Approaches to Teaching the Works of Amitav Ghosh Gaurav Desai, John Hawley, 2019-05-01 Offers techniques for teaching the works of Amitav Ghosh in college world literature single author and general education courses including considerations of genres postcolonial identities translocation migration oceanic spaces feminism language genres and intersectional reading Provides bibliographical resources Powerful Writing Structures Adrienne Gear, 2020-02-06 This timely book uses thinking structures to deepen student writing It revolves around brain pockets to help students appreciate the qualities of different writing forms Some powerful examples include memory pockets for personal narrative writing fact pockets for nonfiction and imagination pockets for story writing Detailed lesson plans are featured along with sample anchor books and book lists Based on extensive classroom testing student samples throughout the book illustrate this unique approach to teaching writing Suggestions for setting up an effective writing program and assessment tips for guiding instruction complete this comprehensive approach to developing a year long writing program Resources in Education, 2001-04 Real World Writing for Secondary Students Jessica Singer Early, Meredith DeCosta, 2014-01-01 One of the most important ways to scaffold a successful transition from high school to college is to teach real world gate opening writing genres such as college admission essays This book describes a writing workshop for ethnically and linguistically diverse high school students where students receive instruction on specific genre features of the college admission essay The authors present both the theoretical grounding and the concrete strategies teachers crave including an outline of specific workshop lessons teaching calendars and curricular suggestions This text encourages secondary teachers to think of writing as a vital tool for all students to succeed academically and professionally Appropriate for courses and teacher professional development this accessible book Reconceptualizes the ways in which writing can best serve marginalized students Examines research based curricular and teaching approaches for the secondary school classroom Provides a writing workshop framework for creating a college admissions essay complete with lesson planning materials activities handouts bibliographic resources and more Includes student perspectives and work samples offering insight into the lives and struggles of diverse adolescents In this important book Jessica Early and Meredith DeCosta describe a readily replicable set of activities that provides motivated meaningful opportunities for writing development and helps potential first generation higher education students gain university admission From the Foreword by Charles Bazerman Gevirtz Graduate School of Education University of California Santa Barbara This is a book about opening doors about demystifying writing tasks that can keep many students on the outside The authors take on a major writing challenge the college application essay and through careful instruction help students use their real life stories to master it It is teaching at its best and democracy at its best Thomas Newkirk University of New Hampshire This groundbreaking book has the best qualities of an exemplary research study while also providing us with a handbook of practical wisdom and engaging lessons for teaching writing to a diverse population of secondary students It is certain to inspire and instruct all English teachers and composition researchers who care about helping traditionally marginalized and underprepared students discover and demonstrate that they are qualified to enter college Sheridan Blau Teachers College Columbia University Building Writing Center Assessments That Matter Ellen Schendel, William J. Macauley, 2012-10-16 No less than other divisions of the college or university contemporary writing centers find themselves within a galaxy of competing questions and demands that relate to assessment questions and demands that usually embed priorities from outside the purview of the writing center itself Writing centers are used to certain kinds of assessment both quantitative and qualitative but are often unprepared to address larger institutional or societal issues In Building Writing Center Assessments that Matter Schendel and Macauley start from the kinds of assessment strengths already in place in writing centers and they build a framework that can help writing centers satisfy local needs and put them in useful dialogue with the larger needs of their institutions while staying rooted in writing assessment theory The authors begin from the position that tutoring writers is already an assessment activity and that good assessment practice rooted in the work of Adler Kassner O'Neill Moore and Huot already reflects the values of writing center theory and practice They offer examples of assessments developed in local contexts and of how assessment data built within those contexts can powerfully inform decisions and shape the futures of local writing centers With additional contributions by Neal Lerner Brian Huot and Nicole Caswell and with a strong commitment to honoring on site local needs the volume does not advocate a one size fits all answer But like the modeling often used in a writing consultation examples here illustrate how important assessment principles have been applied in a range of local contexts Ultimately Building Writing Assessments that Matter describes a theory stance toward assessment for writing centers that honors the uniqueness of the writing center context and examples of assessment in action that are concrete manageable portable and adaptable
