Children's Problems in Text Comprehension Nicola Yuill, Jane Oakhill, 1991-09-19. A 1991 examination of children's comprehension abilities by Yuill and Oakhill.

Including the Gifted and Talented Chris Smith, 2006-06-01. This single volume presents the views of experts from the field which challenge the assumption that educational inclusion relates only to those pupils with learning difficulties. In this book the authors examine the extent to which a truly inclusive context can provide a challenging environment for gifted and talented pupils. Key issues explored include the social and emotional aspects of being a gifted and talented pupil, the pros and cons of being labelled gifted and talented in very young children, why regular classrooms are the best place to educate gifted and talented pupils, modifying the basic school curriculum to meet the needs of gifted and talented pupils, What is submerged talent and how can it be found. As the Government has recently initiated the Excellence in Cities scheme, this thought provoking volume is an invaluable read to student teachers, practitioners, academics and researchers who wish to further their study in this hot topic.

Research-Based Methods of Reading Instruction, Grades K-3 Sharon Vaughn, Vaughn, Sylvia Linan-Thompson, 2004-08-15. What does research tell us about how teachers can most effectively help young students learn to read? In Research Based Methods of Reading Instruction, Grades K-3, Sharon Vaughn and Sylvia Linan Thompson explore the research on reading, providing a comprehensive overview of the five core instructional areas and how each affects student achievement: Phonemic awareness, Phonics, and Word Study, Fluency, Vocabulary, Comprehension. The authors include dozens of reading activities and lesson plans that teachers can use immediately, all of which have worked in actual classrooms and are grounded in solid research. A glossary and annotated resource lists will help you better understand key reading concepts and find reliable resources, including relevant Web sites. Whether your students have special needs or show no apparent learning difficulties, this book will expand your repertoire of teaching strategies and help you put students on the road to literacy.

Speaking, Reading, and Writing in Children With Language Learning Disabilities Katharine G. Butler, Elaine R. Silliman, 2001-12. This work shows that being literate requires more than functional literacy: the recognition of printed words as meaningful. It requires the knowledge of how to use language as a tool for analysing, synthesizing and integrating what is heard or read in order to arrive at new interpretations.
