Real Killers:

TV and Film portrayals of serial killers compared to real life cases Melika Jeddi, 2017-02-08 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Psychology Media Psychology grade 2 2 Royal Holloway University of London language English abstract Serial killers are a macabre phenomenon in modern society and the way they are portrayed has drastically changed over the past few decades In a world where entertainment industries rake in billions of pounds every year there are no topics that are considered too sensitive to monetise and that includes serial killers This paper examines the comparisons between fictional serial killers media productions based on real killers and the actual cases of serial killers As well as looking at the accuracy of film and television portrayals of serial killers this paper addresses another very important point What effect does this oversaturation of gory media have on the public's perceptions and opinions of serial killers True Crime Ian

Cummins, Martin King, Louise Wattis, 2025-10-21 True crime is a huge cultural industry media organisations use crime stories to push sales and clicks Yet behind this phenomenon lies the real life victims and a disconnect between the representation of violent crime and its reality This book is a go to guide for students and researchers in understanding the development of this phenomenon and its social and cultural impacts Through case studies including Lucy Letby the Yorkshire Ripper and Fred and Rosemary West the book considers true crime's ethical implications and its wider influence on crime and punishment
