Neoplatonism In Ruysbroeck Through The Intermediary Of St Augustine:

Ruysbroeck the Admirable Alfred Wautier d'Aygalliers, Fred Rothwell, 1925      Neoplatonism in Ruysbroeck A. Wau D'Aygalliers, 2005-12-01 This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original Due to its age it may contain imperfections such as marks notations marginalia and flawed pages Because we believe this work is culturally important we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting preserving and promoting the world s literature in affordable high quality modern editions that are true to the original work      Plotinus and the Ethics of St Augustine V1 Bruno Switalski, 2011-06-01      From Augustine to Eriugena John J. O'Meara, 1991 In 1984 a group of John O Meara s colleagues decided to mark the occasion of his retirement from the chair of Latin in University College Dublin by the publication of a volume of essays This book concentrates on Augustine and Eriugena the two authors on whom he worked and with whom his international reputation is associated Just as Augustine and Eriugena each tries to reconcile in his own individual way the Christian faith with the wisdom of the Graeco Roman world so this volume finds its focus      Augustine's Intellectual Conversion Brian Dobell, 2009-11-05 This book examines Augustine s intellectual conversion from Platonism to Christianity as described at Confessions 7 9 13 21 27 It is widely assumed that this occurred in the summer of 386 shortly before Augustine s volitional conversion in the garden at Milan Brian Dobell argues however that Augustine s intellectual conversion did not occur until the mid 390s and develops this claim by comparing Confessions 7 9 13 21 27 with a number of important passages and themes from Augustine s early writings He thus invites the reader to consider anew the problem of Augustine s conversion in 386 was it to Platonism or Christianity His original and important study will be of interest to a wide range of readers in the history of philosophy and the history of theology      Neoplatonism and Christian Thought Dominic J. O'Meara, 1981-06-30 In this volume the relationships between two of the most vital currents in Western thought are examined by a group of nineteen internationally known specialists in a variety of disciplines classics patristics philosophy theology history of ideas and literature The contributing scholars discuss Neoplatonic theories about God creation man and salvation in relation to the ways in which they were adopted adapted or rejected by major Christian thinkers of five periods Patristic Later Greek and Byzantine Medieval Renaissance and Modern Contributors include G H Allard A Hilary Armstrong Elizabeth Bieman Linos Benakis Henry Blumenthal Mary T Clark Norris Clarke John Dillon Cornelio Fabro John N Findlay Maurice de Gandillac Edward P Mahoney Bernard McGinn Dominic J O Meara John J O Meara Jean P pin Mary Carman Rose Henri Dominique Saffrey Charles B Schmitt and G rard Verbeke      Neoplatonism and the ethics of St. Augustine Bruno Switalski, 1946      Saint Augustine Sister Mary Patricia Garvey, 1939      The Relationship Between Neoplatonism and Christianity Thomas Finan, Vincent Twomey, 1992      Neoplatonism and the Ethics of St. Augustine Bruno Switalski, 1946      The Development of St. Augustine, from Neoplatonism to Christianity, 386-391 A.D. Alfred Warren Matthews, 1980-01      Encounters with God in Augustine's Confessions Carl G. Vaught, 2012-02-01 This book continues Carl G Vaught's thoroughgoing reinterpretation of Augustine's Confessions one that rejects the view that Augustine is simply a Neoplatonist and argues that he is also a definitively Christian thinker As a companion volume to the earlier Journey toward God in Augustine's Confessions Books I VI it can be read in sequence with or independently of it This work covers the middle portion of the Confessions Books VII IX Opening in Augustine's youthful maturity Books VII IX focus on the three pivotal experiences that transform his life the Neoplatonic vision that causes him to abandon materialism his conversion to Christianity that leads him beyond Neoplatonism to a Christian attitude toward the world and his place in it and the mystical experience he shares with his mother a few days before her death which points to the importance of the Christian community Vaught argues that time space and eternity intersect to provide a framework in which these three experiences occur and which give Augustine a three fold access to God

St. Augustine and being James F. Anderson,2012-12-06 The properly metaphysical dimension of Augustine's thought has received little special attention among scholars even Scholastics The Thomist metaphysicians especially we Anglo Saxon ones receive first honors for being the most neglectful of all Why I t is a puzzling phenomenon particularly in the light of the fact recognized by almost every Thomist that the very existence of Thomas the theologian is inconceivable apart from his pre eminent Christian mentor in the intellectual life the Bishop of Hippo It is a puzzling phenomenon because although the Christian metaphysics of Thomas Aquinas is not the Christian metaphysics of Augustine these metaphysics could not be simply opposed to one another else the theologies wherein they exercise the indispensable function of vital rational organs would themselves be discordant But what respectable Scholas tic would deny that in their essential teaching about God and the things of God the thought of these two masters is remarkably congruent May I suggest that one of the major reasons for this paradoxical neglect of Augustinian metaphysics on the part of Thomists above all in the English speaking world is their simplistic assumption that whereas Aquinas was an Aristotelian in phi losophy Augustine was a Platonist despite the fact that in theology they were substantially at one as if there could be theological agreement formally speaking even where there is metaphysical disagreement formally speaking

The Journey toward God in Augustine's Confessions Carl G. Vaught,2012-02-01 This detailed discussion of Augustine's journey toward God as it is described in the first six books of the Confessions begins with infancy moves through childhood and adolescence and culminates in youthful maturity In the first stage Augustine deals with the problems of original innocence and sin in the second he addresses a pear stealing episode that recapitulates the theft of the forbidden fruit in the Garden of Eden and confronts the problem of sexuality with which he wrestles until his conversion and in the third he turns toward philosophy only to be captivated successively by dualism skepticism and Catholicism Augustine's journey exhibits temporal spatial and eternal dimensions and combines his head and his heart in equal proportions Vaught shows that the Confessions should be interpreted as an attempt to address the person as a whole rather than through our intellectual or volitional dimensions exclusively The passion with which Augustine describes the end of his journey is reflected best in a sentence found in the opening chapter of the text You have made us for yourself and our heart is restless until it rests in you Interpreting this statement Carl G Vaught presents a more emphatically Christian Augustine than is usually found in contemporary scholarship Refusing to view Augustine in an exclusively Neoplatonic framework Vaught holds that Augustine baptizes Plotinus just as successfully as Aquinas baptizes Aristotle It cannot be denied that Ancient philosophy influences Augustine decisively Nevertheless he holds the experiential and the theoretical dimensions of his journey toward God together as a distinctive expression of the Christian tradition
