Photography in Africa Richard Vokes, 2012 Gives an ethnographic account of the complexities of the use of photography in Africa both historically and in contemporary practice This collection of studies in African photography examines through a series of empirically rich historical and ethnographic cases the variety of ways in which photographs are produced circulated and engaged across a range of social contexts In so doing it elucidates the distinctive characteristics of African photographic practices and cultures vis vis those of other forms of vernacular photography worldwide In addition these studies develop a reflexive turn examining the history of academic engagement with these African photographic cultures and reflecting on the distinctive qualities of the ethnographic method as a means for studying such phenomena The volume critically engages current debates in African photography and visual anthropology First it extends our understanding of the variety of ways in which both colonial and post colonial states in Africa have used photography as a means for establishing and projecting their authority Second it moves discussion of African photography away from an exclusive focus on the role of the the studio and looks at the circulations through which the studios products the photographs themselves later pass as artefacts of material culture Last it makes an important contribution to our understanding of the relationship between photography and ethnographic research methods as these have been employed in Africa RICHARD VOKES is Senior Lecturer in Anthropology and Development Studies at the University of Adelaide Australia and author of Ghosts of Kanungu Africa 2.0 Russell Southwood,2022-07-12 Africa wired up provides an important history of how two technologies mobile calling and internet were made available to millions of Sub Saharan Africans and the impact they have had on their lives The book deals with the political challenges of liberalization and privatization that needed to be in place to get these technologies built It analyses how the mobile phone fundamentally changed communications in Sub Saharan Africa and the ways Africans have made these technologies part of their lives It examines critically the technologies impact on development practices and the key role development actors played in accelerating things like regulatory reform fibre roll out and mobile money The book considers how corruption in the industry is a prism through which patronage relationships in Government can be understood The arrival of a start up ecosystem has the potential to break these relationships and offer a new wave of investment opportunities The author seeks to go beyond the hype to make a provisional assessment of the kinds of changes that have happened over three decades It examines how and why these technologies became transformative and seem to have opened out a very different future for Sub Saharan Africa Markets for American Motion-picture Equipment in Asia, Africa, and Oceania Nathan Daniel Golden,1930 New Perspectives on Islam in Senegal M. Diouf,M. Leichtman,2009-01-05 This book brings together scholars for their fresh perspectives on religious conversion transnational migration economic globalization and the politics of education power and femininity in African Islam in Senegal Wrestling with Hope in Urban Senegal Mark Hann,2025-06-01 In Dakar thousands of young men train daily on beaches football pitches and sandy courtyards in pursuit of athletic success Aspiring football players seek contracts in the lucrative leagues of the Global North while hopeful wrestlers aim to captivate massive crowds as members of Senegal s beloved national sport Despite their differences European football s global appeal versus wrestling s traditional roots both sports demand immense effort and come with high social costs Wrestling with Hope follows the journeys of these precarious athletes as they confront the realities of their aspirations grappling with themes of masculinity belief systems and economic survival whilst navigating the complexities of a neoliberal landscape R. ,1973 Marabout Women in Dakar Amber B. Gemmeke,2008 This rich ethnographic study explores the life and work of successful marabout women in Dakar It is set against the background of their private family lives of developments in Senegalese society and of global changes While including female experts in spirit possession and plant based healing it also gives a rare insight in the work of women who offer Islamic knowledge such as Arabic astrology numerology divination and prayer sessions With the analysis of marabout women s work this study sheds light on the ways in which women's authority in esoteric knowledge is negotiated legitimated and publicly recognised in Dakar The study focuses especially upon marabout women's strategies to gain their clients trust Reference to rural areas is a significant element in this process This study thus contributes to an understanding of the gendered way in which trust and scepticism are related to marabouts work and of the role of a connection between Dakar and the rural areas therein
