Our Hundred Days in Europe (Classic Reprint) Oliver Wendell Holmes, 2015-07-23 Excerpt from Our Hundred Days in Europe After an interval of more than fifty years I propose taking a second look at some parts of Europe It is a Rip Van Winkle experiment which I am promising myself The changes wrought by half a century in the countries I visited amount almost to a transformation I left the England of William the Fourth of the Duke of Wellington of Sir Robert Peel the France of Louis Philippe of Marshal Soult of Thiers of Guizot I went from Manchester to Liverpool by the new railroad the only one I saw in Europe I looked upon England from the box of a stage coach upon France from the coupe of a diligence upon Italy

from the cushion of a carrozza The broken windows of Apsley House were still boarded up when I was in London The asphalt pavement was not laid in Paris The Obelisk of Luxor was lying in its great boat in the Seine as I remember it I did not see it erected it must have been an exciting scene to witness the engineer standing underneath so as to be crushed by the great stone if it disgraced him by falling in the process As for the dynasties which have overlaid each other like Dr Schliemann's Trojan cities there is no need of moralizing over a history which instead of Finis is constantly ending with What next About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
