Designing a new industry award for service excellence competition in retailing Lars Merle, Tobias Schachner, 2003-10-22 Inhaltsangabe Abstract This thesis resolves the need for an industry award for service excellence in retailing based on a comprehensive framework to foster management quality A service excellence framework is developed and the design for a new service excellence award is proposed The proposed framework is based on the Industrial Excellence Award In addition to the original four fundamental processes a fifth component is introduced the customer To complete the framework the seven components of management quality known from the IEA are adopted This framework is the structure for the self assessment questionnaire that will be the core of the new Best Retailer service excellence award Through an extensive literature review success factors and empirically tested items for questionnaires were identified and assigned to the corresponding sections in the questionnaire The result is a collection of questions that if appropriately considered by management can help introducing service excellence in the retailing industry The modus operandi of a possible future award competition is suggested to stay close the example of the IEA in order to leverage the existing brand This should help to popularize the new award to create outstanding showcases quickly and to disseminate excellent management quality in the industry Inhaltsverzeichnis Inhaltsverzeichnis AcknowledgementsII List of abbreviations 3 Executive Summary5 1 Introduction6 2 Retailing8 2 1Developments and Trends8 2 1 1Modern History of Retailing and Retailing Formats8 2 1 2Past and Future Trends11 2 2Strategies Concepts18 2 2 1Retailing Classifications18 2 2 2Positioning20 2 2 3Strategies for Competitive Advantage21 2 2 4Scientific Concepts in Retailing23 2 3Success Factors in Retailing28 2 3 1Employees29 2 3 2Technology32 2 3 3Customer Service33 3 3 Service37 3 1Strategies and Concepts39 3 1 1Service Business Classifications39 3 1 2Strategies for Service firms41 3 1 3Excellence42 3 1 4Service Concepts in Literature49 3 2Service Management57 3 2 1Service Management Functions59 3 2 2The Service Process61 3 2 3The Service System61 3 3New Service Design Development63 3 3 1The Service Concept64 3 3 2The Service Positioning Matrix64 3 3 3NSD Process Cycle66 3 3 4NSD Innovation Matrix67 3 3 5Service Blueprinting68 3 4Service Quality and Customer Satisfaction69 3 4 1Overall Service Quality69 3 4 2Service Process Quality72 3 4 3Perceived Service Customer Processes in Business-to-Business Service Transactions Janine Frauendorf,2007-12-08 Services cannot be produced without customer participation This aspect involves significant consequences for services management The integration of the customer and the integration of the external resources that customers need to provide require comprehensive means to coordinate the activities of suppliers and customers Services management Literature is based on the idea that the success of service companies mainly depends on an effective and efficient design of supplier and customer interfaces As a result academic and practice oriented service management problems are concerned with managing service processes However most approaches are focused on the supplier process side Here numerous concepts as well as IT supported tools for service process documentation and service process management have been developed Customer processes on the contrary have mostly been ignored even though it is obvious that they have a high impact on the overall success of the service process The present work is a major step forward to close that research gap The author analyses the customer influence on efficiency and effectiveness of the service process depending on the customer's service process knowledge The empirical data of the thesis was gained from a practice study it was made in cooperation with a corporate division of T Systems International that provides business customers with virus wall and firewall service packages for data network security The study is based on the assumption that service customers have a script i e a relatively precise image of the structure and process of the service transaction

Service, Satisfaction and Climate: Perspectives on Management in English Language Teaching John Walker,2010-10-06 Service Satisfaction and Climate Perspectives on Management in English Language Teaching presents the results of research carried out in New Zealand to demonstrate the ways ELT can be conceptualized in terms of service and climate Although ESL is a major worldwide service industry employing large numbers of professionals and serving millions of clients it is an under researched field and one that is under represented in the management business literature This omission is particularly noticeable given that ELT has its own particular themes problems and issues For instance ELT is an educational service yet exists within a commercial context Its clients are from different cultural and linguistic backgrounds In many ELT contexts the cultural and linguistic backgrounds of the service providers are different from those of the clients Thus the service provision has a strong cross cultural dimension Yet the ELT sector is largely missing from the educational and the management literature This book seeks to fill the gap through discussion of ELT as a service issues surrounding ELT teachers as service providers the work of ELT managers client expectations and perceptions of ELT service comparison of staff estimates and client ratings of service quality and considerations of service milieu and climate in ELT centers
