Australians in Papua New Guinea 1960-1975 Ceridwen Spark, 2014-06-01 Australians in Papua New Guinea provides a history of the late Australian years in Papua New Guinea through the eyes of 13 Australians and four Papua New Guineans by presenting the experiences of Australians who went to work in Papua New Guinea PNG over several decades before the 1970s This extraordinary book balances expatriates with indigenous Papua New Guineans balances gender and pioneers an innovative combination of written reminiscences and interviews that reveal the impact of Australian colonial policy on pre independence PNG It follows medical practitioners Michael Alpers Ken Clezy Margaret Smith Ian Maddocks and Anthony Radford with accompanying reflections by wife Robin who grappled with complex medical issues in difficult surroundings Other contributors John Langmore John Ley and Bill Brown became experts in governance The final group featured was involved in education and social change Ken Inglis Bill Gammage and Christine Stewart Papua New Guinean contributors medical expert Sir Isi Henao Kevau diplomats Charles Lepani and Dame Meg Taylor and educator and politician Dame Carol Kidu further deepen the insights of this collection A final reflection is provided by historian Jonathan Ritchie himself part of an Australian family in PNG The history of this important Pacific nation unfolds as do the histories of individuals who were involved in its formative decades Intercultural Postgraduate Supervision Catherine Manathunga,2014-06-27 The impact of globalisation and aggressive marketing by universities has increased the flow of international or culturally diverse students enrolling in postgraduate research degree programs outside their own countries As access to postgraduate education widens more local culturally diverse and Indigenous students are also enrolling in higher degree studies As a result significantly more academics now engage in intercultural supervision or supervising students who are culturally different to themselves This book argues that empowering intercultural supervision can result from more nuanced critical and theoretically based understandings of time place and knowledge It shows how a range of Southern theories including postcolonial Indigenous feminist social and cultural geography theories about history geography and knowledge can offer fresh insights into intercultural supervision The author suggests that by using the conceptual tools offered by these Southern theories the more complex but potentially rich aspects of intercultural supervision can be better understood and grappled with In particular these theories enable us to challenge assumptions about the universality and timelessness of Northern knowledge and to create space for the recovery and further development of Southern Eastern and Indigenous knowledges within intercultural supervision This book will be of value to academic supervisors and postgraduate students especially those engaged in intercultural supervision as well as researchers and scholars in the field of higher education
