Psychoanalytic Study Of Society Volume 15:

The Collected Works of D.W. Winnicott Donald Woods Winnicott, 2016-12-31 Donald Woods Winnicott 1896 1971 was one of Britain's leading psychoanalysts and pediatricians. The author of some of the most enduring theories of the child and of child analysis, he coined terms such as the good enough mother and the transitional object, known to most as the security blanket. Winnicott's work is still used today by child and family therapists, social workers, teachers, and psychologists, and his papers and clinical observations are routinely studied by trainees in psychiatry and clinical psychology. Beyond the expected audiences of psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists, Winnicott also wrote for parents, teachers, social workers, childcare specialists, pediatricians, psychologists, art and play therapists, and others in the field of child development. Now for the first time, virtually all of Winnicott's writings are presented chronologically in 12 volumes, edited and annotated by leading Winnicott scholars. The Collected Works of D.W. Winnicott brings together letters, clinical case reports, child consultations, psychoanalytic articles, and papers, including previously unpublished works on topics of continuing interest to contemporary readers, such as delinquency, antisocial behavior, corporal punishment, and child care. The Collected Works begins with an authoritative General Introduction by editors Lesley Caldwell and Helen Taylor Robinson, while each of the volumes features an original introduction examining that volume's major themes and written by an international Winnicott scholar and psychoanalyst. Throughout The Collected Works, editorial annotations provide historical context and background information of scholarly and clinical value. The final volume contains new and illuminating appendices, comprehensive bibliographies of Winnicott's publications and letters, documentation of his lectures and broadcasts, and a selection of his drawings. This extraordinary publication will be an essential resource for Winnicott admirers the world over and those interested in the history and origins of the fields of child development and psychoanalysis. Meissner. Echoes of the Tambaran Paul Roscoe, David Lipset, 2011-10-01 In the Sepik Basin of Papua New Guinea, ritual culture was dominated by the Tambaran, a male tutelary spirit that acted as a social and intellectual guardian or patron to those under its aegis as they made their way through life. To Melanesian scholarship, the cultural and psychological anthropologist Donald F. Tuzin was something of a Tambaran, a figure whose brilliant and fine-grained ethnographic project in the Arapesh village of Ilahita was immensely influential within and beyond New Guinea anthropology. Tuzin died in 2007 at the age of 61. In his memory, the editors of this collection commissioned a set of original and thought-provoking essays from eminent and accomplished anthropologists who knew and were influenced by his work.

They are echoes of the Tambaran The anthology begins with a biographical sketch of Tuzin's life and scholarship It is divided into four sections each of which focuses loosely around one of his preoccupations The first concerns warfare history the male cult and changing masculinity all in Melanesia The second addresses the relationship between actor and structure Here the ethnographic focus momentarily shifts to the Caribbean before turning back to Papua new Guinea in essays that examine uncanny phenomena narratives about childhood and messianic promises The third part goes on to offer comparative and psychoanalytic perspectives on the subject in Fiji Bali the Amazon as well as Melanesia Appropriately the last section concludes with essays on Tuzin's fieldwork style and his distinctive authorial voice Anthropological Other Or Burmese Brother? Melford E. Spiro, The studies collected in this volume represent Spiro's contention that despite marked differences non Western peoples are brother not other and that the opportunity to construct a genuine cross cultural science with commanding universals remains compelling Melford E Spiro is the author Gender in Amazonia and Melanesia Thomas Gregor, Donald Tuzin, 2001-11 Amazonia and Melanesia are half a world in distance yet their cultures bear similarities in the areas of sex and gender This work looks at ways in which sex and gender are elaborated obsessed over and internalized

Psychotherapist and Problems of Young People Mary Boston, Dilys Daws, 2018-05-08 Many parents at some time dread that a child of theirs may be mentally ill or disturbed But even after a generation of child psychology psychiatry and psychotherapy they still frequently fear to admit their fears and fear the mystery of the remedy as much as the mystery of the problem It is therefore important that parents should come to easy terms with the work of the psychotherapist and be reassured that it is based on sympathetic understanding not mysteries It was to explain themselves to parents and others who work with other young people that sixteen psychotherapists and analysts mostly following the principles of Anna Freud or Melanie Klein and largely drawn from the Hampstead Child Therapy and the Tavistock clinics in London decided to collaborate in the preparation of this book In it they set out to describe their work in schools hospitals clinics day centres etc and to discuss their fundamental approach to the treatment of the disturbed child Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology Carol R.

Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 Medical practitioners and the ordinary citizen are becoming more aware that we need to understand cultural variation in medical belief and practice The more we know how health and disease are managed in different cultures the more we can recognize what is culture bound in our own medical belief and practice The Encyclopedia of Medical Anthropology is unique because it is the first reference work to describe the cultural practices relevant to health in the world's cultures and to provide an overview of important topics in medical anthropology No other single reference work comes close to matching the depth and breadth of information on the varying cultural background of health and illness around the world More than 100 experts anthropologists and other social scientists have contributed their firsthand experience of medical cultures from around the world Nothing Personal, Just Business Howard F. Throughout the United States and indeed the world organizations have become places of darkness where emotional savagery and brutality are now commonplace and where psychological forms of violence intimidation degradation dehumanization are the norm Stein succeeds in portraying this dramatically in his evocative lucid new book and in doing so he counters official pronouncements that simply because unemployment is low and productivity high all is well Through the use of symbolism and metaphor he gives us access to the interior experience of organizational life today He employs a form of disciplined subjectivity based on Freud's concept of counter transference and other methods to help us comprehend what such dominating notions as managed social change really mean Downsizing reengineering managed care endless organizational restructuring all are presented as just business but in reality says Stein they are devastatingly personal in their effects With numerous vignettes and anecdotes drawn from his formal and informal research Dr Stein shows us in often horrifying detail what work has come to be in so many of these dark places but also what must happen and can happen to lift them into the light Through consultations observation and personal experience Stein documents the ordinary assaults on the human spirit a form of violence in the workplace that usually escapes common classification By that he means culturally sanctioned violence such as everyday forms of intimidation ridicule goading and doubling of workloads all in an asserted effort to make the workplace more productive more competitive His examples metaphors symbols images come from the Holocaust and the Vietnam War and refer back to other horrors in other times the Crusades and the Spanish Inquisition among them His book demonstrates precisely how brutal so many of our rational business practices have become and how disposable all of us ultimately are at all levels in all organizations Stein draws upon a variety of research techniques including a form of counter transference based on Freud's concept to understand the inner meanings and feelings contained in workplace metaphors and symbols An incisive foreword by Dr David B Friedman Associate Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at the New York University School of Medicine comments on this puts the book in perspective and offers additional insights into Stein's themes and how brilliantly he develops them

The Critical Theory of Axel Honneth Danielle Petherbridge, 2013-09-05

The Critical Theory of Axel Honneth provides a comprehensive study of the work of Axel Honneth tracing the theoretical trajectory from his earliest writings on philosophical anthropology to the development of a theory of recognition The book argues that Honneth's early work provides important insights for the reconstruction of the normative project of critical theory and the articulation of a conceptual framework for analyzing social relations of power and domination Danielle Petherbridge contends however that these aims are not fully realized in Honneth's more mature project and that central insights recede as his project develops Petherbridge seeks to demonstrate that the basis for an alternative theory of intersubjectivity that can account for both an adequate theory of power and normative forms of subject formation can be immanently reconstructed from within Honneth's own work By contextualizing Honneth's project in relation to its theoretical influences The Critical Theory of Axel Honneth provides a critical study and excellent entry point that will be essential reading for both students and scholars who work in the areas of European philosophy critical theory social and political philosophy or social and political theory
