The Vehement Passions Philip Fisher, 2003-10-05 Breaking off the ordinary flow of experience the passions create a state of exception In their suddenness and intensity they map a personal world fix and qualify our attention and impel our actions Outraged anger drives us to write laws that will later be enforced by impersonal justice Intense grief at the death of someone in our life discloses the contours of that life to us Wonder spurs scientific inquiry The strong current of Western thought that idealizes a dispassionate world has ostracized the passions as quaint even dangerous Intense states have come to be seen as symptoms of pathology A fondness for irony along with our civic ideal of tolerance lead us to prefer the diluted emotional life of feelings and moods Demonstrating enormous intellectual originality and generosity Philip Fisher meditates on whether this victory is permanent and how it might diminish us From Aristotle to Hume to contemporary biology Fisher finds evidence that the passions have defined a core of human nature no less important than reason or desire Traversing the Iliad King Lear Moby Dick and other great works he discerns the properties of the high spirited states we call the passions Are vehement states compatible with a culture that values private selectively shared experiences How do passions differ from emotions Does anger have an opposite Do the passions give scale shape and significance to our experience of time Is a person incapable of anger more dangerous than someone who is irascible In reintroducing us to our own vehemence Fisher reminds us that it is only through our strongest passions that we feel the contours of injustice mortality loss and knowledge It is only through our personal worlds that we can know the world

The Semiotics of Discourse Jacques Fontanille,2006 Original Scholarly Monograph Emotions through Literature

Mariano Longo,2019-07-23 Engaging with the wide sociological literature on emotions this book explores the social representation of emotions their management and their effects by making reference to creative sources With a specific focus on literary narrative including the works of figures such as Dante Austen Manzoni Tolstoy and Kundera the author draws out the capacity of literary works to describe and represent both the external aspects of social relations and the inner motivations of the involved actors An interdisciplinary study that combines sociology narratology philosophy historical analysis and literary criticism Emotions through Literature invites us to re think the role of emotions in sociological analysis employing literary narratives to give plausible intellectual responses to the double nature of emotions their being both individual and social Tango And The Political Economy Of Passion Marta Savigliano,2018-02-06 What is tango Dance music and lyrics of course but also a philosophy a strategy a commodity even a disease This book explores the politics of tango tracing tango s travels from the brothels of Buenos Aires to the cabarets of Paris and the shako dansu clubs of Tokyo The author is an Argentinean political theorist and a dance professor at the University of California at Riverside She uses her tango tongue to tell interwoven tales of sexuality gender race class and national identity Along the way she unravels relations between machismo and colonialism postmodernism and patriarchy exoticism and commodification In the end she arrives at a discourse on decolonization as intellectual unlearning Marta Savigliano s voice is highly personal and political Her account is at once about the exoticization of tango and about her own fate as a Third World woman intellectual A few sentences from the preface are indicative Tango is my womb and my tongue a trench where I can shelter and resist the colonial invitations to universalism a stubborn fatalist mood when technocrats and theorists offer optimistic and seriously revised versions of alternatives for the Third World an opportunistic metaphor to talk about myself and my stories as a success of the civilization development colonization of Am ca Latina and a strategy to figure out through the history of the tango a hooked up story of people like myself Tango is my changing resourceful source of identity And because I am where I am outside tango hurts and comforts me Tango is a sad thought that can be danced Savigliano employs the tools of ethnography history body movement analysis and political economy Well illustrated with drawings and photos dating back to the 1880s this book is highly readable entertaining and provocative It is sure to be recognized as an important contribution in the fields of cultural studies performance studies decolonization and women of color feminism Theory and Methodology of Semiotics Alexandros Ph.

Lagopoulos, Karin Boklund-Lagopoulou, 2020-11-23 The book is an in depth presentation of the European branch of semiotic theory originating in the work of Ferdinand de Saussure It has four parts a historical introduction the analysis of langue narrative theory and communication theory Part I briefly presents all the semiotic schools and their main points of reference Although this material is accessible in many other Anglophone publications the presentation is marked by specific choices aiming to display similarities and differences The analysis of langue in Part II is also available in Anglophone bibliography but the book presents Saussurean theory according to a new theoretical rationale and enriched with later developments In addition it is orientated so as to offer the foundation for the part that follows Part III is a presentation of Greimasian narrative theory well documented in Francophone bibliography but poorly represented in Anglophone publications The presentation extends the theory in both a qualitative and a new quantitative direction and includes a great number of examples and two extended textual analyses to help the reader understand and apply it Part IV communication theory combines an extension of Greimasian sociosemiotics with other schools of thought This original theoretical section discusses fourteen consecutive communication models the synthesis of which results in a holistic social semiotic theory of communication

The Ruling Passion Christopher Lane, 1995 In The Ruling Passion Christopher Lane examines the relationship between masculinity homosexual desire and empire in British colonialist and imperialist fictions at the turn of the twentieth century Questioning the popular assumption that Britain's empire functioned with symbolic efficiency on sublimated desire this book presents a counterhistory of the empire's many layers of conflict and ambivalence Through attentive readings of sexual and political allegory in the work of Kipling Forster James Beerbohm Firbank and others and deft use of psychoanalytic theory The Ruling Passion interprets turbulent scenes of masculine identification and pleasure power and mastery intimacy and antagonism By foregrounding the shattering effects of male homosexuality and interracial desire and by insisting on the centrality of unconscious fantasy and the death drive The Ruling Passion examines the startling recurrence of colonial failure in narratives of symbolic doubt and ontological crisis Lane argues compellingly that Britain can progress culturally and politically only when it has relinquished its residual fantasies of global mastery

Semiotics and Church Architecture Gerard Lukken, Mark Searle, 1993 In recent decades semiotics has succeeded in establishing itself as a discipline with international recognition As a discipline specifically devoted to the study of signs and sign systems it is relevant to the discipline of theology working as it does with verbal and non verbal signs Since 1976 Semanet a Dutch study group has applied Greimasian semiotics to linguistic theological statements More recently Gerard Lukken undertook the analysis of church buildings It was at that stage that Mark Searle joined Semanet during a sabbatical leave He applied the analytical method to a particular church SS Peter and Paul in Tilburg which is of interest both as a representative modern church and as a particularly intriguing object for semiotic analysis The book shows how Greimasian semiotic theory as it relates to architecture was developed into a usable method for analysing particular church buildings and then demonstrates how such an analysis might be conducted The book contains numerous full color reproductions Gerard Lukken 1933 is professor of liturgy and sacramental theology and director of the Liturgical Institute at the Theological Faculty of Tilburg He studied at the Diocesan Seminary in Haaren the Pontificia Universita Gregoriana in Rome and the Institut Superieur de Liturgie in Paris Mark Searle 1941 1992 was associated professor of pastoral liturgy at the Notre Dame University in Notre Dame Indiana USA He studied at the Franciscan House of Studies in East Bergholt United Kingdom the Institut Superieur de Liturgie in Paris the Liturgisches Institut in Trier and the Pontificio Ateneo di Sant Antonio in Rome The Routledge Companion to Semiotics Paul Cobley,2009-09-11 The ideal introduction to semiotics containing engaging essays from an impressive range of international leaders in the field Featuring an extended glossary of key terms and thinkers as well as suggestions for further reading this is an invaluable reference guide for students of semiotics at all levels Cultural Semiotics Anna Maria Lorusso,2015-10-21 Through a reevaluation of the work of some of the most important thinkers of the twentieth century this book details how semiotics social sense and social communication can function together to analyze how culture works in the contemporary era Readings in Numanities Oana Andreica,Alin Olteanu,2017-11-30 This unique book gathers articles from the numanistic perspective of multidisciplinary and innovation connected by three main theoretical interests or overarching themes music semiotics and translation Offering an eclectic collection of innovative papers that address such topics as culture musicology art consumption meaning codes and national identities to name a few it has a broad appeal across the humanities and social sciences The contributing authors draw on various schools and methodologies including psychology psychoanalysis social semiotics semiotic modelling deconstruction and cultural analysis By approaching established themes in new and challenging ways this highly engaging book has the potential to advance the state of the art in various topics It appeals to all scholars investigating cultural identity linguistics and translation music consumption performance semiotic theories and various intersections of these and related topics Explorations in Dynamic Semiosis Elli Marie Tragel,2024-03-11 This anthology is a manifold combining semiotics and psychology Chapters in the book are authored by young scholars making sense of semiosis in irreversible time from a multitude of perspectives The central focus on the dynamics of meaning making comes together in a variety of topics that align in the core idea of dynamic nature of human making and use of signs First this book gives a comprehensive overview of relational dynamics of the sign The overview is followed by a collection of chapters focusing on various topics relevant for humanities and social sciences such as experience of time cultural memory musical signification human computer interactions death and eternity freedom and responsibility authenticity methods for practice and research in psychology etc This anthology contributes to the integration of the fields of semiotics and psychology building on the classic traditions of the Tartu Moscow School of Semiotics established by Juri Lotman and contemporary cultural psychology that has unified social sciences in the recent three decades Examples of how new semiotic models are applied to various domains of human lives will be given anticipating the future and addressing its past As such this book is a relevant read for everyone interested in the complex nature of meaning making and inclusion of dynamics in all expressions of life including academic research Imagining Organizations Paolo Quattrone, Nigel Thrift, Chris Mclean, Francois-Regis Puyou, 2013-06-17 Organizations rely extensively upon a myriad of images and pictorial representations such as budgets schedules reports graphs and organizational charts to name but a few Visual images play an integral role in the process of organizing This volume argues that images in organizations are performative meaning that they can be seen as performances rather than mere representations that play a significant role in all kind of organizational activities Imagining Organizations opens up new ways of imagining business through an interdisciplinary approach that captures the role of visualizations and their performances Contributions to this volume challenge this orthodox view to explore how images in business organizing and organizations are viewed in a static and rigid form Imagining Business addresses the question of how we visualize organizations and their activities as an important aspect of managerial work focusing on practices and performances organizing and ordering and media and technologies Moreover it aims to provide a focal point for the growing collection of studies that explore how various business artifacts draw on the power of the visual to enable various forms of organizing and organizations in diverse contexts Exploring the

Translatability of Emotions Susan Petrilli, Meng Ji, 2022-03-09 This book offers an in depth cross cultural and transdisciplinary discussion of the translatability of social emotions The contributors are leading philosophers semioticians anthropologists communication and translation theorists from Europe America and Australia Part I explores the translatability of emotions as a culturally embedded social behaviour that requires a contextualized interpretation of their origins and development in different social and cultural settings These studies make useful preparations for the studies introduced in Part II that continue investigating the cultural and sociological influence of the development of social emotions with a special focus on the dialogical relation to the body and to others Part III presses on delving into specific types of emotions which underscore social interactions at both the community and individual levels such as dignity im politeness self regard and self esteem Finally Part IV offers a further development on the preceding parts as it discusses problems of translation expressibility and mass medial communication of emotions This book will engage translation scholars as well as those with a broader interest in the study and interpretation of emotions from different fields perspectives and disciplines

Treason , 2019-05-06 The willingness to betray one s country one s people one s family to commit treason and foreswear loyalty to one entity by giving it to another is a difficult concept for many people to comprehend Yet societies have grappled with treason for centuries the motivations implications and consequences are rarely clear cut and are often subjective Set against the framework of modern political concerns Treason Medieval and Early Modern Adultery Betrayal and Shame considers the various forms of treachery in a variety of sources including literature historical chronicles and material culture creating a complex portrait of the development of this high crime Larissa Tracy artfully brings together younger critics as
