Sense-Making and Shared Meaning in Language and Literacy Education Sharon Murphy,2020-07-15 This textbook

provides a framework for teaching children's language and literacy and introduces research-based tactics for teachers to use in designing their literacy programs for children. Exploring how sense making occurs in contemporary literacy practice, Murphy comprehensively covers major topics in literacy including contemporary multimodal literacy practices, classroom discourse, literacy assessment, language and culture, and teacher knowledge. Organized around themes: talk, reading, and composing, representation, this book comprehensively invites educators to make sense of their own teaching practices while demonstrating the complexities of how children make sense of and represent meaning in today's world. Grounded in research, this text features a wealth of real-world multimodal examples, effective strategies, and teaching tactics to apply to any classroom context. Ideal for literacy courses, preservice teachers, teacher educators, and literacy scholars, this book illustrates how children become literate in contemporary society and how teachers can create the conditions for children to broaden and deepen their sense making and expressive efforts.

Making Sense of World History Rick Szostak, 2020-10-22

Making Sense of World History is a comprehensive and accessible textbook that helps students understand the key themes of world history within a chronological framework stretching from ancient times to the present day. To lend coherence to its narrative, the book employs a set of organizing devices that connect times, places, and/or themes. This narrative is supported by flowcharts that show how phenomena within diverse broad themes interact in generating key processes and events in world history. A discussion of the common challenges faced by different types of agent, including rulers, merchants, farmers, and parents, and a comparison of how these challenges were addressed in different times and places. An exhaustive and balanced treatment of themes such as culture, politics, and economy with an emphasis on interaction. Explicit attention to skill acquisition in organizing information, cultural sensitivity, comparison, visual literacy, integration, interrogating primary sources, and critical thinking. A focus on historical episodes that are carefully related to each other. Through the use of such devices, the book shows the cumulative effect of thematic interactions through time, communicates the many ways in which societies have influenced each other through history, and allows us to compare and contrast how they have reacted to similar challenges. They also allow the reader to transcend historical controversies and can be used to stimulate class discussions and guide student assignments. With a unified authorial voice and offering a narrative from the ancient to the present, this is the go-to textbook for World History courses and students. The Open Access version of this book has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license.

Making Sense of Health, Disease, and the Environment in Cross-Cultural History: The Arabic-Islamic World, China, Europe, and North America Florence Bretelle-Establet, Marie Gaille, Mehrnaz Katouzian-Safadi, 2020-01-01. This book has been defined around three important issues: the first sheds light on how people in various philosophical, religious, and political contexts understand the natural environment and how the relationship between the environment and the body is perceived; the second focuses on the perceptions that a particular natural environment is good or bad for human health and examines the reasons behind such characterizations the third examines the promotion in history of specific practices to take advantage of the health benefits or avoid the harm caused by certain environments and also efforts made to change environments supposed to be harmful to human health The feeling and or the observation that the natural environment can have effects on human health have been and are still commonly shared throughout the world This led us to raise the issue of the links observed and believed to exist between human beings and the natural environment in a broad chronological and geographical framework In this investigation we bring the reader from ancient and late imperial China to the medieval Arab world up to medieval modern and contemporary Europe This book does not examine these relationships through the prism of the knowledge of our modern contemporary European experience which still too often leads to the feeling of totally different worlds Rather it questions protagonists who in different times and in different places have reflected on their own terms on the links between environment and health and tries to obtain a better understanding of why these links took the form they did in these precise contexts This book targets an academic readership as well as an informed audience for whom present issues of environment and health can be nourished by the reflections of the past

A Sense of Place Mark A. Hutker, 2015-05-26 Thirteen exquisite houses create a portrait of life in one of America's most exclusive coastal destinations along the beaches of Martha's Vineyard and Cape Cod Hutker Architects led by founding principal Mark A. Hutker has designed more than three hundred houses along the New England shore A member of the close community on Martha's Vineyard since his arrival in 1985 Hutker has become an expert at interpreting the ideal lifestyles of his clients within the respected traditions and restrictive codes of the beautiful but fragile environment In their design and construction these houses honor the vernacular traditions of craft and indigenous materials are deeply respectful of the cherished landscape and demonstrate a lively range of solutions to building on the bluffs and dunes that line the shores of the Vineyard and Cape Cod A working organic farm fulfills a family's dream of simpler values a luxurious renovation saves the best of an antique shingle cottage while transforming it for contemporary family life and a raised structure clad in naturally weathered boards combines the legacy of midcentury regional modern architecture with Cape Cod's maritime tradition The firm is committed to the principle Build once well looking to the historic architecture of the region and the inherited experience of its carpenters and craftspeople as inspiration for contemporary design The result is an architecture that is at once adaptable and livable yet enduring efficient inevitable and appropriate The houses sit lightly on the land deferring to their surroundings often built as a series of modest pavilions linked by passages or grouped to enclose an outdoor space Creative design solutions a light filled gallery running the full length of a house a continuous wall of sliding glass doors make houses both open to views but protective in a storm Specially commissioned photography captures the craftsmanship and the settings of the houses from dramatic bluffs overlooking the sea to secluded coves and rolling meadows filled with wildflowers creating a unique portrait of Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard
