September 11 2001 American Writers Respond:

September 11, 2001 William Heyen, 2002 Over 125 American writers reflect on September 11 in its immediate aftermath

Be Very Afraid Robert Wuthnow, 2010-04-07 Robert Wuthnow has been praised as one of the country's best social scientists by columnist David Brooks who hails his writing as tremendously valuable The New York Times calls him temperate balanced compassionate adding one can't but admire Mr Wuthnow's views A leading authority on religion he now addresses one of the most profound subjects the end of the world In Be Very Afraid Wuthnow examines the human response to existential threats once a matter for theology but now looming before us in multiple forms Nuclear weapons pandemics global warming each threatens to destroy the planet or at least to annihilate our species Freud he notes famously taught that the standard psychological response to an overwhelming danger is denial In fact Wuthnow writes the opposite is true we seek ways of positively meeting the threat of doing something anything even if it's wasteful and time consuming The atomic era that began with the bombing of Hiroshima sparked a flurry of activity ranging from duck and cover drills basement bomb shelters and marches for a nuclear freeze All were arguably ineffectual yet each sprang from an innate desire to take action It would be one thing if our responses were merely pointless Wuthnow observes but they can actually be harmful Both the public and policymakers tend to model reactions to grave threats on how we met previous ones The response to the terrorist attacks of 9/11 for example echoed the Cold War citizens went out to buy duct tape mimicking 1950s era civil defense measures and the administration launched two costly conflicts overseas Offering insight into our responses to everything from An Inconvenient Truth to the bird and swine flu epidemics Robert Wuthnow provides a profound new understanding of the human reaction to existential vulnerability

Literature after 9/11 Ann Keniston, Jeanne Follansbee Quinn, 2013-04-15 Drawing on trauma theory genre theory political theory and theories of postmodernity space and temporality Literature After 9/11 suggests ways that these often distinct discourses can be recombined and set into dialogue with one another as it explores 9/11's effects on literature and literature's attempts to convey 9/11

Towering Figures Sven Cvek, 2011-01-01 This volume offers a critical analysis of a segment of American literary production surrounding the September 11 2001 attacks on the United States While focusing on the writing of Jonathan Safran Foer Art Spiegelman Don DeLillo and Thomas Pynchon the author locates this work within a larger 9/11 cultural archive The book proceeds by way of a series of thematic leaps in order to unearth the active entanglement of the event with systems of meaning and power that create the conditions for its emergence and understanding The main problem of such an approach consists in articulating the three-fold relation at the heart of the archive in which issues of traumatic loss affect and politics appear as central between the historical event its cultural imprint and the wider social system In order to grasp these fundamental relations the author resorts to a layered interpretive framework and engages a number of theoretical protocols from psychoanalysis and nationalism studies to philosophy of history world system theory and the heterogeneous critical practices of American Studies Coming from a non

US Americanist perspective this contribution to the scholarly production about 9 11 concentrates on trauma as a problem in the conceptualization the event insists on globalization as its crucial context and argues for a historical materialist approach to the 9 11 archive

Handbook of Transatlantic North American Studies Julia Straub, 2016-05-10 Transatlantic literary studies have provided important new perspectives on North American British and Irish literature They have led to a revision of literary history and the idea of a national literature They have changed the perception of the Anglo American literary market and its many processes of transatlantic production distribution reception and criticism Rather than dwelling on comparisons or engaging with the notion of influence transatlantic literary studies seek to understand North American British and Irish literature as linked with each other by virtue of multi layered historical and cultural ties and pay special attention to the many refractions and mutual interferences that have characterized these traditions since colonial times This handbook brings together articles that summarize some of the crucial transatlantic concepts debates and topics The contributions contained in this volume examine periods in literary and cultural history literary movements individual authors as well as genres from a transatlantic perspective combining theoretical insight with textual analysis

Balanced informative and always highly readable there is much here for general readers students and specialists alike Christopher MacGowan the College of William and Mary 9/11: Culture, Catastrophe and the Critique of Singularity Diana Gonçalves,2016-10-24 Even though much has been said and written about 9 11 the work developed on this subject has mostly explored it as an unparalleled event a turning point in history This book wishes to look instead at how disruptive events promote a network of associations and how people resort to comparison as a means to make sense of the unknown i e to comprehend what seems incomprehensible In order to effectively discuss the complexity of 9 11 this book articulates different fields of knowledge and perspectives such as visual culture media studies performance studies critical theory memory studies and literary studies to shed some light on 9 11 and analyze how the event has impacted on American social and cultural fabric and how the American society has come to terms with such a devastating event A more in depth study of Don DeLillo s Falling Man and Jonathan Safran Foer s Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close draws attention to the cultural construction of catastrophe and the plethora of cultural products 9 11 has inspired It demonstrates how the event has been integrated into American culture and exemplifies what makes up the 9 11 imaginary Behind the Lines Philip Metres,2007-05 Whether Thersites in Homer s Iliad Wilfred Owen in Dulce et Decorum Est or Allen Ginsberg in Wichita Vortex Sutra poets have long given solitary voice against the brutality of war The hasty cancellation of the 2003 White House symposium Poetry and the American Voice in the face of protests by Sam Hamill and other invited guests against the coming shock and awe campaign in Iraq reminded us that poetry and poets still have the power to challenge the powerful Behind the Lines investigates American war resistance poetry from the Second World War through the Iraq wars Rather than simply chronicling the genre Philip Metres argues that this poetry gets to the heart of who is authorized to speak about war and how it can be represented As such he explores a largely neglected area of scholarship the poet s relationship to dissenting political movements and the nation In his elegant study Metres examines the ways in which war resistance is registered not only in terms of its content but also at the level of the lyric He proposes that protest poetry constitutes a subgenre that by virtue of its preoccupation with politics history and trauma probes the limits of American lyric poetry Thus war resistance poetry and the role of what Shelley calls unacknowledged legislators is a crucial though largely unexamined body of writing that stands at the center of dissident political movements After the Fall Richard Gray,2011-05-03 After the Fall A common refrain heard since the collapse of the World Trade Center towers on September 11 2001 is that everything has changed After the Fall presents a timely and provocative examination of the impact and implications of 9 11 and the war on terror on American culture and literature Author Richard Gray widely regarded as the leading European scholar in American literature reveals the widespread belief among novelists dramatists and poets as well as the American public at large that in the post 9 11 world they are all somehow living after the fall He carefully considers how many writers faced with what they see as the end of their world have retreated into the seductive pieties of home hearth and family and how their works are informed by the equally seductive myth of American exceptionalism As a counterbalance Gray also discusses in depth the many writings that get it right transnational and genuinely crossbred works that resist the oppositional and simplistic us and them Christian and Muslim language that has dominated mainstream commentary These imaginative works Gray believes choose instead to respond to the heterogeneous character of the United States as well as its necessary positioning in a transnational context After the Fall offers illuminating insights into the relationships of such issues as nationalism trauma culture and literature during a time of profound crisis American Multiculturalism After 9/11 Derek Rubin,J. Verheul,2009 This provocative and rich volume charts the post 9 11 debates and practice of multiculturalism pinpointing their political and cultural implications in the United States and Europe Representing 9/11 Paul Petrovic,2015-06-17 As the horrific events of September 11 2001 slip deeper into the past the significance of 9 11 remains a global cultural touchstone Initially filmmakers writers and other artists wrangled with its meaning often relying on fantastical ethnic or exceptionalist themes to address the psychic dread of the terrorist attacks Over time however more nuanced and socio historical perspectives about 9 11 and its impact on America and the world have emerged In Representing 9 11 Trauma Ideology and Nationalism in Literature Film and Television prominent authors from a variety of disciplines demonstrate how emergent American and international texts expand upon and complicate the initial post 9 11 canon Editor Paul Petrovic has assembled a collection of essays that broadens our understanding of how popular culture has addressed 9 11 particularly as it has evolved over time Contributors bring fresh readings to popular novels such as Jonathan Lethem s Chronic City and Jonathan Franzen s Freedom films like Zero Dark Thirty and This Is the End and television shows such as 24 and Homeland Showcasing a diverse range of viewpoints essays in this collection assess among other topics how African American identity is challenged by post 9 11 allegories how superhero films foretell the inevitability of city wide destruction by terrorists and how shows like Breaking Bad problematize ideas of liberalism and masculinity Though primarily aimed at scholars Representing 9 11 seeks to engage readers interested in how various forms of media have interpreted the events and aftermath of the terrorist attacks in 2001 Symbolism 16 Rüdiger Ahrens,Florian Kläger,Klaus Stierstorfer,2016-10-10 Essays in this special focus constellation around the diverse symbolic forms in which Caribbean consciousness has manifested itself transhistorically shaping identities within and without structures of colonialism and postcolonialism Offering interdisciplinary critical analytical and theoretical approaches to the objects of study the book explores textual visual material and ritual meanings encoded in Caribbean lived and aesthetic practices Children's Fiction about 9/11 Jo Lampert,2009-09-10 Looking at examples including picture books young adult novels and DC Comics Lampert explores ethnic national and heroic identities in this pioneering and timely book that examines the ways in which cultural identities are constructed within young adult and children s literature about the attacks of September 11 2001 Terrorism in Literature Bootheina Majoul,2019-08-13 This volume celebrates literature as a strong subversive tool as an alternative for change through an exploration of terrorism in various literary works It brings together scholars from all over the world including Algeria Argentina Australia Cameroon Denmark India Italy Tunisia Turkey and the USA to offer their insights As readers themselves they share an eagerness to understand the psychopathological personalities circulating among us They urge the reader to dig deep into literature to think to cogitate and to learn One of the most important literary figures dealing with terrorism in his novels is the internationally acclaimed Indian writer Tabish Khair who generously wrote the foreword to this volume He sheds light on the possibilities offered by literature as a means of dissent and a powerful tool for truth telling

Out of the Blue Kristiaan Versluys, 2009-07-29 Writers have represented 9 11 and its aftermath with varying degrees of success In Out of the Blue Kristiaan Versluys focuses on novels that move beyond patriotic clichés and cheap sensationalism and provide new insights into the emotional and ethical impact of these traumatic events and what it means to depict them Versluys focuses on Don DeLillo's Falling Man Art Spiegelman's In the Shadow of No Towers Jonathan Safran Foer's Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close Frédéric Beigbeder's Windows on the World and John Updike's Terrorist He scrutinizes how these writers affirm the humanity of the disoriented individual as opposed to the cocksure killer or politician and retranslate hesitation stuttering or stammering into a precarious act of defiance Versluys also discusses works by Ian McEwan Anita Shreve Martin Amis and Michael Cunningham arguing for the novel's distinct power in rendering the devastation of 9 11

A History of American Poetry Richard Gray, 2015-03-02 A History of American Poetry presents a comprehensive exploration of the development of American poetic traditions from their pre-Columbian origins to the present day Offers a detailed and accessible account of the entire range of American poetry Situates the story of American poetry within crucial social and historical contexts and places individual poets and poems in the relevant intertextual contexts Explores and interprets American poetry in terms of the international positioning and multicultural character of the United States Provides readers with a means to understand the individual works and personalities that helped to shape one of the most significant bodies of literature of the past few centuries

Liminality, Hybridity, and American Women's Literature Kristin J. Jacobson, Kristin Allukian, Rickie-Ann Legleitner, Leslie Allison, 2018-05-04 This book highlights the multiplicity of American women's writing related to liminality and hybridity from its beginnings to the contemporary moment Often informed by notions of crossing intersectionality transition and transformation these concepts as they appear in American women's writing contest as well as perpetuate exclusionary practices involving class ethnicity gender race religion and sex among other variables The collection's introduction three unit introductions fourteen individual essays and afterward facilitate a process of encounters engagements and conversations within between among and across the rich polyphony that constitutes the creative acts of American women writers The contributors offer fresh perspectives on canonical writers as well as introduce readers to new authors As a whole the collection demonstrates American women's writing is threshold writing or writing that occupies a liminal hybrid space that both delimits borders and offers enticing openings
