The Consolations of History: Themes of Progress and Potential in Richard Wagner's Götterdämmerung
Alexander Shapiro, 2019-10-16 In this book on Richard Wagner's compelling but enigmatic masterpiece Götterdämmerung the final opera of his monumental Ring tetralogy Alexander H Shapiro advances an ambitious new interpretation which uncovers intriguing new facets to the work's profound insights into the human condition By taking a fresh look at the philosophical and historical influences on Wagner and critically reevaluating the composer's intellectual worldview as revealed in his own prose works letters and diary entries the book challenges a number of conventional views that continue to impede a clear understanding of this work's meaning The book argues that Götterdämmerung and hence the Ring as a whole achieves coherence when interpreted in terms of contemporary nineteenth century theories of progress and in particular G W F Hegel's philosophies of mind and history A central target of the book is the article of faith that has come to dominate Wagner scholarship over the years that Wagner's encounter in 1854 with Arthur Schopenhauer's philosophy conclusively altered the final message of the Ring from one of historical optimism to existential pessimism The author contends that Schopenhauer's uncompromising denigration of the will and denial of the possibility for human progress find no place in the written text of the Ring or in a plausible reading of the final musical setting In its place the author discovers in the famous Immolation Scene a celebration of mankind's inexhaustible capacity for self improvement and progress The author makes the further compelling case that this message of progress is communicated not through Siegfried the traditional male hero of the drama but through Brunnhilde the warrior goddess who becomes a mortal woman In her role as a battle tested world historical prophet she is the true revolutionary change agent of Wagner's opera who has the strength and vision to comprehend and thereby shape human history This highly lucid and accessible study is aimed not only at scholars and researchers in the fields of opera studies music and philosophy and music history but also Wagner enthusiasts and readers and students interested in British Musical Modernism Philip Rupprecht, 2015-07-09. British Musical Modernism explores the works of eleven key composers to reveal the rapid shifts of expression and technique that transformed British art music in the post war period. Responding to radical avant garde developments in post war Europe, the Manchester Group composers Alexander Goehr, Peter Maxwell Davies and Harrison Birtwistle and their contemporaries assimilated the serial structuralist preoccupations of mid century internationalism to an art grounded in resurgent local traditions. In close readings of some thirty five scores, Philip Rupprecht traces a modernism suffused with the formal elegance of the 1950s, the exuberant theatricality of the 1960s and in the works of David Bedford and Tim Souster the pop minimalist and live electronic directions of the early 1970s. Setting music analytic insights against a broader social historical backdrop, Rupprecht traces a British musical modernism that was at once a collective artistic endeavor and a sounding myth of national identity.
