Places and Regions in Global Context, Human Geography, Updated and Interactive Atlas Package Sallie Marston, Paul Knox, Places and Regions in Global Context Paul L. Knox, Sallie A. Marston, 2001 The Tools You Need for Success Geo Tutor Geo Tutor helps to develop basic geographic skills and aids in the exploration of political cultural economic and physical geography of the world You can use the highly interactive CD ROM to draw thematic maps use check up questions to assess understanding and use the glossary to hear difficult to pronounce words Geo Tutor also contains a full digital reference atlas of the world Companion Website <http://www.prenhall.com/knox> The text specific Website includes multiple choice questions quantitative exercises critical thinking exercises and destinations Most often students receive immediate feedback which they can e mail directly to their instructors Are You Interested In Managing Your Course Online Go to <http://www.prenhall.com/demo> to learn more about course management options at Prentice Hall Rhumb Lines and Map Wars Mark Monmonier, 2010-11-15 In Rhumb Lines and Map Wars Mark Monmonier offers an insightful richly illustrated account of the controversies surrounding Flemish cartographer Gerard Mercator's legacy He takes us back to 1569 when Mercator announced a clever method of portraying the earth on a flat surface creating the first projection to take into account the earth's roundness As Monmonier shows mariners benefited most from Mercator's projection which allowed for easy navigation of the high seas with rhumb lines clear cut routes with a constant compass bearing for true direction But the projection's popularity among nineteenth century sailors led to its overuse often in inappropriate non navigational ways for wall maps world atlases and geopolitical propaganda Because it distorts the proportionate size of countries the Mercator map was criticized for inflating Europe and North America in a promotion of colonialism In 1974 German historian Arno Peters proffered his own map on which countries were ostensibly drawn in true proportion to one another In the ensuing map wars of the 1970s and 1980s these dueling projections vied for public support with varying degrees of success Widely acclaimed for his accessible intelligent books on maps and mapping Monmonier here examines the uses and limitations of one of cartography's most significant innovations With informed skepticism he offers insightful interpretations of why well intentioned clerics and development advocates rallied around the Peters projection which flagrantly distorted the shape of Third World nations why journalists covering the controversy ignored alternative world maps and other key issues and how a few postmodern writers defended the Peters worldview with a self serving overstatement of the power of maps Rhumb Lines and Map Wars is vintage Monmonier historically rich beautifully written and fully engaged with the issues of our time

World Regions in Global Context Sallie A. Marston, Paul L. Knox, Diana M. Liverman, 2002 This explicitly global approach to world regional geography emphasizes global connections and the stories behind the maps and offers lively discussions of how these forces and processes play themselves out in individual places The authors make the most current and powerful ideas in geography accessible to the introductory student Emphasis on core regions key cities and distinctive landscapes accommodates a global connections approach as well as the course's traditional focus on places at the local scale

Geographies of Food and Power Amy Trauger, 2022-08-17 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the production and consumption of food suitable for use in undergraduate classrooms either at the intermediate or advanced level It takes an intersectional approach to difference and power and approaches standard subjects in the geography of food with a fresh perspective focusing on inequality uneven production and legacies of colonialism The book also focuses on places and regions often overlooked in conventional narratives such as the Americas in the domestication of plants The topics covered in the textbook include descriptions and analyses of food systems histories of agricultural development with a focus on the roles of different regions major commodities such as meat grains and produce with a focus on the place of production contemporary challenges in the food system including labor disasters conflict and climate change recent and emerging trends in food and agriculture such as lab grown meat and vertical urban farms Geographies of Food and Power takes a synthetic approach by discussing food as something produced within an interconnected system in which labor food quality and the environment are considered together It will be a valuable resource for students of human geography environmental geography economic geography food studies and development

Building Resilient Cities in China: The Nexus between Planning and Science Xueming Chen, Qisheng Pan, 2015-05-20 This book discusses a range of planning and management issues related to building urban resiliency It covers such topics as urban environmental and transportation planning historical preservation emergency relief and management geographic information systems GIS and other technological applications The book includes case studies of several cities and districts in China including Shanghai and a number of cities in the United States of America Urban resiliency in the face of uncertainty is a priority for planning and governance in communities worldwide In China which has suffered many of the world's most devastating floods earthquakes and typhoons preparing for the threat of disaster has long been an important planning objective Recent calamities such as the 2008 Winter Storms the 2008 Wenchuan Earthquake and the 2012 Beijing Floods have only made planning for resiliency more urgent As planners work to prepare for such events interdisciplinary collaboration becomes increasingly important Planners need the tools and insights offered by other fields including both the natural and social sciences At the same time these interdisciplinary relationships help shape the identity of urban rural planning in its new role as one of China's primary academic disciplines Thus the nexus between planning and science is critically important in building resilient cities in China and the Chinese planning experience can serve as an example to and benefit countries around the world
