Considering the work of artists such as Thomas Hirschhorn Tacita Dean and Isa Genzken and the writing of thinkers like Jacques Rancière Bruno Latour and Giorgio Agamben Hal Foster shows the ways in which art has anticipated this condition at times resisting the collapse of the social contract or gesturing toward its repair at other times burlesquing it. Against the claim that art making has become so heterogeneous as to defy historical analysis Foster argues that the critic must still articulate a clear account of the contemporary in all its complexity. To that end he offers several paradigms for the art of recent years which he terms abject archival mimetic and precarious.

Following an exploration of design's prehistory in ancient civilizations through the Industrial Revolution author Stephen J. Eskilson argues that modern design as we know it grew out of the influence of Victorian age reformers. He traces the emergence of modernist design styles in the early 20th century examining the wartime politicization of regional styles. Richly contextualized chapters chronicle the history of the Bauhaus and the rise of the International Style in the 1950s and 60s and the postmodern movement of the 1970s and 80s. Contemporary considerations bring the third edition up to date with discussions of app design social media emojis big data visualization and the use of animated graphics in film and television.
