

SENSATION (PSYCHOLOGY)

In psychology, sensation refers to the unique process of how people receive information through their senses, which include touch, taste, smell, sight, and hearing.

DEFINITION

According to Sanderson and Huffman:

"Sensation is the process by which we detect and convert (transduce) raw sensory data from our body and the environment, and then transmit it to our brain" (2023, p. 174).

The process of sensation in psychology includes identifying, communicating, and interpreting stimuli from our surroundings.

EXAMPLES

- Feeling the sun on our skin: Our skin receptors can detect heat from the sun and send a signal to the brain, which helps us feel the sensation of warmth on our skin.
- Tasting our favorite food: Our tongue's taste buds can detect different flavors - sweet, sour, salty, or bitter - and send this information to the brain for us to experience the taste.

Sensation, the Intuitive System, and Designed Experience Qing Archer Zhang, James Paul Gee, 2023-10-08 This groundbreaking book redefines human learning by placing sensation and experience at its core. The book delves into the essence of what it means to be human and how humans best learn and flourish. Drawing on insights from evolutionary biology, neuroscience, learning science, and the arts, the authors weave together a rich tapestry of ideas that challenge traditional approaches to education. The authors argue that school and educational research often ignore fundamental aspects of human learning such as empathy, intuition, and balance. By examining what experience really means when we say humans learn from experience, the authors propose a more holistic approach to education, much of which goes on outside school that goes beyond talk, texts, and analytical reasoning. With examples from various media, particularly the wildly popular Japanese anime series Attack on Titan, the authors treat good teaching as experience design and show how experience can be a powerful force for learning and human flourishing. As our world faces unprecedented challenges and crises, this timely book serves as a clarion call for a transformative approach to teaching and learning that respects the nature of humans as distinctive sorts of creatures, urging us to create environments that nurture the full spectrum of human capacities.

Sensation in the Pelvic Region Jean Jacques Wyndaele, 2022-11-18 This book covers sensation in all major components of the pelvic region. The small pelvis is containing many different structures and viscera, and sensations elicited there are important for regulating a normal daily life and for warning that something is going wrong. The sensory system is driving in many aspects the motor activity and precedes and guides the efferent functions. It is surprising that in the last 60 years the ratio between research and publications about sensory versus motor has gradually become less. There has been undoubtedly a rise in the number of publications written on pelvic sensation, but in the same time the number of manuscripts on motor function have increased more. It is the hope that this compilation of most data available on sensation will be of interest for the reader, will incite to perform more research, so that an important part of pelvic functional diagnosis and treatment modalities will use the whole of the mechanisms available. The book is intended for all interested in pelvic functions and the interactions between the different structures: specialists in urology, gastroenterology, sexuality, pain, pelvic floor function, and dysfunction, paediatricians, and geriatricians, neurologists, students, and those in training. The reader will find interesting and challenging information and suggestions for further research.

On the Evolution of Conscious Sensation, Conscious Imagination, and Consciousness of Self Robert G. Kunzendorf, 2016-12-05 Philosophical thought experiments invoking inverted spectra, zombies, et cetera suggest that conscious sensations have no function, and psychological studies finding no correlation between vivid visual imaging and visual problem solving suggest that conscious images have no function. Furthermore, both philosophical and psychological theories suggest that self-consciousness has no function. Countering such suggestions, the post-Darwinian double aspect theory which Professor Robert Kunzendorf introduces in the first chapter of his monograph

On the Evolution of Conscious Sensation Conscious Imagination and Consciousness of Self points to evolutionary functions of certain sensations youngling vivid images and self consciousness Kunzendorf s second chapter presents evidence that the most primitive sensation pain the subjective aspect of free nerve endings or nociceptors has a survival promoting function But as the pressure nociceptor mutates into a touch receptor the heat nociceptor into temperature receptor and the chemical nociceptor into a taste receptor the painful qualia of these nociceptors evolve respectively into touch sensation temperature sensation or taste sensation painless sensations that add no survival benefit to their receptor s physical aspect Building on evidence that retinal receptors embodying visual qualia evolved from primitive eyespots responsive to injurious heat at a distance or painful light the third chapter presents evidence that visually imagined sensations are the subjective qualities of retinal receptors that are corticofugally innervated in warm blooded animals for the developmental purpose of testing cortically hypothesized sensory motor rules that have greater survival value than cold blooded stimulus response associations The fourth and final chapter focuses on self conscious reality testing and on visuo spatial self conceptualization and presents evidence that such manifestations of self awareness evolve only in those warm blooded animals whose rule developing youth lasts two years or longer that is those mammals and birds whose survival during the imaginal testing of rules is subjected to prolonged risk if self consciousness that one is imaging sensations rather than perceiving sensations is absent The Bonnet's Analytical Essay on the Faculties of the Soul was at the forefront of these developments and this is its first English translation. Drawing on his earlier work in natural history, he was the leading entomologist of his era. He approaches problems of the nature of the mind via the physiology and anatomy of the brain and sensory systems. His approach is one of reverse engineering, starting from an organic statue without faculties and investigating how it would need to be modified to produce a human being. Bonnet takes up a position that cuts across the standard understanding of the period as a clash between materialism and dualism. While his approach was rigorously naturalistic and physiological, this did not lead him to reject the notion of a soul. Instead, he argues that in order to make sense of their sensory abilities, we need to attribute a soul to animals as well as human beings. At the same time, he argues that if personal immortality is to be possible, it can be conceived along the lines of insect metamorphosis, which shows how different biological forms can harbour a single identity.

The Writing of East and Central Africa G. D. Killam, 1984      Abhidharmakosabhasyam of Vasubandhu - Vol. II Vasubandhu, 2014-05-01

This is the most important compendium of Indian Buddhist philosophy and psychology. The four-volume masterwork begins with a history of Abhidharma literature and covers a vast array of subjects from a Buddhist viewpoint. Some of these subjects are Buddhist cosmology and the process of rebirth, karma and the Buddhist ethical theory, mental defilements, causes of suffering and the path to enlightenment, the supernatural powers of a Buddha, a taxonomy of meditative states and a refutation of the existence of soul. This is the second of 4 volumes.

The Early Works, 1882-1898: 1887. Psychology John Dewey, 1967

Psychology John Dewey's first book is an appropriate choice for the first volume in the Southern Illinois University series. The Early Works of John Dewey 1882-1898. With an original publication date of 1887, Psychology is volume 2 of The Early Works. It appears first in the series to introduce scholars and general readers to the use of modern textual criticism in a work outside the literary field. Designed as a scholar's reading edition, the volume presents the text of Dewey's work as the author intended, clear of editorial footnotes. All apparatus is conveniently arranged in appendix form. As evidence of its wide adoption and use as a college textbook, Psychology had a publishing history of twenty-six printings. For two of the reprintings, Dewey made extensive revisions in content to incorporate developments in the field of psychology as well as in his own thinking. The textual appendices include a thorough tabulation of these changes. In recognition of the high quality and scholarly standards of the textual criticism, this edition of Psychology is the first non-literary work awarded the Seal of the Modern Language Association Center for Editions of American Authors. By applying to the work of a philosopher the procedures used in modern textual editions of American writers such as Hawthorne, the Southern Illinois University Dewey project is establishing a pattern for future collected writing of philosophers.
