Romanee Conti:

The Prince of Romanée-Conti Laurens Delpech, 2020-10-21 T00:00:00+02:00 Prince Louis François de Bourbon Conti cousin of King Louis XV of France was a patron of contemporary intellectuals such as Diderot Beaumarchais and Rousseau and well known as an avid art collector His stroke of genius was the purchase of the Romanée vineyard which later became known as the Romanée Conti This volume reveals the secrets of the legendary wine which has earned a cult following of connoisseurs around the world Following a biography of the Prince of Conti detailed notes from recent wine tastings allow readers to identify the characteristics of this unique wine which must be considered within the context of the Climats of Burgundy the terroirs where the Burgundian grape varieties grow in optimal conditions These fabled terroirs have benefited from a unique centuries long continuity and they were inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List in 2015 To understand Burgundy readers must be familiar with its Climats but also conscious of the climate the meteorological conditions in which each vintage is created because the production of fine wines and especially of those made from grape varieties at the very height of maturity resembles at times an obstacle course created by nature to play tricks on the winegrower Laurens Delpech through lengthy excerpts from harvest reports published since 1996 by Aubert de Villaine co director of the Domaine de la Romanée Conti recounts the saga of successive vintages which illuminates the difficulty of the vigneron's profession This original complete and engaging volume brings to the forefront the duality of the Climats and climate that give rise to the finest wines in Burgundy An excellent overview of the Romanée Conti it is also essential reading for those who wish to sharpen their knowledge and appreciation of Burgundian wines
