Millenium Hall:

Prolific Ground Nicolle Jordan, 2024-11-15 Land ownership and engagement with land more generally constituted a crucial dimension of female independence in eighteenth century Britain. Because political citizenship was restricted to male property owners, women could not wield political power in the way propertied men did. Given its foundational sociopolitical function, land necessarily generated copious writing that vested it with considerable aesthetic and economic value. This book then situates these issues in relation to the historical transformation of landscape under emergent capitalism. The women writers featured herein, including Jane Barker, Anne Finch, Sarah Scott, and Elizabeth Montagu, participated in this transformation by celebrating female estate stewardship and evaluating the estate stewardship of men. By asserting their authority in such matters, these writers acquired a degree of independence and self-determination that otherwise proved elusive. Gender and Utopia in the Eighteenth Century Brenda Tooley, 2016-04-15 Focusing on eighteenth century constructions of symbolic femininity and eighteenth century women's writing in relation to contemporary utopian discourse, this volume adjusts our understanding of the utopia of the Enlightenment, placing a unique emphasis on colonial utopias. These essays reflect on issues related to specific configurations of utopias and utopianism by considering in detail English and French texts by both women, Sarah Scott, Sarah Fielding, Isabelle de Charrière, and men, Paltock and Montesquieu. The contributors ask the following questions: In the influential discourses of eighteenth century utopian writing, is there a place for woman, and if so, what or where is it? How do women disrupt, confirm, or ground the utopian projects within which these constructs occur? By posing questions about the inscription of gender in the context of eighteenth century utopian writing, the contributors shed new light on the eighteenth century legacies that continue to shape contemporary views of social and political progress.

Families of the Heart Ann Campbell, 2022-11-11 Families of the Heart introduces surrogate families as a new literary device for analyzing a set of novels by Defoe, Richardson, Haywood, and Burney. This radical convention, with its feminist and egalitarian potential, Campbell argues, allowed female protagonists to navigate the social world before and beyond marriage across the long eighteenth century.

The Body and Physical Difference David T. Mitchell, Sharon L. Snyder, 1997 Groundbreaking perspectives on disability in culture and the arts that shed light on notions of identity and social marginality.

Life After Death Karen Bloom Gevirtz, 2005 Life After Death shows how representations of the widow in the eighteenth century novel express attitudes toward emerging capitalism and women's participation in it. Authors responded to the century's instability by using widows who had the right to act economically and self-interestedly to teach women that virtue meant foregoing the opportunities that the changing economy offered. Novelists thus helped to create expectations for women that linger today and established the novel as a cultural arbiter. The first study of widows in the developing novel, Life After Death also takes the next step in merging genre, gender, and economic criticism.

Dangerous Intimacies Lisa Moore, 1997 This study challenges the idea that sex between women was unimaginable in British culture before the late 19th century Author Lisa Moore argues that literary representations of sapphic relationships between women were central to 18th century debates over English national identity and in novels were encoded within wider social concerns regarding race nation and colonialist ventures

Women, Space and Utopia 1600-1800 Nicole Pohl, 2017-05-15 The first full length study of women's utopian spatial imagination in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries this book explores the sophisticated correlation between identity and social space The investigation is mainly driven by conceptual questions and thus seeks to link theoretical debates about space gender and utopianism to historiographic debates about the gendered social production of space As Pohl's primary aim is to demonstrate how women writers explore the complex gender politics of space specific attention is given to spaces that feature widely in contemporary utopian imagination Arcadia the palace the convent the harem and the country house The early modern writers Lady Mary Wroth and Margaret Cavendish seek to recreate Paradise in their versions of Eden and Jerusalem the one yearns for Arcadia the other for Solomon's Temple Margaret Cavendish and Mary Astell redefine the convent as an emancipatory space dismissing its symbolic meaning as a confining and surveilled architecture The utopia of the country house in the work of Delarivier Manley Sarah Scott and Mary Hamilton will reveal how women writers resignify the traditional metonym of the country estate The study will finish with an investigation of Oriental tales and travel writing by Ellis Cornelia Knight Lady Mary Montagu Elizabeth Craven and Lady Hester Stanhope who unveil the seraglio as a location for a Western specifically masculine discourse on Orientalism despotism and female sexuality and offers their own utopian judgment

Unnatural Affections George E. Haggerty, 1998 Author George Haggerty examines the unnatural affections that flout cultural taboos and challenge what are seen as natural boundaries to desire Such affections abound in 18th century novels offering a complex understanding of the role of gender and the articulation of female desire during the age in which women novel writers came into their own

The Angel Out of the House Dorice Williams Elliott, 2002 Elliott English U of Kansas examines how novels and other literary texts portray women in the middle and upper classes taking an active part in endeavors that were perceived to have important social economic and political consequences Such works she says helped produce and authorize women's desires to participate in such endeavors Her study began as a doctoral dissertation for Johns Hopkins University Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Women and Property in the Eighteenth-Century English Novel April London, 1999-06-28 This book investigates the critical importance of women to the eighteenth century debate on property as conducted in the fiction of the period April London argues that contemporary novels advanced several often conflicting interpretations of the relation of women to property ranging from straightforward assertions of equivalence between women and things to subtle explorations of the self possession open to those denied a full civic identity Two contemporary models for the defining of selfhood through reference to property structure the book one historical classical republicanism and bourgeois individualism and the other literary pastoral and georgic These paradigms offer a cultural context for the analysis of both canonical and less well known writers from Samuel Richardson and Henry Mackenzie to Clara Reeve and Jane West While this study focuses on fiction from 1740 to 1800 it also draws on the historiography literary criticism and philosophy of the period and on recent feminist and cultural studies

Utopian and Science Fiction by Women Jane L. Donawerth, Carol A. Kolmerten, 1994-07-01 This collection speaks to common themes and strategies in women's writing about their different worlds from Margaret Cavendish's seventeenth century Blazing World of the North Pole to the men-less islands of the French writer Scudery to the eighteenth and nineteenth century utopias of Shelley and Gaskell and science fiction pulps finishing with the more contemporary feminist fictions of Le Guin Wittig Piercy and Michison It shows that these fictions historically speak to each other and together amount to a literary tradition of women's writing about a better place

After Marriage in the Long Eighteenth Century Jenny DiPlacidi, Karl Leydecker, 2017-12-14 This book examines the intersections between the ways that marriage was represented in eighteenth century writing and art experienced in society and regulated by law The interdisciplinary and comparative essays explore the marital experience beyond the matrimonial barrier to encompass representations of married life including issues of spousal abuse parenting incest infidelity and the period after the end of marriage to include annulment widowhood and divorce The chapters range from these focuses on legal and social histories of marriage to treatments of marriage in eighteenth century periodicals to depictions of married couples and families in eighteenth century art to parallels in French literature and diaries to representations of violence and marriage in Gothic novels and to surveys of same sex partnerships The volume is aimed towards students and scholars working in the long eighteenth century gender studies women's writing publishing history and art and legal historians

Weaving Tales Paula García-Ramírez, Beatriz Valverde, Angélica Varandas, Jason Whittaker, 2023-11-30 This collection of essays brings together a wide range of Spanish and Portuguese academics and writers exploring the ways in which our encounters with literatures in English inform our assumptions about texts and identities or texts as identities and the way we read them Mapping examining reading and re-reading fashioning and self-fashioning and especially weaving appear as appropriate images that convey the complexity and the nature of creative writing Such a metaphor has been fundamental for the history of world literature since the Roman poet Ovid had included a tale in his Metamorphoses in which weaving narration uncertain identities and the risks of telling uncomfortable truths all figure prominently As such these essays trace the intertwined patterns that knit texts together weaving identities as well as undoing them and in the process interrogating established and official truths

Precarious Domesticity and the British Novel Henna Messina, 2024-11-19 Precarious Domesticity and the British Novel Space Gender and Empire investigates the ways domesticity shapes and threatens female characters in British fiction from the 1750s to the 1850s Going far beyond the well-trodden ground of the marriage plot women writers in this period explored complicated issues such as sexual abuse grief and the way coverture and inheritance laws challenged women's survival The author argues that women writers used the novel as a space where they could confront anxieties about the precarity of domesticity and the implicit threat of homelessness many women of the middle ranks faced Precarious Domesticity explores the way female characters subvert these dynamics by reordering domestic space to enact ingenious and creative resistances to their marginalization in Jane Collier Sarah Scott Frances Burney Jane Austen Elizabeth Gaskell and Charlotte Brontë The author also explores the implications of British imperialism's impact on domestic ideology both in the consumer products imported into England and the wealth derived from plantation slavery and global trade made possible by enslaved labor

Lacan and Romanticism Daniela Garofalo, David Sigler, 2019-03-25 Lacan and Romanticism uses the work of psychoanalyst Jacques Lacan to deliver progressive readings of Romanticism by examining canonical Romantic authors such as William Wordsworth Mary Shelley John Keats and Jane Austen as well as lesser known writers such as the graveyard poets and Sarah Scott The contributors develop innovative approaches to Lacanian literary studies focusing on neglected or emergent areas of Lacan's thought and approaching Lacan's best known work in unexpected ways The essay topics include the visible and seeable war the death drive nonhuman sexualities sublimation loss and mourning utopia capitalism fantasy and topology and they range from the mid eighteenth through the early decades of the nineteenth centuries The book reveals new ways of thinking about art and literature with psychoanalytic theory and suggests how theoretical approaches can contribute meaningfully to literary studies in general

Political Affairs of the Heart Linda Van Netten Blimke, 2022-07-15 By examining four sentimental travelogues written by British women travelers during the American and French Revolutions Political Affairs of the Heart argues that this genre by combining eyewitness authority with the language of sensibility constitutes a significant site of women's engagement in national and gender politics

The Writing of Rural England, 1500-1800 S. Bending, A. McRae, 2003-08-12 The Writing of Rural England 1500 1800 documents and contextualizes the conflicting representations of rural life during a crucial period of social economic and cultural change It highlights the dialogues and tensions between agriculture and aesthetics economics and morality men and women leisure and labour By drawing on both canonical and marginal texts it argues that early modern writing not only reflected but played a part in constructing the cultural meanings of the English countryside with which we continue to live

The Culture of the Gift in Eighteenth-Century England C. Klekar, 2009-01-05 The Culture of the Gift in Eighteenth Century England analyzes the long overlooked role of gift exchange in literary texts and cultural documents and provides innovative readings of how gift transactions shaped the institutions and practices that gave this era its distinctive identity

Novel Bodies Jason S. Farr, 2019-06-07 Novel Bodies examines how disability shapes the British literary history of sexuality Jason Farr shows that various eighteenth century novelists represent disability and sexuality in flexible ways to reconfigure the political and social landscapes of eighteenth century Britain In imagining the lived experience of disability as analogous to and as informed by queer genders and sexualities the authors featured in Novel Bodies expose emerging ideas of able bodiedness and heterosexuality as interconnected systems that sustain dominant models of courtship reproduction and degeneracy Further Farr argues that they use intersections of disability and queerness to stage an array of contemporaneous debates covering topics as wide ranging as education feminism domesticity medicine and plantation life In his close attention to the fiction of Eliza Haywood Samuel Richardson Sarah Scott Maria Edgeworth and Frances Burney Farr demonstrates that disabled and queer characters inhabit strict social orders in unconventional ways and thus opened up new avenues of expression for readers from the eighteenth century forward Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Fictions of Authority Susan Sniader Lanser, 2018-03-15 No detailed description available for Fictions of Authority
