Mothers Alone Poverty And The Fatherless Family:

Mothers Alone; Poverty and the Fatherless Family Dennis Marsden,1973 Single Mothers in Twentieth-century Ireland and Britain Lorraine Grimes,2025-08-21 Throughout the Twentieth Century many women in Ireland and Britain endured shame and institutionalisation for becoming pregnant outside of marriage In this welcome study Lorraine Grimes examines the journeys made by hundreds of pregnant Irish women to Britain as they fled to escape their local communities Their experiences in Britain however were not free of stigma and Grimes s book analyses the nuances of the institutional networks both in Britain and Ireland which these women utilised Single Mothers in Twentieth Century Ireland and Britain focuses on the experiences of women from 1926 1973 in cities with high Irish emigrant populations including London Liverpool Birmingham and Glasgow Unlike official narratives such as Ireland s Commission of Investigation into the Mother and Baby Homes this book prioritises the experiences of the survivors and ensure that women s experiences are central to the narrative It also incorporates original interviews with children born in institutions and for the first time interviews with religious and medical staff are also included in the historiography Using archival research and oral history Grimes reveals the methods British and Irish institutions developed from forced adoption to repatriation and the impacts of this on the women and children s lives Grimes makes a significant contribution to the historiography surrounding the movement of women and children across international borders through repatriation and adoption between institutions on both sides of the Irish Sea From extensive archival research this book reveals cases of Irish single mothers seeking assistance in Britain as well as cases of rape incest and domestic violence within the institutional records In addition archival cases expose prejudice towards women from other colonial countries in institutions in Britain particularly from the 1960s A first for the field Single Mothers includes a chapter on the experiences of single fathers Sensitive to the underlying issues of class and gender politics the book also shows that women often enacted a large degree of agency to improve their situation If you are interested in women s political and social history and the history of the institutional relationships of Britain and Ireland this book is essential reading Sinners? Scroungers? Saints? Pat Thane,Tanya Evans,2012-05 Covers the stories of unwed mothers and one of the voluntary organization that supported them throughout the century The National Council for the Unmarried Mother and Her Child which renamed itself The National Council for One Parent Families and is now after a merger called Gingerbread Lone Parent Families Karen Rowlingson,Stephen Mckay,2014-02-04 Appropriate as supplemental reading for courses in Social Policy and Social Studies that examine the role of parenting in society The subject of lone mothers is a controversial and highly topical social and political issue This unique core text examines the key issues in the debate and assesses their impact on the UK and other countries in a comprehensive and accessible way Broad in scope it covers a wide range of issues including gender roles the relationship of the family and the state and the relationship between social policy and labour market policy Lone Mothers in Ireland A. McCashin,1996 Based on interviews of lone mothers with young dependent children Looks at the economic and social circumstances of a group of lone mothers in north Dublin

Social Science and Social Policy Martin I A Bulmer,2021-12-29 First published in 1986 Social Science and Social Policy addresses major questions concerned with the social utility of social science The book is divided into four parts The first part considers the place of social science in the policy making process and criticizes the rational model which gives a central place to analysis In part two five different methodologies for policy research are considered the use of continuous surveys public opinion polls social indicators evaluation research and social experimentations and the use of qualitative methods The advantages and drawbacks of each are considered with extensive use of examples In the third part the role of theory is examined Particular attention is paid to the issue of health inequality In part four general questions are raised about the use and abuse of social science including questions about how it can be most effectively disseminated to make maximum impact The book is aimed at a general readership and requires no special methodological expertise It will appeal particularly to undergraduates and graduate students taking courses in social policy public policy applied sociology and a range of applied social sciences such as criminology health studies education and social work

Social Construction of Gender Inequality in the Housing System Paul Pennartz,Anke Niehof,2019-05-23 First published in 1997 this volume recognises the issue of gender inequality in Hong Kong housing The invisibility of the housing problem is compounded by the dominant patriarchal Chinese culture in Hong Kong The issue remains marginal in Western countries as well despite increasing concern Kam Wah Chan makes meaningful insightful progress on the housing issue in Hong Kong by focusing on the crucial issues of housing for lone mothers and for women in new towns

Claimant or Client? Olive Stevenson,2021-11-07 Originally published in 1973 the aim of this book was to consider the relationship of a vital element in our social security system the Supplementary Benefits Commission to the personal social services in particular to social work Notions of entitlement and rights in means tested benefit schemes are examined in relation to those claimants including unsupported mothers and the so called voluntary unemployed who present particular difficulties to those administering the scheme For many who claim supplementary benefit their only need is prompt efficient financial service For a few their financial need is inextricably bound up with complex social and psychological difficulties For such cases the civil servants who administer the British Supplementary Benefits scheme need skill beyond that normally expected of such persons and their relationship with the social workers who are or should be in touch with such claimants becomes crucial The book considers some of the underlying ethical issues in particular the tension between equitable and individualised justice involved in the exercise of discretion It describes the structure and organisation of the Supplementary Benefits scheme and analyses the roles of officials that bear on welfare It also examines the current situation with regard to the selection and training of officials and discusses the attitudes of social workers to officials This work drawing on the unique experience of the author as the first Social Work Adviser to the Supplementary Benefits Commission was the first study of its kind to be published in this country and would be of great value to all students and teachers of social work at the time as well as to a wide readership of social scientists

The Indebted Society Janet Ford,2018-02-06 This book is about debt a situation which affects a large and growing number of people In Britain alone in 1986 more than 2 million people were sued for debt in the county courts But debt cannot be understood apart from credit and the 1980s have seen a substantial increase in the amount of credit available In The Indebted Society Janet Ford gives both an overview of the contemporary credit and debt society and a discussion of the borrower s experience and management of debt As well as providing a critical examination of the growth and changing structure of credit provision describing the social and economic base for such growth and considering explanations for the emergence of default and contemporary attitudes to debt she also presents a detailed study of forty households with mortgage arrears placing these personal histories within the broader structure of a credit and debt society

Dissolving Wedlock Dr Colin Gibson,Colin Gibson,2002-09-11 The divorce rate has been rising significantly throughout the twentieth century By interweaving the historical demographic sociological legal political and policy aspects of this increase Colin Gibson explores the effects it has had on family patterns and habits Dissolving Wedlock presents a multi disciplinary examination of all the socio legal consequences of family breakdown Dissolving Wedlock will be invaluable reading to all lecturers and students of social policy sociology and social work as well as to professionals and lawyers working in the field of divorce Understanding Child Abuse and Neglect in Contemporary Caribbean Society Beatrice E. Kirton, 2011-10-24 Child Abuse as a social problem in the Caribbean has only within the past thirty years gained recognition and attention since the emphasis was placed on the more prevalent maternal and child health problems The phenomenon of child abuse and neglect however is not clearly defined due to inadequate surveillance systems within the territories Studies based on reported cases have established that there are traditional child rearing practices which adversely affect some Caribbean children due to many factors ranging from poverty inequality oppression gender issues socio economic disadvantages and loss of values Because of these deficiencies various forms of child abuse have been identified particularly in the urban areas which may be considered the outcome of abnormalities in the parent child relationship and of the society The Book presents a comprehensive portrayal of the phenomenon of child abuse and neglect in Caribbean society drawing on research and clinical experience It incorporates history case scenarios and a variety of effective intervention strategies In addition it explains case management procedures focusing on how various professions can become involved in the child protection process and the need to convey in a different light the changes that need to occur to break the cycle of child abuse and neglect The Book is written for professionals who work in the best interest of children on a daily basis and intended to offer a good basic introduction to the topic It is a useful tool for therapists educators students social workers nurses police officers It is intended to stimulate those who read it not only to improve their day to day practice in responding to child abuse but will also broaden their perspective about child abuse and neglect The Book also explains how the needs of children and the relationship between them and their parents are predictive of child abuse and neglect and examines its nature causes recognition and response its effects on children the legislation and the social and other obstacles to effective implementation of the Law The author draws attention to the fact that the majority of this study focuses primarily on people of African descent since little is known about children in other ethnic groups An Introduction to Medical Sociology David Tuckett, 2013-12-19 Tavistock Press was established as a co operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press Reproduced here in facsimile this volume was originally published in 1976 and is available individually The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection Feminist Lives Lynn Abrams, 2023-10-03 Could women be feminist without feminism Could they foster feminist activism without a movement or an ideology Could they recraft ways of being female without a plan Feminist Lives adopts a woman centred approach to explore these questions and to understand how British women charted a new way of being female in the three decades before the Women's Liberation Movement By focusing on the transition generation of women who were born in the long 1940s and who grew to maturity in the 1950s 60s and 70s the book demonstrates that it was they who developed the aspirational model of womanhood that then emerged after 1970 as the norm amongst women in the global north In doing so Feminist Lives seeks to fill the feminist history gap countering a narrative that has for too long neglected this generation of women as fusty and failing and as just not feminist enough Using women's voices as the book's evidential and emotional core as they describe themselves their relationships their feelings and actions this volume analyses the modes by which women constructed a modern self built upon new ways of living feeling and being

Parenting in Global Perspective Charlotte Faircloth, Diane M. Hoffman, Linda L. Layne, 2013-10-28 Drawing on both sociological and anthropological perspectives this volume explores cross national trends and everyday experiences of parenting Parenting in Global Perspective examines the significance of parenting as a subject of professional expertise and activity in which adults are increasingly expected to be emotionally absorbed and become personally fulfilled By focusing the significance of parenting as a form of relationship and as mediated by family relationships across time and space the book explores the points of accommodation and points of tension between parenting as defined by professionals and those experienced by parents themselves Specific themes include the ways in which the moral context for parenting is negotiated and sustained the structural constraints to good parenting particularly in cases of immigration or reproductive technologies the relationship between intimate family life and broader cultural trends parenting culture policy making and nationhood parenting and as adult identity work Including contributions on parenting from a range of ethnographic locales from Europe Canada and the US to non Euro American settings such as Turkey Chile and Brazil this volume presents a uniquely critical and international perspective which positions parenting as a global ideology that intersects in a variety of ways with the political social cultural and economic positions of parents and families
