The Jemima Code Toni Tipton-Martin, 2022-07-01 Winner James Beard Foundation Book Award 2016 Art of Eating Prize 2015 BCALA Outstanding Contribution to Publishing Citation Black Caucus of the American Library Association 2016 Women of African descent have contributed to America's food culture for centuries, but their rich and varied involvement is still overshadowed by the demeaning stereotype of an illiterate Aunt Jemima who cooked mostly by natural instinct. To discover the true role of black women in the creation of American and especially southern cuisine, Toni Tipton Martin has spent years amassing one of the world's largest private collections of cookbooks published by African American authors, looking for evidence of their impact on American food families and communities and for ways we might use that knowledge to inspire community wellness of every kind. The Jemima Code presents more than 150 black cookbooks that range from a rare 1827 house servant's manual, the first book published by an African American in the trade, to modern classics by authors such as Edna Lewis and Vertamae Grosvenor. The books are arranged chronologically and illustrated with photos of their covers; many also display selected interior pages, including recipes. Tipton Martin provides notes on the authors and their contributions and the significance of each book, while her chapter introductions summarize the cultural history reflected in the books that follow. These cookbooks offer firsthand evidence that African Americans cooked creative masterpieces from meager provisions, educated young chefs operated food businesses, and nourished the African American community through the long struggle for human rights. The Jemima Code transforms America's most maligned kitchen servant into an inspirational and powerful model of culinary wisdom and cultural authority.

Raised on Old-Time Country Cooking Bettye B. Burkhalter, 2012-10-26 Sixteen generations later, the same old winding roads and blazed trails throughout the three novels lead us all back home to nostalgic dishes and the worlds from which they came. Upon arrival at the old home place, we quickly find our favorite room: Mamas kitchen. The familiar sounds of pots and pans and aromas of old time country cooking float in and out of our senses Suddenly visions of chocolate pies swirled high with meringues cooling on the kitchen window sill are as clear as yesterday The sizzling sounds of Mama frying chicken on the old wood stove remind us that her kitchen offered southern hospitality at its best The trip down memory lane of days gone by rekindles the true meaning of Home Sweet Home As we stop and reminisce hot tears blur our vision and we ask ourselves where did all the years go
