolonial critique that calls for the decolonization of media and communication studies in Africa and the Global South Last Moyo argues that the academic project in African Media Studies and other non Western regions continues to be shaped by Western modernity's histories of imperialism colonialism and the ideologies of Eurocentrism and neoliberalism While Africa and the Global South dismantled the physical empire of colonialism after independence the metaphysical empire of epistemic and academic colonialism is still intact and entrenched in the postcolonial university's academic programmes like media and communication studies To address these problems Moyo argues for the development of a Southern theory that is not only premised on the decolonization imperative but also informed by the cultures geographies and histories of the Global South The author recasts media studies within a radical cultural and epistemic turn that locates future projects of theory building within a decolonial multiculturalism that is informed by trans cultural and trans epistemic dialogue between Southern and Northern epistemologies

Beyond Media Borders, Volume 1 Lars Elleström, 2020-10-14 This open access book promotes the idea that all media types are multimodal and that comparing media types through an intermedial lens necessarily involves analysing these multimodal traits The collection includes a series of interconnected articles that illustrate and clarify how the concepts developed in Elleström's influential article The Modalities of Media: A Model for Understanding Intermedial Relations (Palgrave Macmillan 2010) can be used for methodical investigation and interpretation of media traits and media interrelations The authors work with a wide range of old and new media types that are traditionally investigated through limited media specific concepts The publication is a significant contribution to interdisciplinary research advancing the frontiers of conceptual as well as practical understanding of media interrelations This is the first of two volumes It contains Elleström's revised article and six other contributions focusing especially on media integration how media products and media types are combined and merged in various ways

The Border Crossed Us Josue David Cisneros, 2014-02-28 Explores efforts to restrict and expand notions of US citizenship as they relate specifically to the US Mexico border and Latina/o identity Borders and citizenship go hand in hand Borders define a nation as a territorial entity and create the parameters for national belonging But the relationship between borders and citizenship breeds perpetual anxiety over the purported sanctity of the border the security of a nation and the integrity of civic identity In The Border Crossed Us Josue David Cisneros addresses these themes as they relate to the US Mexico border arguing that issues ranging from the Mexican American War of 1846-1848 to contemporary debates about Latina/o immigration and border security are negotiated rhetorically through public discourse He explores these rhetorical battles through case studies of specific Latina/o struggles for civil rights and citizenship including debates about Mexican American citizenship in the 1849 California Constitutional Convention 1960s Chicana/o civil rights movements and modern day immigrant activism Cisneros posits that borders both geographic and civic have crossed and recrossed Latina/o communities throughout history the book's title derives from the popular activist chant We didn't cross the border the border crossed us and that Latina/os in the United States have long contributed to struggles with and sought to cross or challenge the borders of belonging including race culture language and gender The Border Crossed Us illuminates the enduring significance and evolution of US borders and citizenship and provides programmatic and theoretical suggestions for the continued study of these critical issues
