Real Men Or Real Teachers:

Real Men Or Real Teachers? Paul Sargent, 2001      Between Teaching and Caring in the Preschool John C. Pruitt, 2020-07-06 In Between Teaching and Caring in the Preschool John C. Pruitt argues that preschool teaching is more than a set of roles and duties tied to institutional expectations. Drawing on two years of ethnographic fieldwork, twenty-three interviews, and countless conversations with preschool teachers and analysis of preschool documents, Pruitt opens the black box of the preschool to show the complexity of the preschool teacher identity as it unfolds in everyday practices of teaching and caring. His analysis of preschool teachers' talk and interaction addresses pertinent sociological and early childhood education themes including classroom management, social control, emotions, and identity construction. He demonstrates there is more going on in the preschool than teaching young children and caring for them. Through practices of classroom management and teaching language, preschool teachers socialize children into education contexts and exert social control in and through teaching practices. By managing emotions, preschool teachers also manage impressions of themselves and the preschool. He also shows how preschool teachers use resources like Montessori pedagogy and their lived experience to construct authenticity. Pruitt concludes that institutions such as ECE shape identities within and away from the institution.

Men on a Mission William Marsiglio, 2008-05-30 The first comprehensive study of men who work and volunteer with kids in a variety of public settings, this book brings to life diverse histories and experiences of men who have worked as coaches, teachers, youth ministers, probation officers, Big Brothers Boys Girls Club staff, 4-H agents, and the like. Drawing on in-depth interviews with men between the ages of 19 and 65, ethnographic observations, and more than twenty years of research on fathers, sociologist Marsiglio explores men's motives for doing youth work, effective interpersonal strategies, the perception and expression of mentoring, the mutual influences that youth work and fathering have on each other, the youth workers' own personal development, and the impact of social policy and programmatic initiatives. He offers a forward-looking vision for getting men more involved and involved more productively in helping kids thrive. From publisher description      Gender, Race, and Class in the Lives of Today's Teachers Lata Murti, Glenda M. Flores, 2021-09-21 This volume explores the professional experiences of a vast array of educators through a series of research essays that focus on the interplay of gender, race, class, and sexualities, as well as how these dynamics influence the educators' teaching. The volume illuminates this interplay not only in traditional classroom settings but also in non-traditional contexts such as prisons and juvenile detention facilities, family education, dual language immersion programs, early childhood education, and higher education, including teacher training programs. The concluding chapter, written by the editors, provides general recommendations for recruiting and retaining a more diverse teacher workforce worldwide. From autoethnographies to pláticas, testimonios, and in-depth interviews, this qualitatively rich volume offers powerful and timely insights about the experiences of teachers who are too often overlooked. Gilda L. Ochoa, Professor of Chicana o Latina o Studies. This illuminating book centers educators intersectional subjectivities and lived experiences bringing to life the radical possibilities of transformative education It is a much needed resource for anyone invested in understanding and advancing education as a catalyst for equity and social justice Lorena Garcia Associate Professor of Sociology Latin American and Latino Studies

Intersectionality of Race, Ethnicity, Class, and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education Norvella P. Carter, Michael Vavrus, 2018-04-16 In Intersectionality of Race Ethnicity Class and Gender in Teaching and Teacher Education the editors bring together scholarship that employs an intersectionality approach to conditions that affect public school children teachers and teacher educators Chapter authors use intersectionality to examine group identities not only for their differences and experiences of oppression but also for differences within groups that contribute to conflicts among groups This collection moves beyond single dimension conceptions that undermines legal thinking disciplinary knowledge and social justice Intersectionality in this collection helps complicate static notions of race ethnicity class and gender in education Hence this book stands as an addition to research on educational equity in relation to institutional systems of power and privilege

How is a Man Supposed to be a Man? Robin A Hadley, 2021-09-17 The global trend of declining fertility rates and an increasingly ageing population has serious implications for individuals and institutions alike Childless men are mostly excluded from ageing social science and reproduction scholarship and almost completely absent from most national statistics This unique book examines the lived experiences of a hidden and disenfranchised population men who wanted to be fathers It explores the complex intersections that influence childlessness over the life course Radical Interactionism and Critiques of Contemporary Culture Norman K.

Denzin, 2021-04-30 Norman K Denzin has gathered a team of leading experts to explore and showcase a variety of topics in the field of symbolic interaction. Some of the topics explored include extending dramaturgical and grounded theory and new empirical and theoretical inquiries into fashion, journalism, stigma, police, body work, autobiography, and gender studies.

Mapping the Field Jane Martin, Marion Bowl, Gemma Banks, 2023-10-04 From its origins in the University of Birmingham's then Institute of Education in 1948, Educational Review has emerged as a leading international journal for generic educational research. Seventy-five years on, Mapping the Field presents a detailed account of education theory and research policy and practice through the lens of key articles published in the journal over this timespan. Volume II opens with Part I, a collection of articles examining teachers' job dissatisfaction and stress and the gendered composition of the teaching workforce. Articles in Part II trace a shift in academic focus from schools seen as families to communities to the parent-school relationship. The concepts of inclusion and equality and strategies for their fulfilment in education are interrogated in Part III. The volume concludes with Part IV, in which diverse identities in the education field are represented. Curated and introduced by the editors, the articles included in both volumes of Mapping the Field represent a careful selection from the work of scholars whose ideas have been and continue to be influential in the field of education. Overall, this major text covers a wide range of topics and offers original insights into educational policy, provision, processes, and practice from around the world.
