Home Alison Blunt, Robyn Dowling, 2022-05-30 Home articulates a critical geography of home in which home is understood as an emotive place and spatial imaginary that encompasses lived experiences of everyday domestic life alongside a wider and often contested sense of being and belonging in the world Engaging with the burgeoning cross disciplinary interest in home since the first edition was published this significantly revised and updated second edition contains new research boxes illustrations and contemporary examples throughout It also adds a new chapter on Home and the City that extends the scalar understanding of home to the urban The book develops the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of a critical geography of home drawing on key feminist postcolonial and housing thinkers as well as contemporary methodological currents in non representational thinking and performance The book's chapters consider the making and unmaking of home across the domestic scale house as home the urban city as home national nation as home and homemaking in relation to transnational migration and diaspora Each chapter includes illustrative examples from diverse geographical contexts and historical time periods Chapters also address some of the key cross cutting dimensions of home across these scales including digital connectivity art and performance more than human constructions of home and violence and dispossession The book ends with a research agenda for home in a world of COVID 19 The book provides an understanding of home that has three intersecting dimensions that material and imaginative geographies of home are closely intertwined that home power and identity are intimately linked and that geographies of home are multi scalar This framework the examples used to illustrate it and the intended audience of academics and students across the humanities and social sciences will together shape the field of home studies into the future

Home: A Very Short Introduction Michael Allen Fox, 2016-12-01 Thoughts and feelings about home traditionally provided people of all cultures with a firm sense of where they belonged and why But with the world rapidly changing many of our basic notions are becoming problematic Both internationally and within countries populations are constantly on the move seeking better opportunities and living conditions or an escape from violence and war In spite of or perhaps even because of these trends ideas about home continue to shape the way people everywhere frame an understanding of their lives In this Very Short Introduction Michael Allen Fox considers the complex meaning of home and the essential importance of place to human psychology Drawing on a wide array of international examples he discusses what dwelling is and the variety of dwellings Fox also looks at the politics of the concept of home homelessness refugeeism and migration and the future of home and argues that home remains a central organizing concept in human life

ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

Returning Home Jerry M. Burger, 2011-03-16 Each year millions of American adults visit a childhood home Few can anticipate the effect it will have on them Often serving several important psychological needs these trips are not intended as visits with people from their past Rather those returning to their homes have a strong desire to visit the places that comprised the landscape of their childhood Approximately one third of American adults over the age of thirty have visited a childhood home This book describes some of their experiences and the psychology behind the journeys Most people who visit a childhood home are motivated by a desire to connect with their past Seeing the buildings schools parks and playgrounds from their youth helps to establish the psychological and emotional link between the child in the black and white photographs and the person they are today Many people use the trip to get in touch with the values and principles they were taught as children often as a means to get their lives back on track Others use that journey to strengthen emotional bonds between themselves and loved ones Still others return to former homes to work through psychological issues left over from sad or traumatic childhoods No matter the reason there are few experiences in one's life that can move a person as deeply and unpredictably as returning home

The Domestic Space Reader Kathy Mezei, Chiara Briganti, 2012-01-01 Tune in to HGTV visit your local bookstore's magazine section or flip to the Homes section of your weekend newspaper and it becomes clear domestic spaces play an immense role in our cultural consciousness. The Domestic Space Reader addresses our collective fascination with houses and homes by providing the first comprehensive survey of the concept across time, cultures and disciplines. This pioneering anthology, which is ideal for students and general readers, features writing by key scholars, thinkers and writers including Gaston Bachelard, Mary Douglas, Le Corbusier, Homi Bhabha, Henri Lefebvre, Mrs Beeton, Ma Thanegi, Diana Fuss, Beatriz Colomina and Edith Wharton. Among the many engaging topics explored are the impact of domestic technologies on family life, the relationship between religion and the home, nomadic peoples and housing, domestic spaces in art and literature and the history of the bedroom, the kitchen and the bathroom. The Domestic Space Reader demonstrates how discussions of domestic spaces can help us better understand our inner lives and challenge our perceptions of life in particular times and places.

Beyond Homelessness Steven Bouma-Prediger, Brain J. Walsh, 2008-06-03. This book is a brilliant use of metaphor that makes clear why the world leaves us feeling so uneasy.

Dwelling in the Archive Antoinette M. Burton, 2003. Through an analysis of the writings of three 20th century Indian women, this book explores how the memoirs, fictions and histories written by women can be read as counter narratives of colonial modernity.

On their own premises: Southern Women Writers and the Homeplace Constante González Groba, 2011-11-28. Centrat en les obres de Kate Chopin, Elizabeth Madox Roberts, Zora Neale Hurston, Lillian Smith, Eudora Welty, Alice Walker, Llegix Smith, Jill McCorkle i Bobbie Ann Mason, aquest llibre analitza el retrat ambivalent de l'espai domèstic descrit per les escriptores del sud. Les qüestions més profundes de gènere, raça i classe en una societat tradicional com la del sud americà es manifesten precisament dins l'esfera domèstica on l'espai sovint un mitjà crucial de dominació. Les escriptores contemporànies del sud sovint han utilitzat la transformació de la llar i els seus significats com una nova font per a la ficció. Han estat explorant formes noves i antigues d'imaginar el que podria ser una llar i la seva narrativa diu molt de la manera en la qual el treball, els llocs i la família contribueixen a la creació d'un altre en el sud contemporani.

Unreliable Truths Sissy Helff, 2013. While many people see home as the domestic sphere and place of belonging, it is hard to grasp its manifold implications and even harder to provide a tidy definition of what it is. Over the past century, discussion of home and nation has been a highly complex matter with broad political ramifications, including the realignment of nation states and national boundaries. Against this backdrop, this book suggests that home is constructed on the assumption that what it defines is constantly in flux and thus can never capture an objective perspective or an ultimate truth. Along these lines, Unreliable Truths offers a comparative literary approach to the construction of home and concomitant notions of uncertainty and unreliable narration in South Asian diasporic women's literature from the UK, Australia, South Africa, the Caribbean, North America and Canada. Writers discussed in detail include Feroza Jussawalla, Suneeta Peres, da Costa Meera Syal, Farida Karodia, Shani Mootoo, Shobha D and Oonya Kempadoo. With its focus on transcultural homes, Unreliable Truths goes beyond discussions of diaspora from an established postcolonial point of view and contributes with its investigation of transcultural unreliable narration to the representation of a g local South Asian diaspora Break Every Rule Carole Maso,2000-04-14 In this groundbreaking work of ecstatic criticism Carole Maso shows why she has risen over the past fifteen years as one of the brightest stars in the literary firmament Ever refusing to be marginalized or categorized by genre Maso is an incisive compassionate writer who deems herself daughter of William Carlos Williams a pioneer in combining poetry and fiction with criticism journalism and the visual arts She is daughter too of Allen Ginsberg who also came from Paterson New Jersey Known for her audacity whether exploring language and memory or the development of the artistic soul Maso here gives us a form challenging collection intelligent and persuasive Writing With An Accent Edvige Giunta,2016-04-30 Mary Cappello Louise DeSalvo Sandra M Gilbert Maria Mazziotti Gillan Carole Maso Agnes Rossi These are some of the best known Italian American writers today They are part of a literary tradition with mid twentieth century roots that began to develop in earnest in the late 1970s and early 1980s During those decades a number of Italian American women such as Helen Barolini began to publish books that depicted their perspectives on life through the critical lenses of gender class and ethnicity At the end of the twentieth century this literature finally blossomed into a fully fledged cultural movement that also took into account issues of sexuality age illness and familial and societal abuse Writing with an Accent takes a look at this vibrant literary movement by discussing those first writers of the 1970s and 1980s as well as later authors At the center of Edvige Giunta s Writing with an Accent is the literal notion of accent the marker of linguistic and cultural difference that separates and identifies recent immigrants to the United States In this study an accent symbolically embodies the differences and creative strategies through which contemporary Italian American women writers engage Italian American culture in works of fiction poetry and memoir Giunta also looks at the links between the literature and art music film and video produced by contemporary Italian American women The literature of the Italian American women in Writing with an Accent is shaped by the complicated connections these authors maintain with their cultural origins but also and perhaps more importantly by their feminist consciousness and politicized sense of ethnic identity Writing with an Accent celebrates and explores a group of authors who characteristically mix the joy and pain of Italian American life to paint a multifaceted picture of Italian American women and their complex place in U S culture Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H. P. Werlock,2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition no other reference work on American fiction brings together such an array of authors and texts as this Comfort in Contemporary Culture Dorothee Birke,Stella Butter,2020-10-06 Comfort is a prominent and highly loaded concept as popular discourses on cosy environments safe spaces but also the importance of getting out of your comfort zone attest This volume is the first to investigate comfort as a cultural narrative and emotional touchstone in contemporary culture Taken together the contributions to the volume offer an overview of different approaches to and conceptualisations of comfort in linguistics in literary media and cultural studies and art history They showcase how comfort serves as a valuable lens to analyse contemporary artworks and developments e g

Research in the Islamic Context M Ilias, 2022-07-01 This book explores some of the political and methodological directions that collectively lead to the repositioning of Islam in social science research as both an epistemic ontological category and as a method Chapters by experts in the field explore research in the Islamic context vis vis these two distinct yet somehow interrelated frames The question being raised here is how Islam as socio religious notion is related to Islam as a theoretical methodological framework Taking cues from the experience of contributors this book also examines the question if current methodologies or frames of references are pluralized enough to accommodate the question of Muslims or could the scholars themselves create alternative directions around the dominant spaces The book offers ethnographic studies of Muslim communities mostly in minority settings and engages with a number of issues researchers encounter when dealing with the lived or everyday Islam This book is essential reading for anyone engaged in the study of Muslims in the contemporary world It will appeal to scholars of religious studies studies of Islam in the West anthropology sociology cultural studies human geography and research methods Telling the Little Secrets

Janet Handler Burstein, 2006-03-01 Janet Burstein argues that American Jewish writers since the 1980s have created a significant literature by wrestling with the troubled legacy of trauma loss and exile Their ranks include Cynthia Ozick Todd Gitlin Art Spiegelman Pearl Abraham Aryeh Lev Stollman Jonathan Rosen and Gerda Lerner Whether confronting the massive losses of the Holocaust the sense of home in exile or the continuing power of Jewish memory these Jewish writers search for understanding within the little secrets of their dark complicated and richly furnished past
