I Am Sacajawea, I Am York Claire Rudolph Murphy, 2005-10-01. When Lewis and Clark's Corps of Discovery set out in the spring of 1804 they had chosen to go on an unprecedented extremely dangerous journey. It would be the adventure of a lifetime. Unlike others in the group, two key members did not choose to join the hazardous expedition: York, Clark's slave, and Sacajawea, considered to be the property of Charbonneau, the expedition's translator. The unique knowledge and skills Sacajawea and York had were essential to the success of the trip. The dual stories of these two outsiders who earned their way into the inner core of the Lewis and Clark Expedition shed new light on one of the most exciting and important undertakings in American history. Claire Rudolf Murphy is the author of many books, including Children of the Gold Rush, which School Library Journal lauded as a positive satisfying immersion into a little known subject. After living in Alaska for twenty-four years, Claire returned to her hometown of Spokane, Washington, with her husband and two children. She felt drawn to Sacajawea's and York's stories when she started hiking around the region and realized that she had grown up only 105 miles away from the Lewis and Clark trail and about 400 miles from where Sacajawea and York voted on where to build their winter fort. Higgins Bond illustrated The Seven Seas: Exploring the World Ocean for Walker Company. School Library Journal commented that her realistic, vivid illustrations in The Seven Seas envelop and transport readers to these waters. Higgins earned her BFA from the Memphis College of Art. She has illustrated numerous children's books and created commemorative stamps for the U.S. Postal Service. She lives in Nashville, Tennessee.

A Traditionalist History of the Great War, Book II Alexander Wolfheze,2021-01-27 This book analyzes the world of 1914 by combining the approaches of traditionalist hermeneutics and 20th century geopolitics The juxtaposition of these two frameworks incorporated in the principles of Sacred Geography and Sea Power allows for a Traditionalist perspective on the choices facing the Ten Great Powers on the eve of the Great War The book s multifaceted approach follows the iconoclastic culture critique method of the Traditional School that was developed by Ren Gu non Frithjof Schuon and Julius Evola it shows the pre war world as essentially different from the post war world Thus the Ten Great Power protagonists of the Great War may be understood on their own terms rather than through a backward projection of politically correct values on the existentially different human life world of 1914 Dislodging the historical materialist progress premise that underpins contemporary academic historiography this book reasserts the highest claim of the Art of History meta narrative meaning
