Serious And Unstable Condition Financing Americas Health Care:

Serious and Unstable Condition Henry Aaron, 2010-12-01 The United States spends more on health care than any other nation in the world yet millions of Americans cannot afford basic care for acute illnesses few are insured against the costs of long term care and many frequently used medical procedures have never been fully evaluated The goals of controlling spiraling health care costs and extending insurance coverage or even maintaining current insurance coverage seem to be in conflict But progress can be made on both goals if they are tacked together Henry Aaron evaluates these critical issues and explores how adequate care can be provided without fueling inflation Because the current arrangements for financing America s health care cannot endure Aaron contends that a major national debate on the restructuring of the U S system of financing health care is inescapable and major legislation is likely Serious and Unstable Condition offers a guide that is crucial to understanding the reform debate It explains the important economic issues of health care as a background for evaluating both the current system and proposals for change Aaron compares the U S system of health care financing with certain foreign systems and reviews major options for reform He cautions that unless the health insurance system is radically changed the number of uninsured will continue to increase and costs will continue to escalate He then offers his own comprehensive plan to address these problems Critical Issues in American Health Care Delivery and Financing Policy, 1991

Solving the Health Care Problem Pamela Behan, 2012-02-01 The United States is the only industrialized democracy that allows its citizens to go entirely without health care for lack of funds or to be bankrupted by medical bills Author Pamela Behan was confronted by the effects of this policy failure during her previous career as a nurse and with Solving the Health Care Problem she examines how it can be corrected Behan explores American health care policy failure by looking at how two other similar nations Canada and Australia managed to adopt health care protections and compares their stories with events in the United States Behan's systematic comparison of all three nations shows that the factors responsible for these different results center on the responsiveness of each nation's political institutions to its voters In particular Australia's parliamentary system and labor party and Canada's constitutional flexibility and national provincial dynamics proved central to each nation's adoption of national health insurance In contrast similar efforts in the United States became less frequent and less ambitious after they were repeatedly blocked without even coming to a vote These dissimilarities reveal the institutional and class issues that must be addressed for the United States to successfully confront the health care problem
