Services Trade Liberalisation And Facilitation:

Services Trade Liberalisation and Facilitation Sherry Stephenson, Soonhwa Yi, 2002 Written for service sector policy makers this book describes the key issues related to the World Trade Organization's current round of service negotiations. It discusses the core principles of GATS, migration, credit for reforms, domestic regulation, transparency and recognition, and regional options. Services Trade Liberalisation Motoshige Itō, Naoki Shimoi, 2003 Roadmap to an ASEAN Economic Community Denis Hew Wei-Yen, 2005 At the Ninth ASEAN Summit in Bali on 7 October 2003, the leaders of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations agreed to establish an ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) by 2020. It is envisaged that the AEC would be a single market and production base with a free flow of goods and services, investments, capital, and skilled labour. An integrated ASEAN with a sizeable market of over 500 million people could become an alternative to China as a regional production base for MNCs. Although there are roadmaps for the fast-track integration of eleven priority sectors, an overall longer-term roadmap needs to be formulated to realize the AEC. This book addresses the main issues. USITC Publication, 1998 The Regulation of Subsidies Within the General Agreement on Trade in Services of the WTO Pietro Poretti, 2009-01-01 The General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS) extends the multilateral trading system to services. Little is said in the GATS about subsidies beyond stipulating that subsidies are subject to the existing provisions, including the most-favoured-nation and national treatment principles, and that Members shall enter into negotiations with a view to developing the disciplines necessary to avoid the trade-distorting effects of subsidies. This timely book provides a comprehensive analysis of services subsidies under the GATS. It begins with a description of services and trade in services and of the salient characteristics that make regulation of services subsidies more complex than those associated with agricultural and industrial goods. It then analyzes the economic arguments underpinning the need for regulation, as well as the need for governments to retain sufficient latitude to implement non-trade-related policy measures. A description of the information available on services subsidies is followed by a classification of services subsidies according to their distortive effects and by a detailed analysis of those elements that may form a definition of services subsidies for the purpose of a future regulatory framework. A key section is devoted to the analysis of those existing provisions of the GATS that may exert a certain measure of discipline on services subsidies and to the question of the desirability and technical feasibility of countervailing measures. Rules on services subsidies contained in regional trade agreements and the need for special and differential treatment for services subsidies by developing countries are also discussed. Finally, and prior to the conclusion, two sectoral studies deal with the question of subsidies aimed at attracting foreign direct investment and subsidies to the audiovisual sector. This work represents the first extensive and comprehensive analysis of the issue of services subsidies in the context of the GATS and includes numerous references to relevant European Union State Aid legislation and jurisprudence. OECD Economic Surveys: Thailand 2020 Economic Assessment OECD,2020-10-05 Thailand has made impressive economic and social progress over several decades However the COVID 19 crisis has interrupted this progress Thanks to its sound macroeconomic policy framework Thailand was well placed to respond rapidly to the sharp economic downturn Nevertheless achieving high income country status will require in addition to a strong recovery programme a set of policy reforms focused on productivity growth and human capital accumulation Thailand has made remarkable progress in expanding access to education and the share of highly educated workers has increased significantly Nevertheless because of skills mismatches substantial labour shortages have prevailed in a range of occupations and industries which makes it important to improve vocational education and adult training programmes As the demand for services has become important globally Thailand has an opportunity to boost its exports of services diversify its economic activity and therefore become more resilient in the face of unexpected shocks This would involve a focus on digital services and business to business services which represent a large share of the value of manufacturing products Focus on human capital skills digital technology and high value services would help Thailand resume strong economic growth and social progress after the COVID 19 crisis
