Other Side Of Language A Philosophy Of Listening:

Filosofia Dell'ascolto Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 1995

The Other Side of Language Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 1995

Our philosophy is grounded in only half a language in which the power of discourse is deployed while the strength of listening is ignored. We inhabit a culture that knows how to speak but not how to listen so we mistake warring monologues for genuine dialogue. Western philosophies have consistently endowed expressive language with the power of communication reducing the unspeaking non expressive Other to a void a negation. In this remarkable book Gemma Corradi Fiumara redresses the balance by looking at the other side of language listening. Synthesizing the insights of Wittgenstein Heidegger and Gadamer among many others she puts forward a powerful argument for the replacement of the silent silence of Western thought with the rich openness of an authentic listening.

The Other Side of Language Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 1990. First published in 1990. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company.

Rhetorical Listening Krista Ratcliffe, 2005. Long ignored within rhetoric and composition studies listening has returned to the disciplinary radar. Rhetorical Listening Identification Gender Whiteness argues that rhetorical listening facilitates conscious identifications needed for cross cultural communication.

The Mind's Affective Life Gemma Fiumara Corradi, 2014-06-11. The Mind's Affective Life is a refreshing and innovative examination of the relationship between feeling and thinking. Our thoughts and behaviour are shaped by both our emotions and reason yet until recently most of the literature analysing thought has concentrated largely on philosophical reasoning and neglected emotions. This book is an original and provocative contribution to the rapidly growing literature on the neglected affective dimensions of modern thought. The author draws on contemporary psychoanalysis philosophy feminist theory and recent innovations in neuroscience to argue that in order to understand thought we need to consider not only both emotional and rational aspects of thought but also the complex interactions between these different aspects. Only through such a rich and complicated understanding of modern thought can we hope to avoid what the author identifies as a significant contemporary problems for individuals and cultures that is suppression or denial of intolerable states of feeling. The Mind's Affective Life will appeal to and inspire students and practitioners of philosophy psychoanalysis psychotherapy and women's studies. It will also be of great interest to anyone interested in the interaction of feeling and thinking.

Literary Silences in Pascal, Rousseau, and Beckett Elisabeth Marie Loevlie, 2003. To explore literary silence is to explore the relationships between literary texts and the silence of the ineffable. It is to enquire what dynamics texts develop as they strive to say the unsayable and it is to think literature as a silence that speaks itself. This study describes these literary and silent dynamics through readings of Pascal's Pensées Rousseau's Rêveries and Beckett's trilogy Molloy Malone meurt and L'Innommable. It contributes to our understanding of three major writers and challenges our idea of what silence is. The subject of silence and of the ineffable has a long philosophical and critical tradition. A careful study of this tradition reveals the dominance of a limiting dualistic understanding of silence and its relationship to noise or language silence becomes the negative other the beyond about which there remains nothing to say The study of literary silence seeks rather to trace a language that becomes its own silence It compromises the attempt to think a silence that moves within and through texts that is inherent to the literary expression Central to this theoretical endeavour are thinkers like Derrida Deleuze Gadamer and Vattimo among several others The theoretical understanding of silence permits an effective methodology for reading literary silence Notions of repetition the aporia and the implosion which are developed in reference to Kierkegaard and Bataille describe textual strategies of literary silence and structure the readings Finally the reading of literary silence has its point of reference in writers like Mallarm Blanchot and Beckett It is their texts that have taught us to become topological readers to move in and out of texts movements they have shown us how the literary expression is irreducible to linear meaning oriented language As readers of such texts we have been prepared to read the dynamics of the unsayable and finally to start discerning the silences of the literary

Madwomen in Social Justice Movements, Literatures, and Art Jessica Lowell Mason, Nicole Crevar, 2023-01-10 Madwomen in Social Justice Movements Literatures and Art boldly reasserts the importance of the Madwoman more than four decades after the publication of Sandra Gilbert and Susan Gubar's seminal work in feminist literary criticism The Madwoman in the Attic Since Gilbert and Gubar's work was published the Madwoman has reemerged to do important work rock the academic boat and ignite social justice agency inside and outside of academic spaces moving beyond the literary context that defined the Madwoman in the late 20th century In this dynamic collection of essays scholars creative writers and Mad activists come together to re define the Madwoman in pluralistic and expansive ways and to realize new potential in Mad agency This collection blazes new directions of thinking through Madness as a gendered category comprised of a combination of creative works that re imagine the figure of the Madwoman speeches in which Mad identifying artists and writers reclaim the label of Madwoman and scholarly essays that articulate ambitious theories of the Madwoman The collection is an interdisciplinary scholarly resource that will appeal to multiple academic fields including literary studies disability studies feminist studies and Mad studies Additionally the work contributes to the countermovement against colonial sanist patriarchal and institutional social practices that continue to silence women and confine them to the metaphorical attic Appealing to a broad audience of readers Madwomen in Social Justice Movements Literatures and Art is a cutting edge inquiry into the implications of Madness as a theoretical tool in which dissenting deviant and abnormal women and gender non conforming writers artists and activists open the door to Mad futurities

Sensible Religion Christopher Lewis, Dan Cohn-Sherbok, 2016-04-01 Around the globe religion is under attack Humanists secularists and atheists depict believers as deluded and dangerous The aim of this book is to challenge this perception Sensible Religion defends the validity and emphasises the excitement of the religious quest across the faiths It demonstrates that the practice of sensible religion is often a courageous path pitted against religious extremism and secularism Written by committed believers from the major world's faiths the book endorses the term sensible as expressing religious reasonableness as well as sensitivity to criticism and new insights Followers of the different traditions live ordinary lives in the mainstream of the world This volume therefore addresses beliefs and the manner in which these convictions relate to social political and ethical action Countering the argument that religion is at root extremist and irrational Sensible Religion brings together thoughtful and critical reflections by leading thinkers about humanity's spiritual quest

Listening for Democracy Andrew Dobson, 2014 Although much prized in daily conversation good listening has been almost completely ignored in that form of political conversation we know as democracy This book examines the reasons why so little attention has been paid to the listening aspect of democratic conversation explores the role that listening might play in democracy and outlines some institutional changes that could be made to make listening more central to democratic processes The focus on listening amounts to a reorientation of democratic theory and practice providing novel perspectives on enduring themes in democracy such as recognition representation power and legitimacy as well as some new ones such as silence Eschewing the pessimism of the realist turn in democratic theory the book shows how attention to listening can breathe life into the democratic project and help us to realise some of its objectives Drawing on practical examples and multidisciplinary sources the book shows how listening should be at the heart of representative and deliberative democracy rather than peripheral to them It develops a notion of dialogic democracy based on structured apophatic listening and meets the challenge of showing how this could be incorporated in parliamentary democracies What should we be listening out for This book addresses the question of political noise and uses the idea of recognition to develop an account of politics that takes us beyond the Aristotelian speaking being towards a Deweyan notion of the event around which publics coalesce

The New Cambridge Companion to Biblical Interpretation Ian Boxall, Bradley C. Gregory, 2022-12-22 This Cambridge Companion offers an up to date and accessible guide to the fast changing discipline of biblical studies Written by scholars from diverse backgrounds and religious commitments many of whom are pioneers in their respective fields the volume covers a range of contemporary scholarly methods and interpretive frameworks The volume reflects the diversity and globalized character of biblical interpretation in which neat boundaries between author focused text focused and reader focused approaches are blurred The significant space devoted to the reception of the Bible in art literature liturgy and religious practice also blurs the distinction between professional and popular biblical interpretation The volume provides an ideal introduction to the various ways that scholars are currently interpreting the Bible It offers both beginning and advanced students an understanding of the state of biblical interpretation and how to explore each topic in greater depth

Listening to the Whispers Christine Sorrell Dinkins, Jeanne Merkle Sorrell, 2006-07-05 Listening to the Whispers gives voice to scholars in philosophy medical anthropology physical therapy and nursing helping readers re think ethics across the disciplines in the context of today s healthcare system Diverse voices often unheard challenge readers to enlarge the circle of their ethical concerns and look for hidden pathways toward new understandings of ethics Essays range from a focus on the context of corporatization and managed care environments to a call for questioning the fundamental values of society as these values silently affect many others in healthcare Each chapter is followed by a brief essay that highlights issues useful for scholarly research and classroom discussion The conversations of interpretive research in healthcare contained in this volume encourage readers to re think ethics in ways that will help to create an ethical healthcare system with a future of new possibilities Outstanding Academic Title Choice Magazine

Audio Culture, Revised Edition Christoph Cox, Daniel Warner, 2017-07-27 The groundbreaking Audio Culture Readings in Modern Music Continuum September 2004 paperback original maps the aural and discursive terrain of vanguard music today Rather than offering a history of contemporary music Audio Culture traces the genealogy of current musical practices and theoretical concerns drawing lines of connection between recent musical production and earlier moments of sonic experimentation. It aims to foreground the various rewirings of musical composition and performance that have taken place in the past few decades and to provide a critical and theoretical language for this new audio culture. This new and expanded edition of the Audio Culture contains twenty five additional essays including four newly commissioned pieces. Taken as a whole the book explores the interconnections among such forms as minimalism, indeterminacy, musique concrète, free improvisation, experimental music, avant rock, dub, reggae, ambient music, hip hop and techno via writings by philosophers, cultural theorists and composers. Instead of focusing on some crossover between high art and popular culture, Audio Culture takes all these musics as experimental practices on par with and linked to one another. While cultural studies has tended to look at music primarily popular music from a sociological perspective, the concern here is philosophical, musical and historical. Audio Culture includes writing by some of the most important musical thinkers of the past half century among them John Cage, Brian Eno, Ornette Coleman, Pauline Oliveros, Maryanne Amacher, Glenn Gould, Umberto Eco, Jacques Attali, Simon Reynolds, Eliane Radigue, David Toop, John Zorn, Karlheinz Stockhausen and many others. Each essay has its own short introduction helping the reader to place the essay within musical, historical and conceptual contexts and the volume concludes with a glossary, a timeline and an extensive discography.

Signs of Change International Association for Philosophy and Literature. Meeting, 1996-02-22. This is a collection of essays focusing on conventions of change in the arts, philosophy and literature.

The Metaphoric Process Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 2005-08-16. Metaphor is much more than just a linguistic phenomena, argues Gemma Corradi Fiumara, it is in fact the key process by which we construct and develop our ability to understand the world and the people we share it with. Rationality as understood by philosophers has led to a disembodied view of ourselves in which interaction between life and language has been downplayed. By looking at the metaphoric process in an interpersonal rather than a formal way, its importance in allowing us access to new worlds of experience is revealed. The metaphoric potential in us all exposes us to the world and initiates our involvement in it.

Creative Engagements with Ecologies of Place Mary Modeen, Iain Biggs, 2020-12-28. This book explores an exciting range of creative engagements with ecologies of place using geopoetics, deep mapping and slow residency to propose broadly based collaborations in a form of disciplinary agnosticism. Providing a radical alternative to current notions of interdisciplinarity, this book demonstrates the breadth of new creative approaches and attitudes that now challenge assumptions of the solitary genius and a culture of possessive individualism. Drawing upon a multiplicity of perspectives, the book builds on a variety of differing creative approaches, contrasting ways in which both visual art and the concept of the artist are shifting through engagement with ecologies of place. Through examples of specific established practices in the UK, Australia and the USA and other emergent practices from across the world, it provides the reader with a rich illustration of the ways in which ensemble creative undertakings are reactivating art's relationship with place and transforming the role of the artist. This book will be of interest to artists art educators environmental activists cultural geographers place based philosophers and postgraduate students and to all those concerned with the revival of place through creative work in the twenty first century Victorian Religious Discourse J. Nixon, 2004-08-20 This collection of essays attempts to address the disparate historical and critical ways religion informs the literature and culture of nineteenth century England showing how a representative group of major Victorians negotiated its impact The collection attempts to present Victorian religious discourse not as monologic but as dialogic if not protean It seeks to make available new understandings of nineteenth century British literature as well as to elucidate the extent to which religious discourse is vested in Victorian cultural thoughts and practice Transdisciplinary Thinking and Acting Mathias Schüz, 2025-03-22 Complex problems can only be overcome with complex solutions This dictum by Albert Einstein also applies to current world problems such as climate change species extinction the littering of our planet and the growing gap between rich and poor They overwhelm individual scientific disciplines Therefore they can only be solved through transdisciplinarity i e beyond the individual disciplines in interaction with empirical knowledge of different provenance and philosophical reflection This first volume of the book series Transdisciplinary Management of Social and Ecological Crises explains how transdisciplinarity is to be understood in general what approaches exist and how they contribute to solving the various world problems In this context the book addresses among other things the replacement of man's claim to dominion over nature the overcoming of culturally determined boundaries in human communities and integrative and agile management methods in business politics art and society It deals with a sustainable circular economy new forms of politics in the interest of all instead of a few learning from artists healthy and environmentally sound nutrition and spiritual mindfulness in dealing with oneself and other ways of life Thus the book is aimed at a broad audience from different disciplines interested in the perspective of and interaction with other disciplines to solve global problems Chapter Methodology of Transdisciplinarity Levels of Reality Logic of the Included Middle and Complexity is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com
