Roman Fever:

Roman Fever and Other Stories Edith Wharton, 2013-11-05 A side from her Pulitzer Prize winning talent as a novel writer Edith Wharton also distinguished herself as a short story writer publishing more than seventy two stories in ten volumes during her lifetime The best of her short fiction is collected here in Roman Fever and Other Stories From her picture of erotic love and illegitimacy in the title story to her exploration of the aftermath of divorce detailed in Souls Belated and The Last Asset Wharton shows her usual skill in dissecting the elements of emotional subtleties moral ambiguities and the implications of social restrictions as Cynthia Griffin Wolff writes in her introduction Roman Fever and Other Stories is a surprisingly contemporary volume of stories by one of our most enduring writers

Reading Edith Wharton Through a Darwinian Lens Judith P. Saunders, 2014-01-10 Beneath the polished surface of the genteel environments delineated in Wharton's fiction characters are competing fiercely for desirable mates questing for social status and resources and plotting ruthlessly to advance their relatives fortunes in life This book identifies these and other evolutionary issues central to her fiction demonstrating their significance in terms of character setting plot and theme Connections to existing Wharton criticism are made throughout the book so that readers can see how an evolutionary perspective enriches refutes or reconfigures insights derived from other critical approaches

Difference Elizabeth Weed,Naomi Schor,Ellen Rooney,2006 This special issue of differences celebrates the work of the contemporary feminist literary critic and theorist Barbara Johnson whose work has been revolutionary in foregrounding concepts of difference Johnson s is a unique method of literary reading in which literature becomes in her words a mode of cultural work the work of giving to read those impossible contradictions that cannot yet be spoken The contributors to this issue recognize that one of Johnson s primary gifts to literary studies is her ability to teach theoretical insights not in a pedagogically prescriptive or didactic way but through her exquisitely close readings of texts that illustrate the force of theory and language in practice The first half of the issue comprises essays in which scholars influenced by Johnson offer close readings of texts ranging from Sandra Cisneros s Carmelo to Edith Wharton s Roman Fever to George Bernard Shaw s Pygmalion Each of the remaining essays is marked by the intimate voice of its author offering a reflective tribute to Johnson s thought and teaching Contributors Lauren Berlant Rachel Bowlby Bill Brown Mary Wilson Carpenter Pamela Caughie Lee Edelman Jane Gallop Bill Johnson Gonz lez Deborah Jensen Lili Porten Avital Ronell Mary Helen Washington personal autonomy by speaking truth about sorrow and suffering in their lives Despite restrictions and limiting gender norms each author continuously recast painful experiences of loss abuse and mental illness as fodder for the imagination to forge lasting literary careers The book emphasizes the therapeutic value of narrative disclosure and its ability to yield a deeper understanding of the impact of childhood trauma and adversity on women writers and how their creative response shaped modern culture As such it contextualizes trauma as lived experience for each writer along with current research on early loss and mourning childhood abuse and family systems theory in order to appreciate more fully how writing as ritual may help transform mental and emotional debility
