Media and Symbols National Society for the Study of Education. Committee on Media and Symbols. The Forms of Expression, Communication and Education, Herman Glenn Richey, 1974 Media and Symbols National Society for the Study of Education. Committee on Media and Symbols, 1974 Media and Symbols David R. Olson, 1974 Media and Symbols National Society for the Study of Education, 1974 Media and Symbols: the Forms of Expression, Communication, and Education David R. Olson, 1974 Media Ans Symbols David R. Olson, 1974 Media, Knowledge and Power Oliver Boyd-Barrett, Peter Braham, 2013-12-16 First Published in 1986 The readings reflect the current interest in the possible effects that such communications media may have upon children s studies and cognition and upon how children are likely to respond to education and educational media The Encyclopaedia of Educational Media Communications & Technology NA NA, 2015-12-25 Interaction of Media, Cognition, and Learning Gavriel Salomon, 2012-12-06 The educational use of television film and related media has increased significantly in recent years but our fundamental understanding of how media communicate information and which instructional purposes they best serve has grown very little In this book the author advances an empirically based theory relating media s most basic mode of presentation their symbol systems to common thought processes and to learning Drawing on research in semiotics cognition and cognitive development psycholinguistics and mass communication the author offers a number of propositions concerning the particular kinds of mental processes required by and the specific mental skills enhanced by different symbol systems He then describes a series of controlled experiments and field and cross cultural studies designed to test these propositions Based primarily on the symbol system elements of television and film these studies illustrate under what circumstances and with what types of learners certain kinds of learning and mental skill development occur These findings are incorporated into a general scheme of reciprocal interactions among symbol systems learners cognitions and their mental activities and the implications of these relationships for the design and use of instructional materials are explored Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology David H. Jonassen, 2004 This edition of this handbook updates and expands its review of the research theory issues and methodology that constitute the field of educational communications and technology Organized into seven sectors it profiles and integrates the following elements of this rapidly changing field The Evolution of American Educational Technology Paul Saettler, 2004-03-01 The primary purpose of this book is to trace the theoretical methodological foundations of American educational technology It must be emphasized that this work is essentially as history of the process of educational technology rather than of products in the form of devices or media Although media have played an important rode in educational technology the reader should not lose sight of the central process which characterizes and underlies the true historical meaning and function of educational technology Moreover the assumption is made that all current theory methodology and practice rests upon the heritage of the past Indeed a common problem in the field has been

the failure in many instances to take adequate account of past history in planning for the present or the future A related purpose of this book is to provide a selective survey of research in educational technology as it relates to the American public schools Such research reviews are not intended to be comprehensive but were included because of their historical importance and their relevance in understanding the process of educational technology The Role of Language and Symbols in Promotional Strategies and Marketing Schemes Epure, Manuela,Mihăeș, Lorena Clara,2018-09-28 In the increasingly competitive global market successful and meaningful intercultural advertising plays a key role in reaching out to consumers from diverse language and cultural backgrounds Therefore it is crucial for individuals and businesses to be able to navigate the field of marketing communications to cut through the noise in a consumerist society to persuade their target audience The Role of Language and Symbols in Promotional Strategies and Marketing Schemes provides emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of the power of words and symbols used in promotional strategies and marketing schemes Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as shock advertising branding and celebrity endorsement this book is ideally designed for marketers managers business professionals academicians researchers and graduate level students seeking current research on the use of language and symbols in marketing tactics Learning From Media 2nd Ed. Richard E. Clark,2012-06-01 Richard Clark s observation that media are mere vehicles that deliver instruction but do not influence student achievement any more than the truck that delivers our groceries causes changes in our nutrition is as misunderstood today as it was when first published in the Review of Educational Research in 1983 The convincing if little read scientific evidence presented by Clark has divided the field and caused considerable concern especially among the providers of newer media for learning A collection of writings about the media effects debate as it has come to be called was published in 2001 Edited by Clark Learning From Media was the first volume in the series Perspectives in Instructional Technology and Distance Education The series editors are convinced that the writings of Clark and those who take issue with his position are of critical importance to the field of instructional technology Thus a revised second edition of Learning From Media is now being offered The debate about the impact of media on learning remains a fundamental issue as new mediated approaches to teaching and learning are developed and Clark s work should be at the center of the discussion The critical articles on both sides of this debate are contained in Learning From Media 2nd Edition

History and Modern Media John Mraz,2021-04-15 In History and Modern Media John Mraz largely focuses on Mexican photography and his innovative methodology that examines historical photographs by employing the concepts of genre and function He developed this method in extensive work on photojournalism it is tested here through examining two genres Indianist imagery as an expression of imperial neo colonizing and decolonizing photography and progressive photography as embodied in worker and laborist imagery as well as feminist and decolonizing visuality The book interweaves an autobiographical narrative with concrete research Mraz describes the resistance he encountered in US academia to this new way of showing and describing the past in films and photographs as well as some illuminating experiences as a visiting professor at several US universities More importantly he reflects on what it has meant to move to Mexico and become a Mexican Mexico is home to a thriving school of photohistorians perhaps unequaled in the world Some were trained in art history and a few continue to pursue that discipline However the great majority work from the discipline known as photohistory which focuses on vernacular photographs made outside of artistic intentions A central premise of the book is that knowing the cultures of the past and of the other is crucial in societies dominated by short term and parochial thinking and that today's hyper audiovisuality requires historians to use modern media to offer their knowledge as alternatives to the perpetual present in which we live Interactivity in E-Learning: Case Studies and Frameworks Wang, Haomin, 2011-12-31 This book provides a comprehensive examination of interactivity combining key perspectives from communication and media studies distributed cognition system affordances user control and social interaction intended for researchers working in the fields of communication and media educational media e learning and instructional technology Provided by publisher

Leaders in Educational Research María de Ibarrola, D.C. Phillips, 2014-11-04 In this volume fourteen fellows of the International Academy of Education whose research work is known internationally reflect upon the ways in which their careers have been shaped by early family influences by random events and surprise opportunities and by nascent intellectual interests and academic mentoring The authors come from many different countries Australia Belgium Cyprus Germany Greece Israel Mexico South Africa and the USA and from a number of disciplinary or intellectual orientations including curriculum development economics educational measurement and statistical analysis history philosophy policy analysis program evaluation psychology and sociology They come from diverse social and cultural backgrounds and in many cases rose above the travails presented by wars social unrest and social injustice to attain an education that launched them eventually into a research career On this path many were unexpectedly assisted by established researchers who served as mentors or enablers Their personal stories then are of broad interest and may even be a source of comfort and inspiration to younger colleagues who are commencing their careers in the international educational research community Selecting Media for Instruction Robert A. Reiser, Robert Mills Gagné, 1983 Abstract This book presents practical guidelines for the selection of instructional media in the fields of education and training These guidelines are likely to be of benefit to instructional designers trainers classroom teachers instructors media specialists and administrators The media selection model described in this book focuses on the principles of human learning that should be considered when selection decisions are being made as well as on the practical factors that must be considered in the selection process By employing the model users can be assured that the media they choose will not only be appropriate from a practical point of view but also from the important standpoint of learning effectiveness Unlocking the Moviemaking Mind Michael Schoonmaker, John M. Wolf, 2014-01-16 Have you ever had an idea for a book a movie or a TV show Chances are that you've had many Today's students who are coming of age in a world that is increasingly mediated by smartphones pads pods apps and the Internet are even more likely to think of their lives and experiences in terms of stories Unlocking the Moviemaking Mind explores how our innate abilities as storytellers can be used in the K 12 classroom to stimulate new approaches to learning Relying on data collected during a multi year research project in a variety of school settings this book relies on story and synthesis to present tried and true methods of introducing media making practices in the classroom Unlocking the Moviemaking Mind also offers strategies for overcoming individual and systematic barriers that educators and administrators are likely to encounter when incorporating storytelling into their curricula Moreover the book broaches topics that are especially germane to today s students including literacy motivation and experiential learning Mind and Media Patricia M. Greenfield,2014-11-20 Patricia M Greenfield was one of the first psychologists to present new research on how various media can be used to promote social growth and thinking skills In this now classic she argues that each medium can make a contribution to development that each has strengths and weaknesses and that the ideal childhood environment includes a multimedia approach to learning In the Introduction to the Classic Edition Greenfield shows how the original edition set themes that have extended into contemporary research on media and child development and includes an explanation of how the new media landscape has changed her own research and thinking Research Methods and the New Media Frederick Williams,Ronald E. Rice,Everett M. Rogers,1988-09-26 The new media interactive videodiscs telecommunications computers VCRs teletext systems and more present researchers with new challenges when it comes to studying practical applications or theoretical effects This valuable volume aids researchers in first recognizing the special qualities of interactivity demassification and asynchronicity that the new media have created and to instruct professional researchers and students in alternative research methods multiple methods and the triangulation of results For the first time a variety of methods are examined as they apply to new media research including mathematical modeling controlled experiments quasiexperiments surveys longitudinal studies field studies archival and secondary research futures research and forecasting content analysis case studies and focus groups Whether the problem to be researched is as focused as considering the cost benefit for a school wishing to adopt computers in the classroom or as wide ranging as determining the effects of video games on child socialization this up to date and thorough guide alerts researchers to the pitfalls of traditional methodology and offers a firm foundation upon which they can build reliable accurate projects able to produce sound results
