Critical Theories, Radical Pedagogies, and Global Conflicts Gustavo Fischman, 2005 We are living in a time of resurgent global conflicts and imperialistic tensions a time in which many children are being left behind by school systems that appear more concerned with developing accountability schemes and standardized models of testing than with defending the right of every child to have access to a good education The efforts of countless teachers activists and families working and living in poor areas around the world are labeled as failures entirely discredited on the basis of their expendability in relation to capital gains or simply ignored In response to these oppressive and challenging conditions this book s contributors a group of committed educators and activists working in an ethos of solidarity across geopolitical and geographical borders have advanced arguments and strategies that link educational transformation to the larger struggle to transform oppressive social relations In a clear attempt to move beyond both nostalgia and romanticism Critical Theories Radical Pedagogies and Global Conflicts draws from a range of viewpoints conceptual and thematic transnational and crosscultural First World and Third World to articulate new directions for teachers and activists working to demonstrate that another education and indeed another world is possible

Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory Mike Cole, Dave Hill, Peter McLaren, 2002-12-11 Postmodernism has become the orthodoxy in educational theory It heralds the end of grand theories like Marxism and liberalism scorning any notion of a united feminist challenge to patriarchy of united anti racist struggle and of united working class movements against capitalist exploitation and oppression For postmodernists the world is fragmented history is ended and all struggles are local and particularistic Written by internationally renowned British and American educational theorists Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory a substantially revised edition of the original 1999 work Postmodernism in Educational Theory critically examines the infusion of postmodernism and theories of postmodernity into educational theory policy and research The writers argue that postmodernism provides neither a viable educational politics nor the foundation for effective radical educational practice and offer an alternative politics of human resistance which puts the challenge to capitalism firmly on the agenda of educational engaging text explores discourses involved in the teaching of literacy which can be conceptualised as deriving from the political left The concept of a left and a right in politics are fully defined and a unique analytical framework is introduced to examine and categorise perspectives for teaching literacy The book creates a language of critique for methods advocated from liberal left leaning sources within the field of education and connects them to left political agendas that aspire to either reform or revolution to change and improve society These left approaches are then contrasted with politically right agendas Methods for the teaching of literacy have for many years been seen to be politically motivated by commentators on the left and the right of politics This book considers the ideological sources of educational practice in literacy Methods advocated from more liberal perspective are rarely critiqued and examined for their ideological and political roots

Life for the Academic in the Neoliberal University Alpesh Maisuria, Svenja Helmes, 2019-10-08 Life for the Academic in the Neoliberal University investigates the impact of neoliberalism on academics in today's universities. Considering the experiences of early career researchers as well as more experienced academics, it outlines the changing nature of working life in the university precipitated by the reality of deprofessionalisation, worsening conditions of employment and general precarious existence. The book traces the dramatic shift in the role and function of universities and academics over the last forty years. It considers how capitalist neoliberalism drives universities to operate like businesses in a cut-throat financialised education market place. Uniquely, the book then provides a possible alternative in the form of the National Education Service (NES) and what this alternative system could look like. Thought provoking and relevant, this book will be of use to postgraduate students as well as new emerging and established academics interested in the current state of higher education, academic life and possibilities for the future.

The Destructive Path of Neoliberalism, 2008-01-01 The Destructive Path of Neoliberalism: An International Examination, a compilation of twelve essays by leading scholars and educators, sheds light on the social, political, economic and historical forces behind the rise of neoliberalism, the dominant ideological doctrine impacting developments in schools and other social contexts across the globe for over thirty years. Several authors provide rich empirical data from schools across the globe to capture how neoliberal imperatives, discourses and practices are impacting teachers, students and communities at today's historical juncture. Finally, several contributors have developed pedagogical initiatives, suggest policy considerations and convey theoretical insights designed to assist us in the struggle against the corporatization of schooling and social life.

Education and the Spirit of Time Olli-Pekka Moisio, Juha Suoranta, 2006 The aim of this book is to raise current social, political and moral issues in social theory by taking a critical stance towards historical, global and educational themes in the context of culture, politics and technology. Thus, the focus of the book is critical Zeitgeist analysis and its potential in addressing various social maladies of the present era. Methodologically, critical Zeitgeist analysis is argued to be of value in demonstrating how to both utilize and expand the possibilities of writing normative social theory.
