services across urban and rural locations Connect places and people to jobs and opportunities and services Target lagging areas and marginalized groups through well designed place based policies as well as thoughtful urban planning and design Using this framework the report provides policy recommendations differentiated by four types of place that differ in both their economic characteristics and the challenges that they face multidistrict metro areas single district metro areas nonmetro urban areas and nonmetro rural areas In addition to its eight chapters Time to ACT Realizing Indonesia's Urban Potential includes four spotlights on strengthening the disaster resilience of Indonesian cities the nexus between urbanization and human capital the invisible crisis of wastewater management and the potential for smart cities in Indonesia If Indonesia continues to urbanize in line with global historical standards more than 70 percent of its population will be living in towns and cities by the time the country celebrates the centenary of its independence in 2045 Accordingly how Indonesia manages this continued expansion of its urban population and the mounting congestion forces that expansion brings will do much to determine whether the country reaches the upper rungs of the global ladder of prosperity inclusiveness and livability
