Romance Two Lectures:

Romance: Two Lectures Walter Alexander Raleigh (Sir),2006 Romance Walter Raleigh,2015-07-18 Excerpt from Romance Two Lectures The period of English political history which falls between Pitt's acceptance of office as prime minister in 1783 and the passing of the Reform Bill in 1832 is a period rich in character and event The same period of fifty years is one of the most crowded epochs of our national literature In 1783 William Blake produced his Poetical Sketches and George Crabbe published The Village In 1832 Scott died not many months after the death of Goethe Between these two dates a great company of English writers produced a literature of immense bulk and of almost endless diversity of character Yet one dominant strain in that literature has commonly been allowed to give a name to the whole period and it is often called the Age of the Romantic Revival We do not name other notable periods of our literature in this fashion About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
