Roman Technology and Crafts Miranda Jane Aldhouse-Green,1982
Green,1979 Roman Technology and Crafts Miranda J. Green,1981 Roman Technology and Crafts Miranda Andrew N. Sherwood,Milo Nikolic,John W. Humphrey,John P. Oleson,2003-10-04 In this volume the authors translate and annotate key passages from ancient authors to provide a history and an analysis of the origins and development of technology Among the topics covered are energy basic mechanical devices agriculture food processing and diet mining and metallurgy construction and hydraulic engineering household industry transport and trade military technology The sourcebook presents 150 ancient authors and a diverse range of literary genres such as the encyclopedic Natural Histories of Pliny the Elder the poetry of Homer and Hesiod the philosophy of Plato Aristotle and Lucretius and the agricultural treatise of Varro Humphrey Oleson and Sherwood provide a comprehensive and accessible collection of rich and varied sources to illustrate and elucidate the beginnings of technology Glossaries of technological terminology indices of authors and subjects introductions outlining the general significance of the evidence notes to explain the specific details and a recent bibliography make this volume a valuable research and teaching tool The Oxford Handbook of Engineering and Technology in the Classical World John Peter Oleson,2008-01-31 Nearly every aspect of daily life in the Mediterranean world and Europe during the florescence of the Greek and Roman cultures is relevant to the topics of engineering and technology This volume highlights both the accomplishments of the ancient societies and the remaining research problems and stimulates further progress in the history of ancient technology The subject matter of the book is the technological framework of the Greek and Roman cultures from ca 800 B C through ca A D 500 in the circum Mediterranean world and Northern Europe Each chapter discusses a technology or family of technologies from an analytical rather than descriptive point of view providing a critical summation of our present knowledge of the Greek and Roman accomplishments in the technology concerned and the evolution of their technical capabilities over the chronological period Each presentation reviews the issues and recent contributions and defines the capacities and accomplishments of the technology in the context of the society that used it the available technological shelf and the resources consumed These studies introduce and synthesize the results of excavation or specialized studies The chapters are organized in sections progressing from sources written and representational to primary e g mining metallurgy agriculture and secondary e g woodworking glass production food preparation textile production and leather working production to technologies of social organization and interaction e g roads bridges ships harbors warfare and fortification and finally to studies of general social issues e g writing timekeeping measurement scientific instruments attitudes toward technology and innovation and the relevance of ethnographic methods to the study of classical technology The unrivalled breadth and depth of this volume make it the definitive reference work for students and academics across the spectrum of classical studies International Symposium on History of Machines and Mechanisms Hong-Sen Yan,Marco

Sherwood, Milorad Nikolic, John W. Humphrey, John P. Oleson, 2019-10-23 In this new edition of Greek and Roman Technology the authors translate and annotate key passages from ancient texts to provide a history and analysis of the origins and development of technology in the classical world Sherwood and Nikolic with Humphrey and Oleson provide a comprehensive and accessible collection of rich and varied sources to illustrate and elucidate the beginnings of technology Among the topics covered are energy basic mechanical devices hydraulic engineering household industry medicine and health transport and trade and military technology This fully revised Sourcebook collects more than 1 300 passages from over 200 ancient sources and a diverse range of literary genres such as the encyclopaedic Natural History of Pliny the Elder the poetry of Homer and Hesiod the philosophies of Plato Aristotle and Lucretius the agricultural treatises of Varro Columella and Cato the military texts of Philo of Byzantium and Aeneas Tacticus as well as the medical texts of Galen Celsus and the Hippocratic Corpus Almost 100 line drawings indexes of authors and subjects introductions outlining the general significance of the evidence notes to explain the specific details and current bibliographies are included This new and revised edition of Greek and Roman Technology will remain an important and vital resource for students of technology in the ancient world as well as those studying the impact of technological change on classical society Doing Museology Differently Duncan

Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation Technological Development,

Society And State: Western And Chinese Civilizations In Comparison - Proceedings Of The Joint Conference Welf Heinrich Schnell, Wolfgang Radtke, Hans Poser, W König, 1991-10-16 This is a collection of essays focused on problems concerning the philosophy of technology the concept of nature the relationships between policy and economic development on the one hand and technological development on the other hand with respect to philosophical principles historical and cultural background both in Western and Chinese Civilization Technology in Transition A.D. 300-650 Luke Lavan, Enrico Zanini, Alexander Sarantis, 2008-03-31 This book is the first general work to be published on technology in Late Antiquity It seeks to survey aspects of the technology of the period and to respond to questions about technological continuity stagnation and decline The book opens with a comprehensive bibliographic essay that provides an overview of relevant literature The main section then explores technologies in agriculture production metal ceramics and glass engineering and building Papers draw on both archaeological and textual sources and on analogies with medieval and early modern technologies Reference is made not only to the periods which preceded it but to the transition to the Early Middle Ages and to the technological heritage of Late Antiquity to the Islamic world Several papers focus on Italy whilst others consider North Africa Asia Minor and the Near East

The Concept of Work Herbert Applebaum, 1992-09-30 This book presents an analysis and review of work starting with the Homeric period then dealing with classical Greece and classical Rome the early Christians and Jews the early Middle Ages the era of Charlemagne the high Middle Ages the views of Luther and Calvin the English and French Enlightenment the nineteenth century the twentieth century and prospects for the future of work It offers a rich and varied tapestry on the complexity of values regarding work criss crossing through crafts occupations and professions through slave and free born employments through lay and religious figures and through rural and urban contexts The permutations of work and its meanings are traced and related to the social and cultural contexts of each period of history dealt with ancient medieval and modern Applebaum offers projections for work in the future based on modern day technologies along with work within the context of new social conditions created by industrial cultures in the modern period The future of work is examined as one of the key elements for the possibility of change in the social structure of industrial cultures At a time when so many people are questioning the work ethic this book provides a valuable perspective on work in past societies how it has developed and been transformed and what are its prospects for the future Mobile Technologies in the Ancient Sahara and Beyond C.
