Steiner,Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),1997 The art collection assembled by Edgar Degas was remarkable not only for its quality size and depth but also for its revelation of Degas's artistic affinities. He acquired great numbers of works by the nineteenth century French masters Ingres, Delacroix and Daumier; he bought or bartered his own pictures for art by many of his contemporaries, particularly Manet, Cézanne, Gauguin and Cassatt; and he acquired works by a wide range of other artists from eminent to little known. The extent of Degas's holdings was not recognized until after his death when the collection came up for auction in Paris in 1918 and in what was called the sale of the century was widely dispersed. Extensive research has made it possible to reassemble that collection in book form. This summary catalogue contains information on the more than five thousand works owned by Degas. For each work catalogued the entry includes to the extent possible a description with medium and dimensions, provenance information about Degas's acquisition and ownership of the work, information pertaining to the sale of the work in 1918 or its disposal earlier, including the purchaser, purchase price and other data, the current location, selected references and an illustration. In a concordance collection, sale lot numbers are listed with their corresponding summary catalogue numbers. This catalogue and its companion volume of essays are published in conjunction with the exhibition The Private Collection of Edgar Degas held at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, from October 1, 1997 to January 11, 1998. Spring Cannot Be Cancelled: David Hockney in Normandy Martin Gayford, David Hockney, 2021-05-25 David Hockney reflects upon life and art as he experiences lockdown in rural Normandy in this inspiring book which includes conversations with the artist and his latest artworks. On turning eighty, David Hockney sought out rustic tranquility for the first time, a place to watch the sunset and the change of the seasons, a place to keep the madness of the world at bay. So when Covid 19 and lockdown struck, it made little difference to life at La Grande Cour, the centuries-old Normandy farmhouse where Hockney set up a studio a year earlier in time to paint the arrival of spring. In fact, he relished the enforced isolation as an opportunity for even greater devotion to his art. Spring Cannot Be Cancelled is an uplifting manifesto that affirms art's capacity to divert and inspire. It is based on a wealth of new conversations and correspondence between Hockney and art critic Martin Gayford, his long-time friend and collaborator. Their exchanges are illustrated by a selection of Hockney's new Normandy drawings and paintings alongside works by Van Gogh, Monet, Bruegel and others. We see how Hockney is propelled ever forward by his infectious enthusiasms and sense of wonder. A lifelong contrarian, he has been in the public eye for sixty years yet remains entirely unconcerned by the view of critics or even history. He is utterly absorbed by his four acres of northern France and by the themes that have fascinated him for decades: light, color, space, perception, water, trees. He has much to teach us, not only about how to see but about how to live.

Vincent van Gogh by Vincent van Gogh - Volume 2
Victoria Charles, 2019-12-09 This paradox, the sadness and health of the country, reflects van Gogh's own situation. Nature always was a kind of home for him, a home that he could never share with anyone else. In Saint Rémy, van Gogh had worked on a picture named The Reaper. For I see in this reaper the image of death in the sense that humanity might be the wheat he is reaping So he is if you like the antithesis of that sower I tried to do before But there s nothing sad in this death it goes its way in broad daylight with the sun flooding everything with a light of pure gold A few weeks before his suicide van Gogh had written to Theo Even if I have not succeeded all the same I think that what I have worked at will be carried on Not directly but one isn t alone in believing in things that are true And what does it matter personally then I feel so strongly that it is the same with people as it is with wheat if you are not sown in the earth to germinate there what does it matter In the end you are ground between the millstones to become bread The difference between happiness and unhappiness Both are necessary and useful as well as death or disappearance it is so relative and life is the same

Gogh, Victoria Charles, 2014-02-14 The incarnation of the myth of a cursed artist Vincent van Gogh 1853 1890 is a legend who became a reference for modern art An Expressionist during the Post Impressionist movement his art was misunderstood during his lifetime In Holland he partook in the Dutch realist painting movement by studying peasant characters Anxious and depressed Vincent van Gogh produced more than 2000 artworks yet sold only one in his lifetime A self made artist his work is known for its rough and emotional beauty and is amongst the most popular in the art market today Over to You John

Berger, Yves Berger, 2024-11-12 Compelling and intimate this collection of never before seen letters between the celebrated art critic and essayist John Berger and his son Yves an artist is a moving look at their musings on art memory life death and beyond Written between 2015 16 with 53 color images of well known old masters and contemporary art as well as some of the Bergers own drawings and watercolors Over to You is an informal back and forth not unlike the ping pong games father and son used to play in the barn of their house It begins when John who is in a Parisian suburb sends Yves who is in Haute Savoie an envelope of reproductions of art that have moved him And so they begin to reveal their thoughts looking at a Goya Watteau Twombly Joan Mitchell Durer Caravaggio Manet and Euan Uglow among many others But the art is just a way to summon shared emotions and memories as well as deepen their understanding of the world and its mysteries John at 89 is the more formal teacher Yves at 39 comes across as the younger philosophical artist There are John s thoughts on the use of color light and space in say a D rer or a Beckmann to the question of staying fully alive or Yves noting how much in life exceeds our understanding the gap between our consciousness and our feeling between the said and the unsaid That s the zone where I would like us to meet Are you coming He asks his father I may need other eyes to confirm what is really there Like your eyes always did This is an exceptional and moving tribute to a relationship between a father and son and between two artists as well as a thought provoking look at questions we all have about work time the universe life and death
