Waring, 2016-08-01 This intellectual history interprets recent American business management ideas as political theory describing their underlying assumptions about power and value According to Stephen Waring most business management theory descends from either Frederick Taylor's bureaucratic theory of scientific management or Elton Mayo's corporatist idea of human relations Waring discusses the subsequent evolution of several management theories and techniques including organization theory computer simulation management by objectives sensitivity training job enrichment and innovations usually attributed to the Japanese such as quality control circles      A Manager's Guide to Operations Research Russell Lincoln Ackoff, Patrick Rivett (Colab), 1963      An Administrator's Handbook on the Application of Operations

Research to the Management of Mental Health Systems Harold P. Halpert, William J. Horvath, John P. Young, 1970

An Administrator's Handbook on the Application of Operations Research to the Management of Mental Health Systems National Institute of Mental Health (U.S.), 1970      Operational Research in War and Peace M. W. Kirby, 2003 This invaluable book provides an account of Operational Research in Britain the country of its inception from the late 1930s to 1970 Originating in response to the country's air defence needs against the Luftwaffe Operational Research had outstanding achievements as part of the secret war against Nazi Germany After 1945 the discipline began to be adopted in an increasing range of industries and services In the 1960s by which time it was being incorporated in to university curricula the discipline began to penetrate into civil government departments The history of Operational Research provides unique insights into the conduct of modern warfare the professionalisation of business management and the modernisation of the civil service The chronological coverage from the late 1930s to 1970 coincides with golden age of Operational Research when the discipline was presented as a means of achieving optimum solutions to complex managerial problems The book will be of interest to military and business historians as well as to historians of public administration and higher education      Perspectives in Defense Management ,      The Literature of Education W. Kenneth Richmond, 2019-01-15 Original blurb The volume of writing on educational topics has increased so prodigiously in recent years that the student is likely to lose himself in a sea of print This may lead him to opt for the first book that comes to hand or waste time rifling through half a dozen when a thorough grasp of one key text is all that is needed Reading lists commonly look impressive not to say daunting In fact the multifarious titles conceal an enormous amount of duplication an endless raking over of other people's research findings It is a safe bet writes W Kenneth Richmond that less than 5 percent of the contents of any new book on education will be in any way original This critical bibliography originally published in 1972 is concerned with the noteworthy books and major official reports that had appeared in the English language during the twenty five years prior to publication In his introduction and in the commentaries prefacing each section the author explains the background to the genuinely new departures of the period and describes successive changes in the climate of educational opinion      Hearings and Reports on Atomic Energy United States. Office Automation Don Tapscott, 2013-11-21 Every pioneer takes large risks hoping that the new frontier he seeks will provide the benefits of independence and good fortune Don Tapscott is such a pioneer in the area of office automation He has been a true pioneer having entered the field in its early days and taken the risk of working not in technology which was fashionable but in the field of the problems of organizations which was less fashionable but in many ways more important The utilization of computers for data processing accounting inventory and other bread and butter applications is now well entrenched in our society and culture The process of designing such systems tends to focus on the needs of the company and the constraints of the equipment leading to efficient systems with little tolerance for the variety of people who must use or interface with them Within the office automation area these methods do not work nearly as well The frequency and amount of human interaction in the office environment and the wide variety of situations and reactions there in demands a different design methodology
