Nagabhushanam, 2000-01-03 Presents information that can be useful to facilitate the aquaculture of a wide variety of food species Operation of an economically successful aquaculture venture depends upon the complete life cycle of a species occurring in captivity Possible solutions to how such complete control of life cycles of important food organisms might be accomplished Biology of European Sea Bass F. Javier Sánchez Vázquez, José A. Muñoz-Cueto, 2014-07-01 Biology of European Seabass presents up to date reviews on key topics of seabass biology written by leading scientific experts with extensive knowledge of seabass as well as their respective field of expertise The book covers the biology and ecology of the different sea basses and the latest findings in molecular biology physiology and behavior The glycinergic system of the CNS of the sea lamprey, Petromyzon marinus. A developmental study and comparison with GABA. , Pharmaceuticals in Marine and Coastal Environments Juan Carlos Duran-Alvarez, Blanca Jiménez-Cisneros, 2021-06-23 Pharmaceuticals in Marine and Coastal Environments Occurrence Effects and Challenges in a Changing World is divided into three sections that address a coastal areas as the main entrance of pharmaceuticals into the ocean b the occurrence and distribution of pharmaceuticals in the environmental compartments of the ocean media and c the effects that such pollutants may cause to the exposed marine organisms With its comprehensive discussions the book provides a wide depiction of the current state of the art on these topics in an effort to open new sources of investigation and find suitable solutions Includes maps edited by the Water Information Network System of the International Hydrological Program IHP WINS Provides a compilation of information regarding the occurrence and distribution of pharmaceuticals in the marine environment which will help establish new and more efficient monitoring programs and new research lines Depicts the most important results of environmental risk assessments that can be used as a first step for further toxicological studies The Sea Urchin Paul de Bijl, 2002-06-01 This volume deals with various aspects of the biology and aquaculture of the sea urchin The World of Sea Cucumbers Annie Mercier, Jean-Francois Hamel, Andrew Suhrbier, Christopher Pearce, 2023-10-28 The World of Sea Cucumbers Challenges Advances and Innovations provides broad coverage of sea cucumber biology ecology fisheries aquaculture and trade while also bringing forward novel cultural socioeconomic and scientific topics related to commercial and non commercial species worldwide Written by international experts in their respective fields the book offers a unique outlook into the fascinating world of sea cucumbers while also providing valuable information to various stakeholders and researchers Commercial fisheries and aquaculture programs are addressed especially as they relate to emerging species but the book also covers novel understudied or lesser known biological ecological and commercial aspects The involvement of Indigenous peoples and minorities in various community level initiatives and on the cultural significance impact of sea cucumbers in many regions are also examined Finally breakthroughs and emerging biotechnologies centered on sea cucumbers are presented Brings together a network of experts covering broad sea cucumber topics from basic biology and commercial trade to socioeconomic value and novel biotechnologies Offers worldwide coverage including Asia the Indo Pacific Africa Northern Europe North and South America and the poles Raises global awareness on little known facts of sea cucumber importance The Marine Biology of the South China Sea III Brian Morton, 1998-07-01 The first conference on the Marine Biology of the South China Sea was convened in Hong Kong in 1990 to celebrate the opening of the Swire Institute of Marine Science The second was convened in Guangzhou China in 1993 The third conference returned to Hong Kong in 1996 and in a continuing pattern of growth was attended by 127 scientists and students from 14 countries and territories Of the 104 keynote addresses papers and posters presented at the meeting 42 are published here following critical peer review under the symposium categories of Taxonomy and Biological Diversity Biology and Ecology and Coastal Zone Management and Conservation of the Biological Resources of the South China Sea Each conference sets its own symposia themes but in view of the rapid perceived decline in the marine environment of the South China Sea and the overexploitation of its resources the 1996 meeting focused its attention on these issues There are many meetings related to marine science convened by the countries of the South China rim Some are national others are international but most are typically convened by agencies and attendance is restricted to an invited few usually senior scientists Europe hosts a European Marine Biology Symposium that is convened in a different country each year and which sets the meeting s themes The proceedings of those meetings constitute one of the most authoritative accounts of the marine biology of European waters The meeting itself provides a forum for scientists and students so that international collaborative research is now a key feature of European marine science First convened in 1996 the 32 symposia are a tribute to international co operation in research in a marine environment that of itself knows no boundaries The South China Sea countries also need such a forum free of political dogma This conference proceedings is the third to help promote such an event hopefully one day at a greater frequency than three years The fourth conference is to be convened in the Philippines in 1999 This volume then is an international perspective on the South China Sea by scientists who research it and are concerned for its future It contains information that should appeal to marine biologists throughout the world and in particular to those in Asia Measuring Radiation Balance at Sea N. E. Ter-Markariants, 1965 Seabuckthorn.

Research for a promising crop Jörg-Thomas Mörsel, Yury Zubarev, David Eagle, 2014-05-02 Seabuckthorn is one promising plant that got into focus of public interest It is the wide range of applications its ecological promising benefits and the social economic effect that inspire people around the world to deal with Seabuckthorn Actual developments shows a growing interest not only of directly involved persons but of public in general Since 2003 every second year scientist producers and growers and enthusiasts met at ISA International Seabuckthorn Association conferences the society was founded 2001 on Seabuckthorn Workshop in Delhi to exchange information establish new contacts and discuss the future of Seabuckthorn world Starting with a small heap of enthusiasts the scientific community now includes several hundred active and certainly far more than a thousand of interested members In October 2013 6th meeting of ISA was held in Potsdam Germany This booklet is to show a selection from the presented results some outstanding poster and additional material given by various

The Sea Urchin Embryo G. Czihak, 2012-12-06 Sea urchin eggs are objects of wonder for the student who sees them for the first time under the microscope The formation of the fertilization membrane after insemination the beauty of mitotic cleavage the elegant swimming of embryos remain an esthetic pleasure even for the eyes of seasoned investigators But sea urchin eggs have other more practical advantages they lend themselves to surgical operation without difficulty and they heal perfectly they can be obtained in very large amounts and represent thus an extremely favorable material for biochemists and molecular embryologists It is not surprising that in view of these exceptional advantages sea urchin eggs have attracted the interest of innumerable biologists since O. HERTWIG discovered the fusion of the pronuclei amphimixy in Paracentrotus lividus almost a century ago The purpose of the present book is to present in a complete and orderly fashion the enormous amount of information which has been gathered in the course of a hundred years of sea urchin embryology JOSEPH NEEDHAM in 1930 was still able to present all that was known at that time on the biochemistry of all possible species of developing eggs and embryos in his famous Chemical Embryology Cambridge University Press It would no longer be possible for one man to write a modern version of what was a Bible for the young embryologists of forty years ago

Stem Cells in Marine Organisms Baruch Rinkevich, Valeria Matranga, 2009-10-03 Do real stem cells and stem cell lineages exist in lower organisms Can stem cells from one organism parasitize the soma and/or the germ line of conspecifics Can differentiated cells in marine organisms be reprogrammed to regenerate tissues organs and appendages through novel dedifferentiation transdifferentiation or redifferentiation processes leading to virtually all three germ layers including the germline The positive answers to above questions open a new avenue in stem cell research the biology of stem cells in marine organisms It is therefore unfortunate that while the literature on stem cell from terrestrial organisms is rich and expanding at an exponential rate investigations on marine organisms stem cells are very limited and scarce By presenting theoretical chapters overview essays and specific research results this book summarises the knowledge and the hypotheses on stem cells in marine organisms through major phyla and specific model organisms The study on stem cells from marine invertebrates may shed lights on mechanisms promoting immunity developmental biology regeneration and budding processes in marine invertebrates body maintenance aging and senescence It aims in encouraging a larger scientific community to follow and study the novel phenomena of stem cells behaviours as depicted from the few currently studied marine invertebrates

An Assessment and Annotated Bibliography of Marine Bioluminescence Research:

1979-1987 Richard V. Lynch, 1993 Publications relevant to marine bioluminescence from 1979 through 1987 are annotated and cross indexed by author organism studied geographic location and key words Sources of research funding are discussed and the most prolific institutions and most popular sources for publication are identified Six areas of particular interest namely flash characteristics stimulation techniques geographic and temporal distribution and occurrence and correlation with environmental parameters the luminous organism themselves symbiosis and circadian rhythms are identified and analyzed for significant progress important research omissions and trends No significant trends are identified although the suggestion of the possibility of a decrease in research effort in these areas over the decade is noted The international nature of the research is considered Bioluminescence Marine biology Optical properties

Coelenterate Biology 2003 Daphne G. Fautin, Jane A. Westfall, Paulyn Cartwright, Marymegan Daly, Charles R. Wytenbach, 2007-11-07 This volume the proceedings of the Seventh International Conference on Coelenterate Biology is organized as the meeting was around six topics Because several sessions of ICCB7 constituted the 2003 North American meeting of the International Society for Reef Studies the subject of coral reefs is strongly represented in the section on Ecology The other themes are Neurobiology Reproduction Development and Life Cycles Pioneers in Coelenterate Biology Cnidaria and Taxonomy and Systematics Ctenophores as well as representatives of all four classes of cnidarians are among the study subjects of the research reported in this volume The theme of variability runs through the volume be it in cnidaria morphology behavior neurobiology ecology colony form or reproduction variability is a major reason these animals are so interesting and challenging to study This is a must read resource for anyone doing research or planning to do research on cnidarians and ctenophores

Bioorganic Marine Chemistry, 2013-03-07 The first three chapters of Vol 3 of Bio organic Marine Chemistry deal with the chemistry and function of peptides Chapter 1 by Ireland and coworkers serves as an introduction to marine derived peptides It is arranged phyletically and encompasses the entire range from dipeptides to a compound with 95 amino acid residues Peptides involved in primary metabolism and hence belonging to the realm of macromolecular biochemistry are excluded However it might be mentioned in passing that the dividing line between large and small molecule chemistry is continually becoming less distinct

Not only are more compounds of intermediate size from 1 000 to 10 000 dalton being discovered but instruments and techniques particularly in mass spectrometry and nuclear magnetic resonance have been developed for their structural elucidation by what is considered small molecule methodology Two groups of peptides are discussed in separate chapters Biologists who have observed and described the mating behavior of diverse species of marine invertebrates have long surmised that a chemical mechanism might be operating in many cases of individual as well as mass fertilization The chemical activators of sea urchin sperm prove to be a series of peptides whose structures and activity are discussed by Suzuki
