On Anthropological Knowledge Three Essays:

On Anthropological Knowledge Dan Sperber, 1985 Mental Culture Dimitris Xygalatas, William McCorkle, 2016-04-01 Why is the set of human beliefs and behaviours that we call religion such a widespread feature of all known human societies past and present and why are there so many forms of religiosity found throughout history and culture Mental Culture brings together an international range of scholars from Anthropology History Psychology Philosophy and Religious Studies to answer these questions Connecting classical theories and approaches with the newly established field of the Cognitive Science of Religion the aim of Mental Culture is to provide scholars and students of religion with an overview of contemporary scientific approaches to religion while tracing their intellectual development to some of the great thinkers of the past Semiotics and Communication Wendy Leeds-Hurwitz, 1993-08-01 Communication is among other things about the study of meaning how people convey ideas for themselves and to one another in their daily lives Designed to close the gap between what we are able to do as social actors and what we are able to describe as social analysts this book introduces the language of semiotics a language that provides Culture in Mind Bradd Shore, 1998-10-29 Despite the recognized importance of cultural diversity in understanding the modern world the emerging science of cognitive psychology has relied far more on experimental psychology neurobiology and computer science than on cultural anthropology for its models of how we think In this exciting new book anthropologist Bradd Shore has created the first study linking multi culturalism to cognitive psychology exploring the complex relationship between culture in public institutions and in mental representations In so doing he answers in a completely new way the age old question of whether humans are basically the same psychologically independent of cultures or basically diverse because of cultural differences The first half of the book emphasizes cultural models from Australian Aboriginal rituals and Samoan comedy skits to more familiar terrain including a study of baseball as a cultural model for Americans Along the way the author sheds new and novel light on many familiar institutions from educational curricula and shopping malls to modular furniture and cyberpunk fiction These observations are then linked to theoretical developments in linguistics semiotics and neuroscience creating a bold new approach to understanding the role of culture in everyday meaning making The author argues that culture must be considered an intrinsic component of the human mind to a degree that most psychologists and even many anthropologists have not recognized This new position of cultural models will make absorbing reading for psychologists anthropologists linguists and philosophers and to anyone interested in the issues of cultural diversity multiculturalism or cognitive science in general

Making Sense of Public Opinion Claudia Strauss, 2012-10-15 Questions about immigration and social welfare programs raise the central issues of who belongs to a society and what its members deserve Yet the opinions of the American public about these important issues seem contradictory and confused Claudia Strauss explains why public opinion on these issues and many others is formed not from liberal or conservative ideologies but from diverse vernacular discourses that may not fit standard ideologies but are easy to remember and repeat Drawing on interviews with people from various backgrounds Strauss identifies and describes 59 conventional discourses about immigration and social welfare and demonstrates how we acquire conventional discourses from our opinion communities Making Sense of Public Opinion American Discourses about Immigration and Social Programs explains what conventional discourses are how to study them and why they are fundamental elements of public opinion and political culture Whalsay Anthony P. Cohen,1989 Evil Spirits and Rocket Debris Ludek Broz,2024-02-02 The Altai Republic in southern Siberia is renowned for excavations of frozen mummies from high altitude burial sites Less well known is the fact that it hosts fallout zones for the second stages of rockets launched from the Baikonur cosmodrome Local inhabitants blame evil spirits released by archaeological work and toxic fuel from rocket debris for their misfortunes This book explores the divergent fates of such claims when confronted with state fostered rationalisms of science and governance The Unexplained Intellect Christopher Mole,2016-02-22 The relationship between intelligent systems and their environment is at the forefront of research in cognitive science The Unexplained Intellect Complexity Time and the Metaphysics of Embodied Thought shows how computational complexity theory and analytic metaphysics can together illuminate long standing questions about the importance of that relationship It argues that the most basic facts about a mind cannot just be facts about mental states but must include facts about the dynamic interactive mental occurrences that take place when a creature encounters its environment In a discussion that is organised into four clear parts Christopher Mole begins by examining the mathematics of computational complexity arguing that the results from complexity theory create a puzzle about how human intelligence could possibly be explained Mole then uses the tools of analytic metaphysics to draw a distinction between mental states and dynamic mental entities and shows that in order to answer the complexity theoretic puzzle dynamic entities must be understood to be among the most basic of mental phenomena The picture of the mind that emerges has important implications for our understanding of intelligence of action and of the mind s relationship to the passage of time The Unexplained Intellect is the first book to bring insights from the mathematics of computational complexity to bear in an enquiry into the metaphysics of the mind It will be essential reading for scholars and researchers in the philosophy of mind and psychology for cognitive scientists and for those interested in the philosophical importance of complexity Unrelated Kin Gwendolyn Etter-Lewis,Michèle Foster,1996 This groundbreaking book presents conceptual theoretical and applied research on women s life histories The authors fulfill two needs they provide a collection of essays that grapple with controversial issues in the study of life history and they present many narratives from women of color the majority collected and interpreted by women of color The individual chapters offer a variety of voices linked by a philosophical and political orientation that places women of color at the center of scholarly inquiry rather than at the periphery Ultimately readers find in this text innovative ways of reconceptualizing the complexities of women s lives Claude Lévi-Strauss Christopher Johnson,2003-02-27 L vi Strauss is one of the major intellectual figures of the twentieth century His theory of structuralism has been influential not only in anthropology but across the entire field of the humanities and social sciences This book looks at the formative period of his career from the 1940s to the early 1960s where he attempts to define both his own place in anthropology and the place of anthropology in the wider context of the human sciences in France Through a close reading of key texts Christopher Johnson provides an introduction to key aspects of L vi Strauss thought at the same time posing more general questions concerning the construction of theory and the different modes of conceptualization that inform theory Johnson looks at the ideological and autobiographical dimensions of L vi Strauss work and demonstrates how the impact of structuralism as an intellectual movement has clearly been greater than the sum of its theoretical parts

One Discipline, Four Ways Fredrik Barth, Andre Gingrich, Robert Parkin, Sydel Silverman, 2010-03-17 One Discipline Four Ways offers the first book length introduction to the history of each of the four major traditions in anthropology British German French and American The result of lectures given by distinguished anthropologists Fredrik Barth Andre Gingrich Robert Parkin and Sydel Silverman to mark the foundation of the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology this volume not only traces the development of each tradition but considers their impact on one another and assesses their future potentials Moving from E B Taylor all the way through the development of modern fieldwork Barth reveals the repressive tendencies that prevented Britain from developing a variety of anthropological practices until the late 1960s Gingrich meanwhile articulates the development of German anthropology paying particular attention to the Nazi period of which surprisingly little analysis has been offered until now Parkin then assesses the French tradition and in particular its separation of theory and ethnographic practice Finally Silverman traces the formative influence of Franz Boas the expansion of the discipline after World War II and the fault lines and promises of contemporary anthropology in the United States

Simplifying Complexity George E. Yoos, 2015-01-01 Simplifying complexity explores how to eliminate ignorance which in the view of the author is the purpose of the sciences and technologies and their consequent developments More specifically the book deals with the plurality of the sciences and technologies It is about the way in which each of them develops around the prosthetics of printed languages and the models used as visual aids to help us create new modes of communication to understand and solve human problems Consequently the task is to simplify the complexity that we find in different sciences both social and physical In his collection of essays George E Yoos surveys a number of different models that have evolved from the innate biological forms of grammar logic and modes of orientation He investigates the evolution of socially constructed systems of numeracy and measurement that have evolved and developed in different languages for the use in scientific and technological communication He identifies methods derived from three distinct personal experiences the use of types of prosthetic mnemonic and attention controlling devices in order to yield simpler perspectives of complex states of affairs George E Yoos emeritus professor is a legend in the field of rhetoric Founder and editor of the Rhetoric Society Quarterly 1972 1985 author of Reframing Rhetoric 2007 Politics and

Rhetoric 2009 and fellow of the Rhetoric Society of America Living Shi'ism David Thurfjell, 2019-08-26 This book is about Iranian Islamism on grass roots level It provides a vivid near life portrait of young activist men who uphold this movement through their zealous support of revolutionary ideals and the present regime It is based on interviews with a group of volunteers in the Iranian home guard movement known as basij during a period of four years By focusing on beliefs and rituals of individual persons it gives a unique picture of the shifting motifs behind Islamist engagement in today's Iran The book contextualises the interviewed individuals within the wider framework of Iranian society and relates their stories to a discussion on ritual emotion embodiment and authority It is of interest to anyone who seeks to understand the multifaceted driving forces behind Shi'ite Islamism today Scientists and Storytellers Catherine Jane Lavender, 2006 The work of four early women ethnographers Elsie Clews Parsons Ruth Benedict Gladys Reichard and Ruth Underhill and their emphases on women's roles in Southwestern Indian cultures The Neo-primitivist Turn Victor Li, 2006-01-01 In recent years the concept of the primitive has been the subject of strong criticism it has been examined unpacked and shown to signify little more than a construction or projection necessary for establishing the modernity of the West The term primitive continues however to appear in contemporary critical and cultural discourse begging the question Why does primitivism keep reappearing even after it has been uncovered as a modern myth In The Neo-primitivist Turn Victor Li argues that this contentious term was never completely banished and that it has in fact reappeared under new theoretical guises An idealized conception of the primitive he contends has come to function as the ultimate sign of alterity Li focuses on the works of theorists like Jean Baudrillard Jean-François Lyotard Marianna Torgovnick Marshall Sahlins and Jürgen Habermas in order to demonstrate that primitivism continues to be a powerful presence even in those works normally regarded as critical of the concept Providing close readings of the ways in which the premodern or primitive is strategically deployed in contemporary critical writings Li's interdisciplinary study is a timely and forceful intervention into current debates on the politics and ethics of otherness the problems of cultural relativism and the vicissitudes of modernity Western Perspectives on Chinese Higher Education Xiuwu R. Liu, 1996 This book argues that constructivism and realism two prominent theories of scholarly inquiry in a variety of fields both have their strengths and weaknesses as descriptive models of how research is conducted and written up and as normative models for improving inquiry Logical Skills Julie Brumberg-Chaumont, Claude Rosental, 2021-03-30 This contributed volume explores the ways logical skills have been perceived over the course of history The authors approach the topic from the lenses of philosophy anthropology sociology and history to examine two opposing perceptions of logic the first as an innate human ability and the second as a skill that can be learned and mastered Chapters focus on the social and political dynamics of the use of logic throughout history utilizing case studies and critical analyses Specific topics covered include the rise of logical skills problems concerning medieval notions of idiocy and rationality decolonizing natural logic natural logic and the course of time Logical Skills: Social Historical Perspectives will appeal to undergraduate and graduate students as well as researchers in the fields of history sociology philosophy and logic Psychology and colonial studies scholars will also find this volume to be of particular interest From Utterances to Speech Acts Mikhail Kissine,2013-03-14 Most of the time our utterances are automatically interpreted as speech acts as assertions conjectures and testimonies as orders requests and pleas as threats offers and promises Surprisingly the cognitive correlates of this essential component of human communication have received little attention This book fills the gap by providing a model of the psychological processes involved in interpreting and understanding speech acts The theory is framed in naturalistic terms and is supported by data on language development and on autism spectrum disorders Mikhail Kissine does not presuppose any specific background and addresses a crucial pragmatic phenomenon from an interdisciplinary perspective This is a valuable resource for academic researchers and graduate and undergraduate students in pragmatics semantics cognitive linguistics psycholinguistics and philosophy of language Harnessing Fortune Rebecca M. Empson,2011-04-14 This is the first detailed ethnography of rural Mongolian life since the collapse of the Soviet Union Based on fieldwork with migrant herding families who traverse the Northern Mongolian Russian border the volume explores how intimate social relationships and identities are drawn upon to engage with new political and economic uncertainties Loon Henry S. Sharp,2004-01-01 In an unforgettable journey through the symbolic universe and daily life of the Chipewyan of Mission his work uses the context and meaning of the loon encounter to show how spirits are an actual and almost omnipresent aspect of life
