Investigating Arthur Upfield Carol Hetherington, Kees de Hoog, 2011-10-18 Arthur Upfield created Detective Inspector Napoleon Bonaparte Bony who features in twenty nine novels written from the 1920s to the the 1960s mostly set in the Australian Outback He was the first Australian professional writer of crime detection novels Upfield arrived in Australia from England on 4 November 1911 and this collection of twenty two critical essays by academics and scholars has been published to celebrate the centenary of his arrival The essays were all written after Upfield's death in 1964 and provide a wide range of responses to his fiction The contributors from Australia Europe and the United States include journalist Pamela Ruskin who was Upfield's agent for fifteen years anthropologists literary scholars pioneers in the academic study of popular culture such as John G Cawelti and Ray B Browne and novelists Tony Hillerman and Mudrooroo whose own works have been inspired by Upfield's The collection sheds light on the extent and nature of critical responses to Upfield over time demonstrates the type of recognition he has received and highlights the way in which different preoccupations and critical trends have dealt with his work The essays provide the basis for an assessment of Upfield's place not only in the international annals of crime fiction but also in the literary and cultural history of Australia Estimates of Cost of Crime Jacek Czabanski, 2008-09-20 The mental suffering and agony the ruined lives the broken homes and hearts the desolation and yearning and despair who can measure the cost of crime Eugene Smith 1901 The anxiety people feel towards another people the fear of crime lies at the foundations of human society The enormous burden that crime imposes on societies calls for efficient social arrangements and institutions While intuitively obvious the exact scope of this burden for a long time eluded measurement With the emergence and development of quantitative methods in economics and statistics the exercise of calculating costs of crime became possible and indeed has been undertaken The emerging field of assessing costs of crime is still a controversial one both in its methodology and applications Many people would feel it absurd to calculate costs of crimes particularly violent ones What is a cost of murder rape or assault Can any number meaningfully represent the villainous nature of such acts These questions are undoubtedly good ones In this book I will argue that we can estimate costs of different crimes and that such estimates are relevant for criminal law and crime policy Notwithstanding the incommensurability of many consequences of crime society every day makes numerous decisions how to tackle crime and at least implicitly assesses the relative importance of the problem Properly done costs of crime estimates make people's evaluation more visible and allow for more coherent public policy The Pacific Reporter, 1921 Worlds of Common Prayer Chene Heady, 2019-06-24 Worlds of Common Prayer explores book length poems based on the Anglican liturgical calendar written between 1827 and 1935 John Keble created a new type of English poetry when he wrote his poetic companion to the Book of Common Prayer The Christian Year 1827 which went on to become the single bestselling book of poetry in the English century Drawing off of recent scholarship on both secularization studies and nineteenth century conceptions of time Worlds of Common Prayer exposes the surprisingly radical potential of liturgical poetry The detective novelist and poet Dorothy L Sayers wrote of her desire to find a brick that could smash the order of clock time and discovered one in the liturgy For major authors as dissimilar as Christina Rossetti and T S Eliot the Anglican liturgical calendar served as a means of dismantling industrial capitalism s time clock and thereby of destabilizing the secular world order as a whole
