Jonathan Rowe, 2005-09 Tabloid reporter David Fisher an overeducated underachieving scofflaw is wasting his talent and wallowing in a mid life crisis That is until the day he stumbles upon the story of a fugitive radical hiding in his hometown Fisher becomes obsessed with uncovering her true identity At the same time he becomes hopelessly bewitched by the sexy and mysterious Janet Fickle Fisher desperately pursues these women and soon the question of identity takes on a more mysterious and pressing relevance This is a clever funny and gritty book Parenting to a Degree Laura T.

Hamilton, 2016-04-29 Helicopter parents the kind that continue to hover even in college are one of the most ridiculed figures of twenty first century parenting criticized for creating entitled young adults who boomerang back home But do involved parents really damage their children and burden universities In this book sociologist Laura T Hamilton illuminates the lives of young women and their families to ask just what role parents play during the crucial college years Hamilton vividly captures the parenting approaches of mothers and fathers from all walks of life from a CFO for a Fortune 500 company to a waitress at a roadside diner As she shows parents are guided by different visions of the ideal college experience built around classed notions of women s work family plans and the ideal age to grow up Some are intensively involved and hold adulthood at bay to cultivate specific traits professional helicopters for instance help develop the skills and credentials that will advance their daughters careers while pink helicopters emphasize appearance charm and social ties in the hopes that women will secure a wealthy mate In sharp contrast bystander parents whose influence is often limited by economic concerns are relegated to the sidelines of their daughter s lives Finally paramedic parents who can come from a wide range of class backgrounds sit in the middle intervening in emergencies but otherwise valuing self sufficiency above all Analyzing the effects of each of these approaches with clarity and depth Hamilton ultimately argues that successfully navigating many colleges and universities without involved parents is nearly impossible and that schools themselves are increasingly dependent on active parents for a wide array of tasks with intended and unintended consequences Altogether Parenting to a Degree offers an incisive look into the new and sometimes problematic relationship between students parents and universities

Yet Another Costume Party Debacle Ingrid A. Nelson, 2024-12-11 How the policies of elite colleges allow racially themed parties to continue by perpetuating the status quo On a cold February evening a group of students at Bowdoin College an elite and historically white liberal arts college in Maine gathered to drink tequila at a party referred to as not not a fiesta By noon the next day Instagram videos of students sporting miniature sombreros had spread like wildfire through campus Over the next few weeks national media outlets would broadcast the embarrassing fallout But the frequency with which similar parties recur on campuses across the United States begs the question what if anything do undergraduates learn about race and racism from these encounters Drawing on interviews and archival research Yet Another Costume Party Debacle shows us how colleges both contest and reproduce racialized systems of power Sociologist Ingrid A Nelson juxtaposes how students and administrators discuss race with how they behave in the aftermath of racially charged campus controversies Nelson spoke in depth with students and other key players in several controversial parties Cracksgiving a gangster party and the not not a fiesta tequila party at Bowdoin The college's administrative response failed to encourage productive dialogue or address larger questions about race on campus Nelson shows how the underlying campus structures at elite liberal arts colleges foster an environment that is ripe for racially charged incidents we shouldn't be surprised when we read about yet another costume party debacle Nelson advises how we can take charge of diversity on our campuses by changing the systems that bring students together and drive them apart
