A Companion to François Truffaut Dudley Andrew, Anne Gillain, 2013-04-22 A Companion to François Truffaut An unprecedented critical tribute to the director who in France wound up becoming the most controversial figure of the New Wave he helped found Raymond Bellour Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique This exciting collection breaks through the widely held critical view that Truffaut abandoned the iconoclasm of his early work for an academicism he had consistently railed against in his own film criticism Indeed if fever and fire were Truffaut's most consistent motifs the essays in this collection live up to his lifelong burning passion for the cinema Written by world famous scholars the essays exhaustively explore the themes and styles of the films as well as Truffaut's relationships to André Bazin Alfred Hitchcock and the directors of the New Wave his ground breaking and controversial film criticism and his position in the complex politics of French cultural life from the Popular Front to 1968 and after Angelo Restivo Georgia State University Although the New Wave one of the most influential aesthetic revolutions in the history of cinema might not have existed without him François Truffaut has largely been ignored by film scholars since his death almost thirty years ago As an innovative theoretician an influential critic and a celebrated filmmaker Truffaut formulated disseminated and illustrated the ideals of the New Wave with exceptional energy and distinction Yet no book in recent years has focused on Truffaut's value and his overall contribution to cinema deserves to be redefined not only to reinstate him in his proper place but to let us rethink how cinema developed during his lifetime In this new Companion thirty four original essays by leading film scholars offer new readings of individual films and original perspectives on the filmmaker's background influences and consequence Hugely influential around the globe Truffaut is assessed by international contributors who delve into the unique quality of his narratives and establish the depth of his distinctively styled work An extended interview with French filmmaker Arnaud Desplechin tracks Truffaut's controversial stature within French cinema and vividly identifies how he thinks and works as a director adding an irreplaceable perspective to this essential volume

Emotion in Old Norse Literature Sif Ríkharðsdóttir, 2017 Draws on Old Norse literary heritage to explore questions of emotion as both a literary motif and as a social phenomenon Authors throughout history have relied on the emotional make up of their readers and audiences to make sense of the behaviours and actions of fictive characters But how can a narrative voice contained in a text evoke feelings that are ultimately never real or actual but a figment of a text a fictive reality created out of words How does one reconcile interiority a presumed modern conceptualisation with medieval emotionality The volume seeks to address these questions It positions itself within the larger context of the history of emotion offering a novel approach to the study of literary representations of emotionality and its staging through voice performativity and narrative manipulation probing how emotions are encoded in texts The author argues that the deceptively laconic portrayal of emotion in the Icelandic sagas and other literature reveals an emotive script that favours reticence over expressivity and exposes a narrative convention of emotional subterfuge through narrative silences and the masking of emotion Focusing on the ambivalent borders between prose and poetic language she suggests that poetic vocalisation may provide a literary space within which emotive interiority can be expressed The volume considers a wide range of Old Norse materials from translated romances through Eddic poetry and slendingas gur sagas of Icelanders to indigenous romance Sif Rikhardsdottir is Professor of Comparative Literature at the University of Iceland and Vice Chair of the Institute of Research in Literature and Visual Arts

Instructional and Cognitive Impacts of Web-Based Education Abbey, Beverly, 1999-07-01 Educators are increasingly using web sites in place of traditional content media and instructional approaches such as texts and lectures This new teaching philosophy has led to a myriad of questions concerning instructional design principles learners cognitive strategies human Internet interaction factors and instructional characteristics of Web media that transverse political geographic and national boundaries Instructional and Cognitive Impacts of Web Based Education is a compendium of materials by noted researchers and practitioners that addresses national and international issues and implications of Web based instruction and learning offering suggestions and guidelines for analyzing and evaluating Web sites from cognitive and instructional design perspectives

Spirit Hermeneutics Keener, 2016 How do we hear the Spirit's voice in Scripture Once we have done responsible exegesis how may we expect the Spirit to apply the text to our lives and communities In Spirit Hermeneutics biblical scholar Craig Keener addresses these questions carefully articulating how the experience of the Spirit that empowered the church on the day of Pentecost can and should dynamically shape our reading of Scripture today Keener considers what Spirit guided interpretation means explores implications of an epistemology of Word and Spirit for biblical hermeneutics and shows how Scripture itself models an experiential appropriation of its message Bridging the Word Spirit gap between academic and experiential Christian approaches Spirit Hermeneutics narrates a way of reading the Bible that is faithful both to the Spirit inspired biblical text and the experience of the Spirit among believers from book flap

A Different Voice, a Different Song Caroline Bithell, 2014

A Different Voice A Different Song traces the history of a grassroots scene that has until now operated largely beneath the radar but that has been gently gathering force since the 1970s At the core of this scene today are the natural voice movement founded on the premise that everyone can sing and a growing transnational community of amateur singers participating in multicultural music activity Author Caroline Bithell reveals the intriguing web of circumstances and motivations that link these two trends highlighting their potential with respect to current social political and educational agendas She investigates how and why songs from the world s oral traditions have provided the linchpin for the natural voice movement revealing how the musical traditions of other cultures not only provide a colourful repertoire but also inform the ideological methodological and ethical principles on which the movement itself is founded A Different Voice A Different Song draws on long term ethnographic research including participant observation at choir rehearsals performances workshops and camps as well as interviews with voice teachers choir and workshop leaders camp and festival organisers and general participants Bithell shows how amateur singers who are not musically literate can become competent participants in a vibrant musical community and in the process find their voice metaphorically as well as literally She then follows some of these singers as they journey to distant locations to learn new songs in their natural habitat She theorises these trends in terms of the politics of participation the transformative potential of performance building social capital the global village and reclaiming the arts of celebration and conviviality The stories that emerge reveal a nuanced web of intersections between the local and global one which demands a revision of the dominant discourses of authenticity cultural appropriation and agency in the post colonial world and ultimately points towards a more progressive politics of difference A Different Voice a Different Song will be an essential text for practitioners involved in the natural voice movement and other vocal methodologies and choral worlds As a significant study in the fields of ethnomusicology music education and community music the book will also be of interest to scholars studying the democratisation of the voice the dynamics of participation world musics in performance the transformative power of harmony singing and the potential of music making for sustaining community and aiding intercultural understanding
