divergent tendencies in religion and politics and a wide range of reformers authors and other public figures The Catskills Kenneth Myers,1987 Picturing the Romantic Elisabeth Ansel,Johannes Grave,Christin Neubauer,Mira Claire Zadrozny,2025-09-30 European Romanticism in the visual arts has always been defined by transnational transfer processes It is surprising that international aspects of Romantic movements have been in contrast to literary studies a gap in art historical research Picturing the Romantic addresses this issue and reveals new perspectives on European Romanticism s in the visual arts by reconsidering the phenomenon s traditional canon geographical dimensions and terminology and analysing various examples of the complex and heterogeneous works of Romantic painting In fifteen original essays renowned and early career researchers examine the question of whether to speak of several independently considered Romanticisms or one European Romanticism They adopt a transnational perspective on Romantic art in and beyond Europe focusing on the interconnections between the countries Looking Close and Seeing Far: Samuel Seymour, Titian Ramsay Peale, and the Art of the Long Expedition, 1818Ð1823 , Antebellum American Pendant Paintings Wendy N. E. Ikemoto,2017-07-06 Antebellum American Pendant Paintings New Ways of Looking marks the first sustained study of pendant paintings discrete images designed as a pair It opens with a broad overview that anchors the form in the medieval diptych religious history and aesthetic theory and explores its cultural and historical resonance in the 19th century United States Three case studies examine how antebellum American artists used the pendant format in ways revelatory of their historical moment and the aesthetic and cultural developments in which they partook The case studies on John Quidor s Rip Van Winkle and His Companions at the Inn Door of Nicholas Vedder 1839 and The Return of Rip Van Winkle 1849 and Thomas Cole s Departure and Return 1837 shed new light on canonical antebellum American artists and their practices The chapter on Titian Ramsay Peale s Kilauea by Day and Kilauea by Night 1842 presents new material that pushes the geographical boundaries of American art studies toward the Pacific Rim The book contributes to American art history the study of a characteristic but as yet overlooked format and models for the discipline a new and productive framework of analysis focused on the fundamental yet complex way images work back and forth with one another Visions of Nature Dr. Jarrod Hore,2022-04-19 Visions of Nature revives the work of late nineteenth century landscape photographers who shaped the environmental attitudes of settlers in the colonies of the Tasman World and in California Despite having little association with one another these photographers developed remarkably similar visions of nature They rode a wave of interest in wilderness imagery and made pictures that were hung in settler drawing rooms perused in albums projected in theaters and re created on vacations In both the American West and the Tasman World landscape photography fed into settler belonging and produced new ways of thinking about territory and history During this key period of settler revolution a generation of photographers came to associate nature with remoteness antiquity and emptiness a perspective that disguised the realities of Indigenous presence and reinforced colonial fantasies of environmental abundance This book lifts the work of these photographers out of their provincial contexts and repositions it within a new comparative frame

Writers of the American Renaissance Denise Knight, 2003-12-30 The American literary canon has undergone revision and expansion in recent years and our notions of the 19th century renaissance have been reevaluated Mainstream anthologies have been revised to reflect the expanding literary canon yet resources for readers have remained widely scattered This book expands earlier definitions of the 19th century American Renaissance as represented by canonical writers such as Emerson and Poe covering writers who published popular fiction and dominated the literary marketplace of the day Included is generous coverage of women writers and writers of color The volume provides alphabetically arranged entries for more than 70 writers of the period including Louisa May Alcott Emily Dickinson Frederick Douglass Margaret Fuller Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Harriet Beecher Stowe Henry David Thoreau Walt Whitman and many more Each entry was written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes a survey of the writer's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies

Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L. Horton, 2017-05-18 In Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L Horton reveals how the spatial philosophies underlying the American Indian Movement AIM were refigured by a generation of artists searching for new places to stand Upending the assumption that Jimmie Durham James Luna Kay WalkingStick Robert Houle and others were primarily concerned with identity politics she joins them in remapping the coordinates of a widely shared yet deeply contested modernity that is defined in great part by the colonization of the Americas She follows their installations performances and paintings across the ocean and back in time as they retrace the paths of Native diplomats scholars performers and objects in Europe after 1492 Along the way Horton intervenes in a range of theories about global modernisms Native American sovereignty racial difference archival logic artistic itinerancy and new materialisms Writing in creative dialogue with contemporary artists she builds a picture of a spatially temporally and materially interconnected world an undivided earth

The Political Economy of Sentiment Jose R Torre, 2015-09-30 Situates changes in the nature of money and the rise of sophisticated financial structures at the centre of the Enlightenment This work argues that paper credit instruments were causal critical to the larger epistemological and psychological changes associated with the Enlightenment's reconstruction of value and have embodied culturally specific ideas about order and meaning about the human body and about the diverse fusions that comprise American culture Hawthorne, Sculpture, and the Question of American Art Deanna Fernie, 2016-12-05

Deanna Fernie analyzes the significance of sculpture in Hawthorne's fiction through the recurring motif of the fragment in its double guise as ruin and project. Her book casts new light on Hawthorne's memorable ruined and unfinished images from the rough hewn figurehead of Drowne's Wooden Image 1844 to the tattered letter A in the unfinished loft of the Custom House in The Scarlet Letter 1850 and the unfinished bust of Donatello in The Marble Faun 1860. Fernie shows how the tension between the formed and unformed enabled Hawthorne to interrogate the origins and the distinctive possibilities of art in America in relation to established European models. At the same time she suggests that sculpture challenged and provoked Hawthorne's shaping of his own specifically literary art, stimulating him to develop its capacities for expressing irresolution and change. Fernie establishes the intellectual contexts for her study through a discussion of sculpture and fragmentary form as revealed in American, British, and Continental thought. Her book will be an important text not only for American literature scholars but also for anyone interested in British and Continental Romanticism and the intersections of art and literature.
