Sense Of Mission 2004:

The Sense of Mission in Russian Foreign Policy Alicja Curanović, 2021-03-05 This book explores how far messianism the conviction that Russia has a special historical destiny is present in and affects Russian foreign policy Based on extensive original research including analysis of public statements policy documents and opinion polls the book argues that a sense of mission is present in Russian foreign policy that it is very similar in its nature to thinking about Russia's mission in Tsarist times that the sense of mission matters more for Russia's elites than for Russia's masses and that Russia's special mission is emphasised more when there are questions about the regime's legitimacy as well as great power status Overall the book demonstrates that a sense of mission is an important factor in Russian foreign policy

Measuring Police Subcultural Perceptions Zheng Chen, 2015-11-21 Using survey data collected from 382 Chinese police officers training in a Chinese police university this research is the first empirical study to describe Chinese police perceptions of subcultural topics including the role of crime fighting and community service cynicism isolation solidarity receptivity to change and traditionalism This book describes the research method adopted in this study and the findings together with comparisons with Western police cultural studies In addition it covers an extensive review of Chinese policing history and evolution of policing strategies and a review of police subcultural themes and their potential determinants on the basis of Western studies making it both beneficial and of interest for researchers and practitioners who would like to know more about contemporary policing in China This book provides readers with insights into a little investigated area of policing the perceptions of Chinese frontline police It also makes it easy to compare the similarities and differences between police perceptions in China and the West

History and National Ideology in Greek Postmodernist Fiction Gerasimos Katsan, 2013-04-04 History and National Ideology in Greek Postmodernist Fiction investigates the ways postmodernist literary techniques have been adopted by Greek authors Taking into consideration the global impetus of postmodernism the book examines its local implications Framed by a discussion of major postmodernist thinkers the book argues for the ability of local cultures to retain their uniqueness in the face of globalization while at the same time adapting to the new global situation The combination of external global influences and the specific internal concerns of Greek national literature makes the emergence of postmodernism in Greece distinctive from that of other national contexts The book engages in larger theoretical debates about the crisis of national identity in the context of postmodern globalization and the resurgence of nationalist ideology either as a response to globalization or the exigencies of historical events This crisis has been brought on in part by the very postmodernist and poststructuralist questioning of the ideologies upon which nation states construct themselves The central argument of the book is that postmodernist Greek writers question the idea of national identity based on both the impact of globalization and a reexamination of the discourses of national ideology they suggest a turn away from the traditional concerns with cultural homogeneity towards an acceptance of multiplicity and diversity which is reflected through experimentation with postmodernist literary techniques Consequently the unifying idea of this book is national identity as it is reconfigured in recent contemporary novels My analysis incorporates the view that metafiction is a borderline or marginal discourse that exists on the boundary between fiction and criticism The book illuminates the connections between the formal concerns of contemporary authors and the larger debates and philosophical underpinnings of postmodernism in general

Public Administration in Southeast Asia Evan M. Berman,2017-09-25 While public administration practice and education in general has become considerably professionalized in the last decade existing knowledge on public administration in Southeast Asia is fragmented at best and often devoid of a useful reference. While journal articles and government reports provide decentralized information, Public Administration in Southeast Asia: Thailand, Philippines, Malaysia, Hong Kong and Macao takes a comprehensive and comparative look at the major components of administration systems. The selection of countries and regions included reflects the diversity of Southeast Asia. Organized by country, the handbook fills a critical need by bringing together leading scholars who provide an insider perspective and viewpoint on essential and advanced issues. Divided into five sections, each dedicated to a particular country, the text outlines topics relevant to modern public administration, including History and Political Context of Public Administration, Decentralization and Local Governance, Public Ethics and Corruption, Performance Management Reforms, Civil Service System. Focusing on recent developments in public administration in these countries, which are among the fastest growing economies in the world, the book explores their practices and innovative approaches in public administration. For many years, people have been fascinated by the cultures, peoples, and governments of Southeast Asia, and now they have a book that discusses the apparatus of government in Southeast Asia, their agencies, contexts, processes, and values.

Missionary Methods Craig Ott, J.D. Payne, 2013-06-15. One hundred years ago, Roland Allen authored his landmark study Missionary Methods: St Paul's or Ours. The 2012 annual conference of the Evangelical Missiological Society celebrated this centennial by addressing this ever-relevant topic. The present volume brings to readers insights from that conference, examining the theological foundations, historical precedence, and practical challenges regarding missionary methods. Missiologists, missionary practitioners, and strategic leaders alike will benefit from these essays, which give a fresh perspective on methods for fulfilling the Great Commission in our day.

Empires of the Senses Andrew Jon Rotter, 2019. A deeply researched study, this book offers the first sensory history of the British empire in India and the United States, in the Philippines, reflecting on how senses structured the colonizers' perception of the colonized and vice versa, and impacted the British and American imperial projects.

Feeling Film: Affect and Authenticity in Popular Cinema Greg Singh, 2014-01-21. Cinema has the capacity to enflame our passions, to arouse our pity, to inspire our love. Feeling Film is a book that examines the emotional encounters found in contemporary popular cinema cultures. Examining melodrama, film noir, comic book franchises, cult indie movies, and romantic comedy within the context of a Jungian-informed psychology and contemporary movements in film philosophy, this book considers the various kinds of feelings engendered by our everyday engagements with cinema. Greg Singh questions the popular idea of what cinema is and considers what happens during the anticipation and act of watching a movie, through to the act of sharing our feelings about them, the reviewing process, and repeat viewing practices. Feeling Film does this through a critique of purely textual approaches, instead offering a model which emphasises lived, warm, embodied, and inhabited psychological relationships between the viewer and the viewed. It extends the narrative action of cinema beyond the duration of the screening into realms of anticipation and afterlife, in particular providing insight into the tertiary and participatory practices afforded through rich media engagement In rethinking the everyday co productive relationship between viewer and viewed from this perspective Feeling Film reinstates the importance of feelings as a central concern for film theory What emerges from this study is a re engagement of the place of emotion affect and feeling in film theory and criticism In reconsidering the duration of the cinematic encounter Feeling Film makes a significant contribution to the understanding of the inter subjective relationship between viewer and viewed It takes post Jungian criticism into the realms of post cinema technologies and reignites the dialogue between depth psychology and the study of images as they appear to and for us This book will make essential reading for those interested in the relationship between film and aspects of depth psychology film and philosophy students at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate levels film and cinema academics and cinephiles

Perpetrators of Mass Atrocities Alette Smeulers, 2023-12-22 The 9 11 attacks as well as the ones in Madrid London Paris and Brussels the genocides in Nazi Germany Rwanda and Cambodia the torture in dictatorial regimes the wars in former Yugoslavia Syria and Iraq and currently in Ukraine the sexual violence during periods of conflict all make us wonder why would anyone do something like that Who are these people Drawing on 30 years of research in this book Alette Smeulers explores the perpetrators of mass atrocities such as war crimes crimes against humanity genocide and terrorism Examining questions of why people kill and torture and how mass atrocities can be explained Smeulers presents a typology of perpetrators with different ranks roles and motives Devoting one chapter to each type of perpetrator the book combines insights from academic research with illustrative case studies of well known perpetrators from dictators to middlemen to lower ranking officials and terrorists Their stories are explored in depth as the book examines their behaviour and motivation Perpetrators of Mass Atrocities thus provides a comprehensive understanding of the causes of extreme mass violence Such knowledge not only can help the international criminal justice system to be able to attribute blame in a fairer way but can also assist in preventing such atrocities being committed on the current scale Perpetrators of Mass Atrocities is essential reading for all those interested in war crimes genocide terrorism and mass violence

A New Meaning-Mission Fit Michelle French-Holloway, 2020-05-11 This book offers a clear process for managers professionals and future leaders to help discover their personal meaning in life and apply it to their work The author uses research outcomes and theories to refute the contemporary philosophy that stresses following an individual s passion alone when choosing a particular job or career Instead she recommends employing a personal meaning oriented approach to life and work and then becoming passionate about one s work organically The book also highlights the positive outcomes to organizations and societies when individuals engage with finding meaning in work focusing on physical and emotional health and satisfaction The author provides numerous examples of leaders who have aligned their personal meaning and organizational mission also known as meaning mission fit and the relationship of this alignment to their emotional well being Together the research theory and evidence in this book equip leaders and managers with an inspiring model to find their own meaning mission fit as well as create opportunities for the employees to do the same

From Kosovo to Kabul and Beyond David Chandler, 2005-12-20 This new and updated edition of David Chandler's acclaimed book takes a critical look at the way in which human rights issues have been brought to the fore in international affairs. The UN and NATO's new policy of interventionism as shown in Iraq, Somalia, Bosnia, Kosovo, and East Timor has been hailed as part of a new ethical approach to foreign policy. David Chandler offers a rigorous critique of this apparently benign shift in international relations to reveal the worrying political implications of a new human rights discourse. He asks why the West can now prioritise the rights of individuals over the traditional rights of state sovereignty and why this shift has happened so quickly. Charting the development of a human rights based foreign policy, he considers the theoretical problems of defining human rights and sets this within the changing framework of international law. Meticulous and compelling, From Kosovo to Kabul and Beyond offers a disturbing insight into the political implications of a human rights led foreign policy and the covert agenda that it conceals.

Handbook on Performance Management in the Public Sector Deborah Blackman, 2021-05-28 This timely Handbook examines performance management research specific to the public sector and its contexts and provides suggestions for future developments in the field. It demonstrates the need for performance management to be reconceptualized as a core component of business both within and across organizations and how it must be embedded in both strategic decision making and as a day to day leadership and management practice in order to be effective.

Recovering the Full Mission of God Dean Flemming, 2013-11-03 Should our proclamation of the gospel be in words or deeds or both? What do the Scriptures say? New Testament scholar and missionary Dean Flemming takes a look at this disputed question. Rooted in the Old Testament and covering the Gospels, Paul, Acts, Peter, and Revelation, Flemming provides a biblically sound basis for holistic evangelism.

Christianity Encountering World Religions (Encountering Mission) Terry C. Muck, Frances S. Adeney, 2009-04-01 The current religious climate poses unique challenges to those engaged in mission. Thus the authors of this book propose a new yet very biblical model for interacting with people of other faiths. They term this model giftive mission as it is based on the metaphor of free gift. We bear the greatest gift possible, the gospel message. Adopting this perspective not only has the potential for greater missionary success but also enables us to more closely imitate God's gracious activity in the world. The core of the book explores eleven practices that characterize giftive mission. Each practice is illustrated through the story of a figure from mission history who embodied that practice. Further discussion shows how to incorporate these practices in specific mission settings.

Paul's Understanding of the Church's Mission Robert L. Plummer, 2006-06-01 Did Paul expect his churches to engage in evangelistic activity which mirrored his own? Or have modern readers of the Bible wrongly projected Paul's apostolic passion upon the communities that he founded? Such is the charge of several recent authors and if their thesis is correct, nothing could have larger implications for how the modern church engages in mission. In this book, Robert L. Plummer engages in a careful study of Paul's letters to determine if the apostle expected the communities to which he wrote to engage in outward directed missionary activity Plummer helpfully summarizes the discussion to date on the debated issue judiciously handles contested texts and provides a way forward in addressing this critical question While admitting that Paul rarely explicitly commands the communities he founded to evangelize Plummer amasses significant incidental data to provide a convincing case that Paul did indeed expect his churches to engage in outward directed missionary activity Throughout the study Plummer progressively builds a theological basis for the church s mission that is both compelling and distinctively Pauline

The Politics of the Police Benjamin Bowling,Robert Reiner,James W. E. Sheptycki,2019 The Politics of the Police offers a geographical and historical overview of the law and politics of the police This fifth edition covers a wider range of empirical and theoretical issues encompassing a transnational scope and reflecting the growing diversity of policing forms in today s globalized world

Mission Station Christianity Ingie Hovland,2013-08-08 In Mission Station Christianity Ingie Hovland presents an anthropological history of the ideas and practices that evolved among Norwegian missionaries in nineteenth century colonial Natal and Zululand Southern Africa She examines how their mission station spaces influenced their daily Christianity and vice versa drawing on the anthropology of Christianity Words and objects missionary bodies problematic converts and the utopian imagination are discussed as well as how the Zulus made use of and ignored the stations The majority of the Norwegian missionaries had become theological cheerleaders of British colonialism by the 1880s and Ingie Hovland argues that this was made possible by the everyday patterns of Christianity they had set up and become familiar with on the mission stations since the 1850s
