Predatory Paranormal Bundle: When Darkness Comes, Darkness Dawns, Under Wraps & Predatory Alexandra Ivy, Dianne Duvall, Hannah Jayne, Nina Bangs, 2013-06-04 Never Tempt Fate It's been a hell of a day for Abby Barlow. In just a few hours she's survived an explosion, watched her employer die, had a startling dream, and now she finds herself in a seedy Chicago hotel with the sexy unearthly Dante, a man she both desires and fears. For 341 years Dante has stood as guardian to The Chalice, a mortal woman chosen to hold back the darkness. A terrible twist of fate has now made Abby that woman. Three hours ago Dante would have used all his charms to seduce her. Now she is his to protect, and he will do so until his very death. In this dazzling sensual novel Dianne Duvall beckons readers into a world of vampires, immortals, and humans with extraordinary gifts where passion can last forever if you're willing to pay the price. Once Sarah Bingham's biggest challenge was making her students pay attention in class. Now, after rescuing a wounded stranger, she's landed in the middle of a battle between corrupt vampires and powerful immortals who also need blood to survive. Roland Warbrook is the most compelling man Sarah has ever laid hands on. But his desire for her is mingled with a hunger he can barely control. Timbrel Chris Saint John, 2004-11 a story of love and loyalty set in the fantasy genre Psychedelic Injustice Thomas Hatsis, 2025-06-16 Just as the world is waking up to the promise of psychedelics the decades long push to introduce these extraordinary medicines to the masses faces a significant threat the introduction of critical social justice ideology into psychedelic culture practice and activism Describing how this form of identity politics sees everything through an oppressor oppressed lens Psychedelic Injustice calls attention to the ways in which individuals and institutions within psychedelia have not only adopted the ideology's most divisive narratives about race and gender but also aggressively pushed them. It also demonstrates how these same individuals and institutions misrepresent the history of psychedelics in the name of decolonialism, draw boundaries around psychedelics based on identity categories, and drive away anyone who does not submit to approved critical social justice ideas. Through first-hand accounts, rigorous scholarship, and an eye for nuance, Psychedelic Injustice serves as a much-needed and long-overdue counterpoint to the highly questionable disunifying narratives increasingly found throughout modern psychedelia. Ultimately, however, it is a call for hope, unity, and simple common sense. If psychedelia is ever to go fully mainstream, the psychedelic Renaissance must reject ideological narratives about our present and past and see these sacred medicines for what they are: a universal birthright that allows for the expansion of minds, the healing of psyches, and the creation of deep human bonds and connections.

Relational Responses to Trauma in Twenty-First-Century French and Spanish Women's Writing Hannie Lawlor, 2024-08-28 Relational Responses to Trauma in Twenty-First-Century French and Spanish Women's Writing offers new insight into what it means to write relational lives. It broadens the parameters of existing discussions in terms of geography as well as genre, drawing together two literatures whose prominence in life-writing theory to date could hardly be more different. While French women's writing has long been at the centre of international discussions of autobiography, the relative invisibility of Spanish women's writing remains striking. The dialogue that thus underpins this study between diverse twenty-first-century case studies and broader approaches to life-writing shines a light on what is gained from inviting different voices into the discussion. These narrative projects challenge longstanding critical assumptions in autobiography studies and trauma theory about how writers can and should represent the multiple perspectives that are at the heart of intergenerational stories. In exploring the narrative solutions that these texts propose in response to the ethical questions they navigate, this book shows that writing relational lives rests on far more than the mere recounting of a shared history. Relating in these texts, it proposes, is an act embedded in the telling of the story. It is a mode of testifying together to traumatic experience, one that reveals a powerful preoccupation in contemporary women's life-writing practice with making more audible the many voices and versions that go unheard.
