Senses And Communication:

The Senses and Communication Tim Halliday,1992 This is an introductory text to the neurophysiology of the senses and communication The study of the sensory systems of humans and other animals is closely linked to communication Combining the two subject areas in one volume provides an integrated approach to the senses drawing on both neuroanatomy and neurophysiology to provide a picture of the structure and function of the senses Understanding how the sensations provided by receptors are perceived within the brain is well illustrated by the example of hearing and perception of speech in humans Animal behaviour reminds us that our sensory view of the world is not the same as all other animals Different species have different windows on their world giving each a partial view of the environment as a whole The

Five Senses of Communication Michel Tréheux,2015-12-07 Senses and Communication Open University. Biology: Brain & Behaviour Course Team,1996-01-31 Sensitive Souls Brian J. Ford,1999 Starting from the assumption that humans have always believed themselves innately superior to other species this work sets about demolishing such views Can animals feel love Might they be sensitive and sentient rather than passive and reactive Multimodality in Language and Speech Systems Björn Granström,D. House,I. Karlsson,2013-04-17 This book is based on contributions to the Seventh European Summer School on Language and Speech Communication that was held at KTH in Stockholm Sweden in July of 1999 under the auspices of the European Language and Speech Network ELSNET The topic of the summer school was Multimodality in Language and Speech Systems MiLaSS The issue of multimodality in interpersonal face to face communication has been an important research topic for a number of years With the increasing sophistication of computer based interactive systems using language and speech the topic of multimodal interaction has received renewed interest both in terms of human human interaction and human machine interaction Nine lecturers contributed to the summer school with courses on specialized topics ranging from the technology and science of creating talking faces to human human communication which is mediated by computer for the handicapped Eight of the nine lecturers are represented in this book The summer school attracted more than 60 participants from Europe Asia and North America representing not only graduate students but also senior researchers from both academia and industry Personality and Telepathy Frank Challice

Information, Organisation and Technology Kecheng Liu,Rodney J. Clarke,Peter

Bøgh Andersen, Ronald K. Stamper, 2012-12-06 Organisational semiotics is a discipline that is concerned with the interrelationships between individuals and groups and between humans and technology functioning in organisations and society Organisational semiotics opens up the prospect of theory building and the development of new methods and techniques to gain insights into organised behaviour and enacted social practices in the presence and absence of various technologies It shares common interests with many other approaches to information and organisations such as computer science computational semiotics organisational engineering and language action perspective The common vision shared by these approaches is to treat organisations and related information systems and technologies within a unified semiotic framework with particular reference to the huge range of issues that elude many traditional disciplines The analysis and design of information systems develops methods for solving the practical problems but offers no rigorous theoretical foundation for them or how information functions within and between organisations The semiotic perspective accommodates the individual and the social the human and the technical intra and inter organisational interactions at a level of detail that is required in the study modelling design and engineering of new and alternative organisational and technical systems This perspective is outlined in the chapter presentations of Information Organisation and Technology Seth Speaks (A Seth Book) Jane Roberts, 2012-04-01 One of the most powerful of the Seth Books this essential guide to conscious living clearly and powerfully articulates the furthest reaches of human potential and the concept that we all create our own reality according to our individual beliefs Having withstood the test of time it is still considered one of the most dynamic and brilliant maps of inner reality available today The Seth books present an alternate map of reality with a new diagram of the psyche useful to all explorers of consciousness Deepak Chopra Seth was one of my first metaphysical teachers He remains a constant source of knowledge and inspiration in my life Marianne Williamson I would like to see the Seth books as required reading for anyone on their spiritual pathway The amazing in depth information in the Seth books is as relevant today as it was in the early 70s when Jane Roberts first channeled this material Louise Hay Animal Nature and Human Nature W.H. Thorpe, 2018-02-19 Our views on human nature are fundamental to the whole development indeed the whole future of human society Originally published in 1974 Professor Thorpe believed that this was one of the most important and significant topics to which a biologist can address himself and in this book he attempts a synthetic view of the nature of man and animal based on the five disciplines of physiology ethology genetics psychology and philosophy In a masterly survey of the natural order he shows the animal world as part of yet distinct from the inanimate world He then treats aspects of the animal world which approach the human world in behaviour and capabilities examining simple organisms communications in vertebrates and invertebrates innate behaviour versus acquired behaviour and animal perception In the second part of the book he deals with those aspects of human nature for which there is no analogy and which constitute man's uniqueness his consciousness of his past his awareness of his future and his desire to understand the meaning of his existence The primary facts which demonstrate the importance of this book arise from the ever growing power of man over his environment and his apparent inability to foresee and cope with the dangers of uncontrolled population growth on the one hand and the wildly irrational waste and degradation of the natural resources of the world on the other Professor Thorpe believes that an immense responsibility lies with literate men of good will particularly scientists to convince man that he is the spearhead and custodian of a stupendous evolutionary process Animal Nature and Human Nature integrates scientific fact with sound theological thought in an attempt to fulfil in a manner previously impossible Pascal's injunction that It is dangerous to show man too clearly how much he resembles the beast without at the same time showing him his greatness It is also dangerous to allow him too clear a vision of his greatness without his baseness It is even more dangerous to leave him in ignorance of both But it is very profitable to show him both

Presentation Planning and Media Relations for the Pharmaceutical Industry John Lidstone, 2019-01-15 This title was first published in 2003 Presenting information is a vital part of the job of both the medical director and other senior executives in the pharmaceutical industry and yet the majority receive no training for this Presentations have to be made internally to colleagues clinical staff marketing and product managers and medical sales representatives and externally to professional medical specialists and NHS staff the media and the general public Anyone who manages or communicates adverse news needs to do so quickly and effectively and be prepared to face difficult questions under media scrutiny In this book John Lidstone an author acknowledged by the industry as an expert in marketing and presentation skills provides readers with the tools and skills to make their presentations and media dealings a success The book is divided into two parts

Communications Control John M. Phelan, 1969 On communication and censorship Human Rights and Subjectivity Elisabeth Roy-Trudel, 2024-11-14 This book draws on a range of theoretical frameworks to challenge the limited conception of subjectivity upon which human rights are based The book focuses on some of the ways in which dominant discourses are in tension with human rights fundamental claim to universality by ignoring multiple ways of being Different theoretical and methodological approaches are used to analyse this creation of exclusions These include Hannah Arendt's figure of the refugee posthumanist critiques and non Western critical theories such as Black Indigenous and decolonial approaches Often these approaches are used in isolation but together they reveal how the dominant concept of subjectivity has always needed an Other and that the human at the heart of human rights is not a universal concept The book also pursues an analysis of visual discourses in the field of international human rights with a focus on the ways in which exclusions are represented and entrenched through the visual It argues that international human rights are based on a vision centred sensorium and certain processes of reasoning that exclude emotions Finally the book considers how international human rights could embrace other forms of thinking and being in the world and recognize different sensory experiences This original perspective on the limits of human rights will appeal to legal theorists socio legal scholars and others working in politics sociology anthropology and cultural studies with an interest in contemporary approaches to social justice and critical approaches Alternative and Activist New Media Leah A. Lievrouw, 2013-05-06 Alternative and Activist New Media provides a rich and accessible overview of the ways in which activists artists and citizen groups around the world use new media and information technologies to gain visibility and voice present alternative or marginal views share their own DIY information systems and content and otherwise resist talk back to or confront dominant media culture Today a lively and contentious cycle of capture cooptation and subversion of information content and system design marks the relationship between the mainstream center and the interactive participatory edges of media culture Five principal forms of alternative and activist new media projects are introduced including the characteristics that make them different from more conventional media forms and content The book traces the historical roots of these projects in alternative media social movements and activist art including analyses of key case studies and links to relevant electronic resources Alternative and Activist New Media will be a useful addition to any course on new media and society and essential for readers interested in new media activism
