Millet Pests of the Sahel M. Matthews, N. D. Jago, 1993 This useful pocket sized booklet uses clear colour coding and pictogram summaries to reinforce the diagnostic descriptions and full colour illustrations of the pests and their characteristic damage Enables researchers and extension specialists to make initial on the spot identifications Millet Pests of the Sahel N. D. Jago, 1993 A companion volume to PSTC5 it collects together up to date information on all factors relating to millet pests An evaluation of pest damage in the context of other production constraints leads to a discussion of safe and effective control methods Insect Pests of Millets A. Kalaisekar, P. G. Padmaja, V. R. Bhagwat, J. V. Patil, 2016-12-23 Insect Pests of Millets Systematics Bionomics and Management focuses on protecting the cultivated cereals that many worldwide populations depend on for food across the semi arid tropics of the world Providing coverage of all the major cultivated millets including sorghum pearl millet finger millet barnyard millet proso millet little millet kodo millet and foxtail millet this comprehensive book on insect pests is the first of its kind that explores systematics bionomics distribution damage host range biology monitoring techniques and management options all accompanied by useful illustrations and color plates By exploring the novel aspects of Insect plant relationships including host signaling orientation host specialization pest host evolutionary relationship and biogeography of insects and host plants the book presents the latest ecologically sound and innovative techniques in insect pest management from a general overview of pest management to new biotechnological interventions Includes the most comprehensive and relevant aspects of insect systematics including synonyms nomenclatural history and identification characters to quickly guide readers to desired information Addresses aspects of insect plant relationships including host signaling and orientation host specialization pest host evolutionary relationship and biogeography of insects and host plant Presents the latest research findings related to the ecological behavioral and physiological aspects of millet pests Panicle Insect Pests of Sorghum and Pearl Millet Kanayo F. Nwanze, Ousmane Youm, 1995 Proceedings of the International Consultative Workshop on Panicle Insect Pests of Sorghum and Pearl Millet

Sustainable Intensification Jules N. Pretty, Stella Williams, Camilla Toulmin, 2012-06-25 Continued population growth rapidly changing consumption patterns and the impacts of climate change and environmental degradation are driving limited resources of food energy water and materials towards critical thresholds worldwide These pressures are likely to be substantial across Africa where countries will have to find innovative ways to boost crop and livestock production to avoid becoming more reliant on imports and food aid Sustainable agricultural intensification producing more output from the same area of land while reducing the negative environmental impacts represents a solution for millions of African farmers This volume presents the lessons learned from 40 sustainable agricultural intensification programmes in 20 countries across Africa commissioned as part of the UK Government's Foresight project Through detailed case studies the authors of each chapter examine how to develop productive and sustainable agricultural systems and how to scale up these systems to reach many more millions of people in the future Themes covered include crop improvements agroforestry and soil conservation conservation agriculture integrated pest management horticulture livestock and fodder crops aquaculture and novel policies and partnerships Federal Register, 1977-08 The Agricultural Sky K. R. Krishna, 2023-06-02 The agricultural sky is a dominant natural entity that has influenced interacted with and guided the evolution of crops farming practices and cropping systems The sky and all its components above and near agricultural areas is an important aspect of an agricultural enterprise as important as soils water and crop species The blue sky above crops that is seemingly clear tranquil or sometimes filled with clouds is really a repository of a large number of gases mineral or organic particulate matter dust mist turbulent wind innumerable species of micro organisms tiny biotic flora fauna seeds insects etc The agrarian sky supports complex interactions of biotic and abiotic aspects with perhaps immediate and or delayed influence on crops sown on the ground This volume helps us to better understand the importance of the sky above crop fields with the goal to encourage revolutionary agronomic procedures that lead to higher yield It is a comprehensive treatise on the agriculture sky covering basic definitions limits and explanations about atmospheric layers like troposphere stratosphere and the phyllosphere The volume addresses the nutrient dynamics in the sky and their relevance to crop productivity It looks at both natural biotic and manmade abiotic factors in the sky and how they affect what goes on below such as from dust storms at cloudy and or windy locations and from high altitude jet streams The author discusses wind and solar power generation in the agrarian sky and explores aeroponics to revolutionize crop production The volume delves into several types of aerial robots employing AI and other technology to provide aerial spectral data that are capable of analyzing procedures soil conditions irrigation insect pests weed detection herbicide application soil fertility and much more The book includes examples from the North American Great Plains Pampas of Argentina Sahelian production zones of West Africa Indo Gangetic Plains etc This eye opening book The Agricultural Sky A Concept to Revolutionize Farming will be useful to students and professors in universities as well as to researchers in industry dealing with aerial aspects of farming Biological Control in IPM Systems in Africa P. Neuenschwander, C. Borgemeister, J. Langewald, 2003 Annotation Biological control has made a major contribution to integrated pest management IPM in Africa but its documentation has been scattered and often under reported This book provides a review of the most important studies including not only successes but also on going challenges The focus is on arthropod pests and weeds but diseases are also covered where significant In 24 chapters case studies and promising research results are presented that cover biocontrol by naturally occurring agents by exotic agents or by seasonal manipulation This book provides a valuable resource for scientists worldwide It is particularly useful for pest control professionals working in Africa Integrated Pest Management in the Global Arena Karim M. Maredia, D. Dakouo, D. Mota-Sanchez, 2003-01-01 This book presents experiences and successful case studies of integrated pest management IPM from developed and developing countries and from major international centres and programmes It contains 39 chapters by many contributors addressing themes such as emerging issues in IPM including biotechnology pesticide policies and socioeconomic considerations 8 chapters country experiences from Africa Asia North and South America Europe Australia and New Zealand 20 chapters and regional and international experiences including those of FAO USAID ICIPE CIRAD the World Bank and CGIAR Systemwide IPM Program 9 chapters This book will be of significant interest to those working in the areas of crop protection entomology and pest management Insect Resistance Management David W. Onstad, Lisa M. Knolhoff, 2022-10-19 The third edition of Insect Resistance Management Biology Economics and Prediction expands coverage by including three new chapters on African agriculture genetic control of pests and fitness costs of resistance All remaining chapters have been updated to cover key scientific findings published since 2013 The coauthors have expertise in evolutionary biology ecology economics epizootiology statistics modeling IPM and genetics The original themes demonstrating the importance of economics IPM pest behavior and the behavior of humans implementing insect resistance management IRM are still relevant Entomologists and others developing experiments models regulations or public policy will benefit from this book that avoids reliance on dogma by analyzing and synthesizing knowledge about a wide variety of species landscapes and stakeholder problems Provides insights from the history of IRM to the latest science Includes contributions from experts on ecological aspects of IRM molecular and population genetics economics and IRM social issues Encourages scientists and stakeholders to implement and coordinate strategies based on local and species specific conditions

Integrated Pest Management in Diverse Cropping Systems Devendra Pal Singh, 2023-02-01 Climate change has intensified in recent decades which has affected crop production as well as facilitated the emergence of new diseases and insect pests causing serious threats to agriculture Farmers have mostly taken a crop based approach to insect pest management IPM the authors of this new volume however take the unique approach that IPM based on specific cropping systems is more efficient resulting in reduced cultivation costs increased yield and profitability and decreased residue from crop produce and products This volume presents the results of research done by crop protection scientists on integrated pest management in diverse cropping systems based on rice wheat maize pulses food legumes oilseeds groundnut potato and other horticulture crops With chapters written by well known and experienced scientists in their fields this volume provides in depth knowledge on integrated pest management in conjunction with an array of specific cropping systems taking into consideration all the elements including the crops crop sequences spatial and temporal aspects of managing an agricultural system and other aspects This volume will be valuable for entomologists plant pathologists and agronomists as well as for farmers both small and industrial sized agricultural extension centers faculty and students and many others involved with crop cultivation Breeding for Durable Disease and Pest Resistance , 1984-01-01 Ecotoxicology Peter T. Haskell, Peter McEwen, 2012-12-06 Following the original initiative of the International Organisation for Biological Control some 15 years ago research groups and agrochemical companies have been investigating the effects of pesticides on beneficial organisms devising laboratory and field test methods and lately developing protocols for regulatory testing requirements in Europe This work and the application of agreed protocols for testing is of crucial importance to the environmentally acceptable use of pesticides and to the further development of Integrated Pest Management systems and the objective of this book is to review the origins and progress of the research what has been accomplished what is the current position and what still needs to be done Sorghum and Millets Diseases John F. Leslie, 2008-06-02 This work is based on the Mexico 2000 meeting under the auspices of ICRISAT International Crops Research Institute for Semi Arid Tropics and INTSORMIL International Sorghum and Millet Collaborative Research Support Program Sorghum and millet are very important agronomic crops in many parts of the world specifically in the semi arid regions in warm areas The crops are of great significance in supplying food and feed in the developing areas of Latin America Africa and Asia Breeding Insect Resistant Crops for Sustainable Agriculture Ramesh Arora, Surinder Sandhu, 2017-10-16 This book reviews and synthesizes the recent advances in exploiting host plant resistance to insects highlighting the role of molecular techniques in breeding insect resistant crops It also provides an overview of the fascinating field of insect plant relationships which is fundamental to the study of host plant resistance to insects Further it discusses the conventional and molecular techniques utilized useful in breeding for resistance to insect pests including back cross breeding modified population improvement methods for insect resistance marker assisted backcrossing to expedite the breeding process identification and validation of new insect resistance genes and their potential for utilization genomics metabolomics transgenesis and RNAi Lastly it analyzes the successes limitations and prospects for the development of insect resistant cultivars of rice maize sorghum and millet cotton rapeseed legumes and fruit crops and highlights strategies for management of insect biotypes that limit the success and durability of insect resistant cultivators in the field Arthropod pests act as major constraints in the agro ecosystem It has been estimated that arthropod pests may be destroying around one fifth of the global agricultural production potential production every year Further the losses are considerably higher in the developing tropics of Asia and Africa which are already battling severe food shortage Integrated pest management IPM has emerged as the dominant paradigm for minimizing damage by the insects and non insect pests over the last 50 years Pest resistant cultivars represent one of the most environmentally benign economically viable and ecologically sustainable options for utilization in IPM programs Hundreds of insect resistant cultivars of rice wheat maize sorghum cotton sugarcane and other crops have been developed worldwide and are extensively grown for increasing and or stabilizing crop productivity The annual economic value of arthropod resistance genes developed in global agriculture has been estimated to be greater than US 2 billion Despite the impressive achievements and even greater potential in minimizing pest related losses only a handful of books have been published on the topic of host plant resistance to insects This book fills this wide gap in the literature on breeding insect resistant crops It is aimed at plant breeders entomologists plant biotechnologists and IPM experts as well as those working on sustainable agriculture and food security Coniesta
