Separate Development:

Geography And Development Arthur Morris, 2005-08-15 First published in 1998 Written in a highly accessible style this book examines economic development processes across the world The old certainties of what constitutes development and whether it is the same for all peoples no longer exist Goals once imposed by agencies like the World Bank are increasingly questioned and the spatial development planning characteristics of the 1960s and 70s is increasingly seen as an intrusion into free and competitive markets Indeed a question now being asked is should development be promoted at all This book examines these fundamental issues and presents and evaluates the different theoretical approaches to development Each country has its own tale to tell and by using valuable case study material the author shows how different policies have impacted on the geography of regions Processes of development in the newly industrialised countries NICS of South Korea and Singapore are examined as well as the flexible specialisation model characteristic of many Mediterranean countries and the post industrial service economies based on high technology The book argues convincingly that the fundamental spatial and temporal patterns of development in modern times are no longer the importance of physical resources but the complex human resources and the determination to work Anchored firmly in the needs of students this book will be widely welcomed by undergraduates taking courses in human geography and development studies Coordinated Urban Economic

Worldmaking after Empire Adom Getachew, 2019-02-05 Decolonization revolutionized the international order during the twentieth century Yet standard histories that present the end of colonialism as an inevitable transition from a world of empires to one of nations a world in which self determination was synonymous with nation building obscure just how radical this change was Drawing on the political thought of anticolonial intellectuals and statesmen such as Nnamdi Azikiwe W E B Du Bois George Padmore Kwame Nkrumah Eric Williams Michael Manley and Julius Nyerere this important new account of decolonization reveals the full extent of their unprecedented ambition to remake not only nations but the world Adom Getachew shows that African American and Caribbean anticolonial nationalists were not solely or even primarily nation builders Responding to the experience of racialized sovereign inequality dramatized by interwar Ethiopia and Liberia Black Atlantic thinkers and politicians challenged international racial hierarchy and articulated alternative visions of worldmaking Seeking to create an egalitarian postimperial world they attempted to transcend legal political and economic hierarchies by securing a right to self determination within the newly founded United Nations constituting regional federations in Africa and the Caribbean and creating the New International Economic Order Using archival sources from Barbados Trinidad Ghana Switzerland and the United Kingdom Worldmaking after Empire recasts the history of decolonization reconsiders the failure of anticolonial nationalism and offers a new perspective on debates about today's international order
