Middle Class Shanghai Cheng Li, 2021-05-11 The United States may be headed toward a disastrous conflict with China unless Washington updates its understanding of contemporary Chinese society After four decades of engagement the United States and China now appear to be locked on a collision course that has already fomented a trade war seems likely to produce a new cold war and could even result in dangerous military conflict The current deterioration of the bilateral relationship is the culmination of years of disputes disillusionment disappointment and distrust between the two countries Washington has legitimate concerns about Beijing's excessive domestic political control and aggressive foreign policy stances just as Chinese leaders believe the United States still has futile designs on blocking their country's inevitable rise to great power status Cheng Li's Middle Class Shanghai argues that American policymakers must not lose sight of the expansive dynamism and diversity in present day China The caricature of the PRC as a monolithic Communist apparatus set on exporting its ideology and development model is simplistic and misguided Drawing on empirical research in the realms of higher education avant garde art architecture and law this unique study highlights the strong constructive impact of bilateral exchanges Combining eclectic human stories with striking new data analysis this book addresses the possibility that the development of China's class structure and cosmopolitan culture exemplified and led by Shanghai could provide a force for reshaping U S China engagement Both countries should build upon the deep cultural and educational exchanges that have bound them together for decades The author concludes that U S policymakers should neither underestimate the role and strength of the Chinese middle class nor ostracize or alienate this force with policies that push it toward jingoistic nationalism to the detriment of both countries and the global community With its unique focus this book will enlighten policymakers scholars business leaders and anyone interested in China and its increasingly fraught relations with the United States

Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom, 2017-11-30 Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world and Sino French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese speaking world Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France cast French actors and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don't understand it They tend to view France as mysterious sexy and sophisticated just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic As Michelle E. Bloom makes clear many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross cultural interplay Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000 such as Tsai Ming-liang's What Time Is It There Hou Hsiao-hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon and Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress She views the work of these well known directors through a Sino French optic applying the tropes of m tissage or biraciality intertextuality adaptation and remake translation and imitation to shed new light on their work She also calls attention to important lesser studied films Taiwanese director Cheng Yu-chieh's Yang Yang which depicts the up and coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed race beauty and Emily Tang Xiaobai's debut film Conjugation which contrasts Paris and post Tiananmen Square Beijing the one an incarnation of liberty the other a place of entrapment Bloom's insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators Scholars have long studied Sino French literature but this inaugural full length work on Sino French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film

The Lady and the Panda Vicki Croke, 2009-03-25 Here is the astonishing true story of Ruth Harkness the Manhattan bohemian socialite who against all but impossible odds trekked to Tibet in 1936 to capture the most mysterious animal of the day a bear that had for countless centuries lived in secret in the labyrinth of lonely cold mountains In The Lady and the Panda Vicki Constantine Croke gives us the remarkable account of Ruth Harkness and her extraordinary journey and restores Harkness to her rightful place along with Sacajawea, Nellie Bly and Amelia Earhart as one of the great woman adventurers of all time. Ruth was the toast of 1930s New York, a dress designer newly married to a wealthy adventurer, Bill Harkness. Just weeks after their wedding, however, Bill decamped for China in hopes of becoming the first Westerner to capture a giant panda, an expedition on which many had embarked and failed miserably. Bill was also to fail in his quest, dying horribly alone in China and leaving his widow heartbroken and adrift. And so Ruth made the fateful decision to adopt her husband's dream as her own and set off on the adventure of a lifetime. It was not easy. Indeed, everything was against Ruth Harkness. In decadent Shanghai, the exclusive fraternity of white male explorers patronized her, scorned her, and joked about her softness, her lack of experience, and money. But Ruth ignored them, organizing, outfitting, and leading a bare bones campaign into the majestic but treacherous hinterlands where China borders Tibet. As her partner, she chose Quentin Young, a twenty-two year old Chinese explorer as unconventional as she was, who would join her in a romance as torrid as it was taboo. Traveling across some of the toughest terrain in the world, nearly impenetrable bamboo forests, slick and perilous mountain slopes, and boulder strewn passages, the team raced against a traitorous rival and was constantly threatened by hordes of bandits and hostile natives. The voyage took months to complete and cost Ruth everything she had. But when, almost miraculously, she returned from her journey with a baby panda named Su Lin in her arms, the story became an international sensation and made the front pages of newspapers around the world. No animal in history had gotten such attention. And Ruth Harkness became a hero. Drawing extensively on American and Chinese sources, including diaries, scores of interviews, and previously unseen intimate letters from Ruth Harkness, Vicki Constantine Croke has fashioned a captivating and richly textured narrative about a woman ahead of her time. Part Myrna Loy, part Jane Goodall, by turns wisecracking and poetic, practical and spiritual, Ruth Harkness is a trailblazing figure. And her story makes for an unforgettable, deeply moving adventure.

A Jewish Heart Robert L. Green, 2024-08-08 A Jewish Heart: A Struggle for Status and Identity in Asia is at once the saga of a modest charitable grant in 1903, an unimagined windfall ninety years later, and a history of Progressive Judaism in Asia. Enriched with profiles of key players, the author roots the narratives in the entrepreneurial and philanthropic activities of two legendary Baghdadi families, the Sassoons and the Kadoories, beginning in mid-nineteenth century Bombay, Shanghai, and Hong Kong, and unfolding against the backdrop of worldwide waves of Jewish arrivals. The story gains currency when challenges are raised over community funding, facilities, preserving or replacing the aging synagogue, and accommodating Reform Judaism. Robert L. Green provides a thorough and previously undocumented account of the decade-long religious, legal, and public relations battles that follow, engaging the attention of international media and top rabbinical and legal authorities in Hong Kong, Israel, Australia, United States, and United Kingdom. The author focuses on questionable legal gymnastics as trustees facing China's impending takeover of Hong Kong undertake efforts to protect the funds from unknown perils.

Concurrently he chronicles the establishment of a vibrant Reform congregation braided with Jewish lore and the struggles of visionaries hoping to make Hong Kong an oasis of Jewish worship learning and recreation in Asia From Rice to Riches Jane Hutcheon,2014-12-04 Jane Hutcheon s connection to China goes back more than one hundred and fifty years when her great great grand uncle Phineas a Scottish tea merchant was drawn to its shores When Jane became the ABC s China correspondent in 1995 she began her own journey through an ancient and intriguing culture that is undergoing rapid change Like learning to eat a dish of slippery braised pig s face Jane had to learn the etiquette of reporting in China a country where people often give interviews in lowered voices or with a glance over their shoulders to see who might be listening Though China has transformed itself into a heady capitalist republic the country s new facade covers up a multitude of the same old problems And in the lead up to the 2008 Beijing Olympics the clash between new and old is more pronounced than ever By talking with ordinary people a glamorous Amway couple a traffic cop a rubbish collector and members of the Falun Gong among others Jane provides intimate insights into China s radical transformation In the process she discovers that the real China is intense humorous cynical and quite often bizarre Travelling with a television crew coping with a serious bout of banquet intolerance and dealing with the frustration caused by Chinese bureaucracy Jane takes us on a bumpy ride across a country the world is fascinated with and that everyone is dying to get their chopsticks into Opium Traders and Their

Worlds-Volume One M. Kienholz,2008-10-13 Opium Traders and Their Worlds examines the opium trade with a detective s investigative approach The author uses evidence to dismiss many of the false claims commonly held with regard to the so called legitimacy of the Old China trade presents proof of important figures who were deeply involved in all parts of the world and shows how world events were affected by famous men in opium hierarchies Lateral contributors to the drug trade include shipbuilders who fashioned their craft to meet needs of the commerce designing specially built Indiamen clippers and fast crabs Ms Kienholz shows how vicious competition in the trade moved players like chess pieces with winners and losers shifting positions Her research into the production of the new opioids such as oxycodone is an area not previously probed

Architecture and the Landscape of Modernity in China before 1949 Edward Denison,2017-02-17 This book explores China s encounter with architecture and modernity in the tumultuous epoch before Communism an encounter that was mediated not by a singular notion of modernism emanating from the west but that was uniquely multifarious deriving from a variety of sources both from the west and importantly from the east The heterogeneous origins of modernity in China are what make its experience distinctive and its architectural encounters exceptional These experiences are investigated through a re evaluation of established knowledge of the subject within the wider landscape of modern art practices in China The study draws on original archival and photographic material from different artistic genres and architecturally concentrates on China s engagement with the west through the treaty ports and leased territories the emergence of architecture as a profession in China and Japan s omnipresence not least in Manchuria which reached its apogee in the puppet state of Manchukuo The study's geographically temporally and architecturally inclusive approach framed by the concept of multiple modernities questions the application of conventional theories of modernity or post colonialism to the Chinese situation By challenging conventional modernist historiography that has marginalised the experiences of the west's other for much of the last century this book proposes different ways of grappling with and comprehending the distinction and complexity of China's experiences and its encounter with architectural modernity
